BLOODMOBILE HERE NEXT FRIDAY

Mrs. David H. Bathefelder, Jr., Blood Chairman of the Princess Anne County Chapter, American Red Cross, has announced that the Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Princess Anne County at the Virginia Beach Community House, 18th and Arctic, October 15th from noon to six o'clock.

In urging everyone to donate a pint of blood, Mrs. Bathefelder says, "In treating the ill and the injured, there is no substitute for blood. Even in these days of 'wonder drugs,' blood is the one thing that cannot be mined or manufactured. It must be given. And you and your fellow Americans are the only ones who can give it! In addition to the blood needs of our community, blood is needed to build a national reserve of blood derivatives. This reserve is a form of 'life insurance' for hundreds of thousands in time of disaster. Yes, your priceless, painless gift will some day help save an American life. So give blood — now!"

Rev. John Keister Will Establish Lutheran Church

The Rev. and Mrs. John David Keister have recently moved to Virginia Beach, where they will establish a congregation for the United Lutheran Church of America.

The arrival of Rev. and Mrs. Keister climaxes months of planning by the United Lutheran Church for the founding of a mission church here. Preliminary surveys have revealed a large number of Lutherans in the area.

The Rev. Mr. Keister and his wife returned in July from four months of traveling in Europe and the Middle East. They visited fifteen countries, including much of Europe, East Berlin, Egypt and the Holy Land.

Prior to his travels, the Rev. Mr. Keister spent two semesters at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, taking graduate work at the Divinity School. He studied under Dr. John Baillie, one of the newly-elected presidents of the World Council of Churches. Mrs. Keister took related courses at the university.

The Rev. Mr. Keister received his AB from Rosneke College in 1950 and his BD from the Lutheran Theological Seminary of Philadelphia in 1953. Mrs. Keister finished two years of nursing training at the Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia.

The minister is the son of E. E. Keister, prominent newspaperman of Northern Virginia, and publisher of the Northern Virginia Daily. Mr. E. E. Keister is also the founder of a church advertising program now appearing in over 700 newspapers in the United States and Canada.

The Rev. Mr. Keister's former home was in Strasburg, Va., in the northern part of the Shenandoah Valley. His wife comes from Media, Penna., near Philadelphia.

The Keisters are making their home at Colonial Manor, Apartment 6, 509 24th Street.

Fifteen hundred executives from 48 states and many foreign countries attended the I.A.C.P. convention at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Gulley Conducts Lions on Prowl With S & P Sets

W. W. Johnson, general chairman of the sale, announced that crews of Lions will begin the canvass shortly after the dinner hour. The sale will be conducted only on that day.

The "third shaker set" is defined as a salt and pepper shaker, accompanied by an Accent shaker in a plastic rack, all boxed and wrapped in cellophane.

Kempsville Precinct Divided

Having voted more than 1,100 persons in the 1951 primary election and faced with an unprecedented 1,500 to 2,000 in next November 2, Judge Kellam said the precinct of Princess Anne County, has been divided.

Judge Floyd E. Kellam of Princess Anne County Circuit Court approved the division of the precinct Monday, acting on a petition signed by 28 voters of the precinct.

The formal division will not take place for 30 days, however, and will have no effect on balloting in the general election on November 2. Judge Kellam said he preferred to defer the action for 30 days to permit any resident of the area to lodge an objection, if there are any.

TIPPING THE CHAPEAU

Bordering along the calmly rippling shores of Crystal Lake and completely surrounded on the other three sides by lovely evergreen bogs and shrubs, we find a quiet, peaceful garden. Tall, tapering pine trees bend their bows and we get a good glimpse of the houses provided for birds... a perfect haven for them. Masses of azaleas are already well mulched in place needles for the approaching winter. Dogwoods are turning to a gorgeous crimson with bright red berries in profusion... and most unusual, probably due to the unusual warm weather, are about to burst forth into bloom! Beautiful yellow acacia is now in full bloom and the hollies laden in berries. Truly, this is one of the prettiest gardens in our midst.

Located at the extreme end of 53rd Street, on Crystal Lake, it is the home and garden of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baykin, the beauty spot of the week!

Brisk Demand For Savings Stamps

With the opening of another school year, local post offices are prepared for a brisk demand for United States Savings Stamps by thrifty students and parents.

Virginia Beach Postmaster Howard S. Myers said that during the 1953-54 school year, local post offices sold $2318.30 in U. S. Savings Stamps, nearly all of which went to school children participating in the Treasury-sponsored School Savings program. "There were some parents, also," Mr. Myers pointed out, "who purchased stamps regularly for themselves and their small children not yet in school."

The Woman's Club presented the building with new tables and chairs. The president of the Committee, Mr. R. E. Meyerhoffer accepted them for the Community Center.

At this same meeting plans were drawn up for a dedication ceremony for the Community Building which is tentatively set for Sunday November 9th. A committee consisting of Mr. James L. Loftin, Jr., Mr. L. E. Lester and Mrs. R. J. Vellines were appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

Stamp albums will be furnished free by local post offices to anyone desiring them. When these are filled, they may then be exchanged at a bank or other financial institution for a United States Series E Savings Bond.

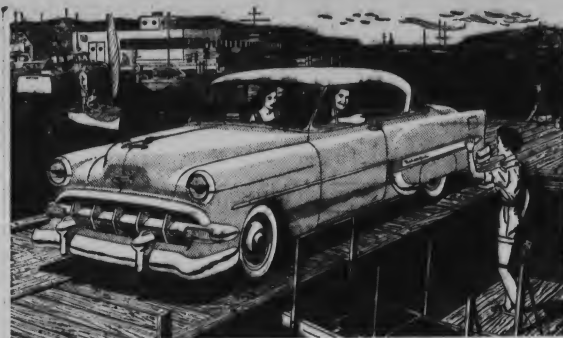

Mr. Myers said that plans are now being made by school administrators, teachers, and volunteer members of the county savings bonds committee, to expand student participation in the Treasury-sponsored School Savings program during the ensuing year.

"The Treasury hopes to increase by two million students the number able to save regularly with Savings Stamps. At present, five million boys and girls from kindergarten through high school have the opportunity to participate in the School Savings program."

"Aside from saving to purchase Series E Savings Bonds," he concluded, "our school students are taught the benefits of regular thrift and wise money management — lessons they will carry into adult life to the benefit of themselves, their families, their community, and their country."

October Journal Presents Schools From New Angle

The old saying attributed to Mark Twain might well be revised to read: "Everybody talks about the schools, but nobody does anything about them."

The October issue of the Ladies Home Journal, now on the stands, actually doesn't "do" anything, but article after article points the way to intelligent discussion that leads to a forceful desire to get that something done.

A forum discussion by noted educators, interviews with both present and retired teachers, many of whom prefer to remain anonymous for obvious reasons, and a story, all delve deeply into the causes behind our present school difficulties, and point the way to put serious-thinking skills on the right track toward correcting the faults of the present school system - if such faults exist - and most educators believe they do. Among subjects treated is the one which prompts many who can afford it to send their sons and daughters to private schools - to get away from the "mass education" idea where all students are treated as though they were on an intellectual level with the most "backward" of their classes. In some few localities, it has been found possible to separate the brighter "sheep" from the less-talented "goats" and provide the proper stimuli for rapid advancement the brighter ones deserve. But by and large, what with the crowded curricula and crowded classrooms, this has not been possible.

The general tenor of the Journal articles is summed up by the

34-0 Score Tells Prowess of Cavalier Eleven

Princess Anne high school's Charles Campbell was the big gun in the Cavalier's convincing 34 to 0 victory over Great Bridge at Great Bridge last Friday night. This was Great Bridge's first setback this year in Group Two play.

Campbell wasted little time getting the scoring underway as he galloped 66 yards on the second play of the contest to put the ultimate winners out in front, 8 to 0. John Bess made good on the extra point try.

Duane Bretting, charging Cavalier fullback, accounted for the second marker on a slant off right tackle midway of the first period.

The passing combination of Andy McCullar, quarterback, and Bobby Saunders, end, resulted in two touchdowns in the second half.

Great Bridge threatened once when Bob Lemon and Fred Creekmore drove to the Cavalier 20 yard line. At that point the defense stiffened with brilliant play by men like Bobby Widgeon, Otis Darden and Garland Skinner.

Extra points were made by Charlie Dorne, Andy McCullar and Bobby Saunders.

"Bob" Smith Fires Record 31 at PA

R. B. "Bob" Smith, one of the leading amateur golfers at the Princess Anne Country Club, recently got "hot" on the back nine and fired what is believed to be a record 31 on the difficult nine.

Smith had an unusual round in that he scored to a healthy 43 on the first nine holes. In his stalling back nine, Smith shot birdies on 11, 13, 14, 15 and 18. The rest of the holes he parred.

According to Lee Falton, veteran, assistant golf professional at Princess Anne, the 31 is the lowest score ever recorded on the second nine. The record for the first nine is 28.

Sanderlin Sparks Seahawks to 32-6 Victory

On last Friday night, the Virginia Beach Seahawks met the Gloucester High Dukes at Virginia Beach Memorial Stadium. This was the fourth game for the fighting Seahawk eleven and by far, their best game up to date. Led by a hard driving backfield and a strong defensive unit, the Seahawks crushed the Dukes from Gloucester by the score of 32-6.

In the first quarter the Beach eleven showed the large crowd the kind of ground-gaining that the Seahawks are known for. At accounted for two touchdowns on runs of 25 and 40 yards. The other six pointer was scored by Jack McIver, hard-driving halfback, who played his best game of the season as he repeatedly sailed yardage. The Seahawk defense was at its best as it stopped the Gloucester offense. Outstanding in this line were Kermit Starborough, Arthur Barco, and Brian Zittian. Altogether as a whole the defensive line and backfield went about their assignments in a workmanlike way.

During the second half once more the Seahawks were off to a good start as Charles Meachum made a driving tackle which forced a fumble and a Virginia Beach recovery on the opening kickoff. Once more the offense started moving on gains by McIver and Sanderlin, with Standing going over on a quarterback sneak. It was left to McIver to make the last score of the game as he faked through the Dukes secondary for the touchdown.

This week the Virginia Beach Seahawks will take on the Suffolk Red Raiders at Peanut Park in Suffolk, Va. The Seahawks will be out to keep their two game winning streak intact. In Suffolk, they will face one of the outstanding teams in the Group 2 conference.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

You know how Handy Turner down at the hardware store goes in for weird advertising stunts. Well, when it came to plugging his new Venetian blind department, his enthusiasm nearly landed him in trouble. Handy painted a warning on the tailboard of his truck: "Caution—blind man driving." "Had driven about a mile," Handy says, "when a state trooper stopped me and told me that sign might cause trouble. Guess he was right. From now on I'll advertise in the Clarion."

"Blind Man's" Bluff

From where I sit, I agree—the highway is no place for jokes. We all ought to be considerate of the other fellow when we're driving. In fact, let's respect our neighbor's right of way always. Then, when we have differences of opinion—say about the best route to Centerville, or whether beer or buttermilk is better with lunch—there will be less chance of anybody developing any "blind" spots.

Dermocystidium Distribution Being Surveyed by Lab

PERIODIC FISHING HURTS OYSTERS PRODUCTION

A survey of the distribution of the fungus parasite of oysters, Gloucester Point, aided by Dr. W.

"dermocystidium," is being made in Virginia waters. Dr. J. D. Andrews, oyster biologist of the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory at Gloucester Point, aided by Dr. W.

G. Hewitt last summer, and graduate students this fall, has collected samples of oysters from Chincoteague Bay along both coasts of the Eastern Shore and up the west side of Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac. Recently samples were taken in the Coan River, Teocomoco River and the Potomac River.

The fungus flourishes when water temperatures and salinities are high. As salinities decrease going up bay or up rivers, the fungus tends to disappear. Except in very dry years, infections are rare and few oysters are killed above such landmarks as the James River bridge in the James, above the level of Urbanna in the Rappahannock, and above the mouth of the Potomac River in the Bay.

Strangely, the fungus has rarely been found in Chincoteague Bay or sea-side of Eastern Shore, although it is common on bay-side of Eastern Shore.

In the lower Bay infections are common and the fungus is probably the most important cause of death among market size oysters. July through October is the period of greatest death rate of oysters. The death rate of oysters in trays at Gloucester Point has been much higher this year than in previous years. Not until oystermen begin to work their beds extensively will it be apparent whether losses on natural and planted beds have been excessive.

Dr. Andrews can vouch for the fact that the oysters are still good to eat! He frequently "eats the samples" after making tests for the fungus. Most sappers and dying oysters taken from the trays appear to be fatter than the live

Veteran Grants For Conveyances Deadline Oct. 20

Eligible disabled veterans discharged before October 20, 1951, have until October 20, 1954, in which to apply for a government grant toward the purchase of an automobile or other conveyance, the Veterans Administration announces.

VA is authorized by law to make a payment not to exceed $1,000 toward the price of an automobile or conveyance, including special appliances, to World War II and post-Korean veterans entitled to compensation for three types of disabilities.

The three types of disabilities are:

1—Loss or permanent loss of use of one or both feet.

2—Loss or permanent loss of use of one or both hands.

3—Complete loss of sight in both eyes or permanent impairment of vision in both eyes to a degree constituting virtual blindness.

The law requires that eligible veterans wishing to take advantage of this benefit must apply within three years after October 20, 1951, or three years after separation from active service, whichever is later.

Oysters from the same lot. It appears that the fungus has a tendency to castrate or prevent the spawning of oysters, thereby permitting them to accumulate reserve food rather than putting all their energy into spawning.

Deford Named Chairman of PA ASC Committee

Results of the ASC committee elections held recently are announced as follows:

W. C. Deford of Kempsville was elected chairman. W. F. Hanger of Lynnhaven, vice-chairman, and John A. Baum was re-elected as a regular member. Alternates to the County Committee, chosen at the same time by farmer-elected delegates to the County Convention, are A. J. Broughton of Seaboard and Wilbert Spence of Pungo. Farmers also elected a community committee of three farmers in each of Princess Anne's five communities, as follows: Stanley Oliver, Chauncey Krabenbill and R. H. Deford of the Kempsville community.

R. A. Midgett, J. A. Broughton and A. J. Croonenberghs of the Lynnhaven community.

M. W. Dawley, E. C. Culver and

Branch-Messer Vows Exchanged Recently At Orchard Lake, Mich.

The marriage of Miss Patricia Messer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Paul Messer, of Wall Lake, Michigan, to Linwood Oliver Bowers Branch, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Oliver Branch of Virginia Beach, took place Saturday, September 25, at Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake, Michigan. The Rev. G. Bartol and the Rev. R. Burroughs performed the double ring ceremony. The church choir sang several selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown trimmed with seed pearls with a bouffant skirt flowing into a long train. She carried a cascade bouquet of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Miss Carol Messer was maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Jean Stoutenburg. Miss Mary Pat Dukes was flower girl. They all wore white nylon dresses, with lace bodices studded with pearls and rhinestones. They carried cascade bouquets of chrysanthemums and pompons.

Lieut. Dean Branch was best man and the ushers were Grayson Whitehurst, Jr., and Dr. T. Roy Jarrett, Jr., all of Virginia Beach. Little Paul Dukes, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

After the reception at Rotunda Inn, Pine Lake, the couple left for a tour of the Western part of the United States, and Alcupco, Mexico, for several months. The bride traveled in a green wool suit, matching hat and alligator accessories.

The couple will later make their home at Virginia Beach.

Miss Ruth Vernon Wooten Weds Aubrey Chester Bannister

The marriage of Miss Ruth Vernon Wooten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Murphy Wooten, to Aubrey Chester Bannister, son of Mrs. Everett Walker, and the late Aubrey Chester Bannister, took place on Sunday evening, September 26, at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nathan Tomlin, Jr., on Belle Haven Drive, Lynnhaven, in the presence of their immediate families and a few friends. The double ring ceremony was solemnized before Dr. Thomas Mason Minor before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and lily of the valley.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a suit of Autumn rose with beige picture hat and beige accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and showered with white satin streamers tied with tube roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Henry Nathan Tomlin, Jr., was matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a periwinkle blue satin dress with navy blue hat and accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Charles Carroll Foreman, Jr., was mistress of ceremonies and was assisted by Mrs. Richard Davis.

The MIXING BOWL... IT'S Fun TO COOK!

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

Monday through Friday at 1:00 P. M. on Station WTAR-TV

I told you when I left you on September 23rd for Winchester that I'd tell you about the trip when I got back. Here I am, and here's all about a real wonderful visit to the apple country. Several television, radio and newspaper folks, food editors, fruit buyers, food consultants and home economists were invited by the Virginia State Apple Commission to participate in a tour of the apple orchards, and processing and packing plants in and around Winchester, Virginia.

many varieties and the packing and processing. At 9:30 Friday morning we boarded a chartered bus and first went to the Shenandoah Valley Apple Cider and Vinegar Corporation's plant. Mr. J. P. Arthur took us on a most exciting and interesting tour.

The machines were busy peeling, coring and slicing apples. Yes... I said machines. It's hard to believe, but true. Of course, there were many, many girls, all dressed in sparkling clean white uniforms, manning the machines.

York Imperial apples are best for canning slices, some Yorks are used to give body to the apple sauce, along with three or four other varieties. Mr. Arthur explained that a check is made every thirty minutes for quality, sugar content, weather conditions, kind of apples used and the number packed per hour.

A code mark is placed on every can — this is for record as to when canned — and then the record can speak for itself.

The records showed that on September 23rd 79,254 No. 309 cans of apple sauce and 9,264 No. 10 cans of sliced apples were processed in the 9-hour day. Their brand is "Apple Pie Ridge" and is all "fancy pack" — only the finest. Wish we could get the brand down this way. After seeing the plant in operation I can assure you "Apple Pie Ridge" brand is a fine one.

Then we went to Mr. D. K. Russell's orchards, then to Moore and Dorsey's. Mr. E. Blackburn Moore, or I guess I should say Honorable E. Blackburn Moore, is chairman of the Virginia State Apple Commission and as you know, is Speaker of the House — accompanied us on the tour. The orchards of Mr. Moore and Mr. Dorsey were simply magnificent... rows and rows — acres and acres of Red Delicious and Golden Delicious apples. I just wish you could have seen them. I will never forget the gorgeous sight as long as I live.

We then went to Battleground Inn at Berryville, for lunch. It was delightful. After lunch to Senator Harry F. Byrd's orchards and packing plant. The Senator's orchard is the largest in the world. In the orchard that we visited there are 1250 acres. This orchard was called the Jefferson County orchard. The packing plant was a busy place. We saw the girls packing Red Delicious apples in boxes. These apples are wrapped in purple tissue and we were told this wrapper keeps the apple young and more flavorful.

It was so fascinating to watch these girls pack the apples... speed... my-oh-my!... you never saw anything like it. One girl packed 220 boxes on the day before we visited the plant. That is a lot of apples. The apples are packed according to size and run from 80 to 163 apples per box. I believe the young lady was packing the large apples — the 80's.

On Friday night we were entertained at Skyland. After dinner a film was shown and I wish everyone could see it. Yes, it was about apples. But an apple after each meal and you won't have any dental problems — so said the dentist in the picture. I'm sure you'll agree, eating apples — Virginia apples — is a pleasant way (Continued on Page Seven)

COLOR FOR THE BOYS!

Not to be outdone by the daffid side, the fellows will wear plenty of color this fall and winter, and how nice it will be to see them perked up, right in step with their ladies, arrayed in gayest fall colors! Of course, in men's suits and topcoats, you'll find the new charcoal shades, bringing black back into play. Black-browns with black patterning on charcoal brown grounds or on charcoal grey grounds will be the smartest. Believe it or not, sports shirt colors will be found in the shirts worn by the men in the better offices throughout the country. Remember hearing how eyebrows raised when a man walked into an office with a pink shirt on? Well, today the pink shirt is commonplace and so are the soft blues, yellows and greens. You don't have to be on your way hunting or fishing to wear a bright red, strong green or vivid yellow shirt these days, either, for sport shirt colors have really invaded the office. And this means that business shirts with French and button cuffs and with all the familiar color styles are "the thing."

NEW TRENDS FOR MEN

Men's hats will have narrower brims and tapered crowns and a 1-7-8 inch brim will not be unusual this fall. A top seller — which was tagged "too extreme" by the men a couple of years ago — is the 2-1-8 inch brimmed hat. Correct figures on the narrower, trimmer — looking trousers and slacks are about 21 inches at the knee and 18 inches at the cuff in medium sizes, that is, with other sizes shaping up accordingly. You'll be seeing notched lapels on the newer dinner suits and velvet collars on the dressier topcoats!

REAL IRISH BEAUTY

Irish tweeds, linens and laces have long been treasured by American women, but now that Irish designers are coming to the fore, there is much interest shown in the new fashions straight from lovely Erin. For example, last Tuesday, at the Arts Club in Washington, the smartest Capital ladies lost their feminine hearts to the newest fashions of clever Sybil Connolly. Most Irish fashions, excepting the glamorous Connolly evening gowns, are of the country "suburban" type. The jewel tones and misty effects of the Irish tweeds, which have often been used by designers of other countries, are now put forth in their most elegant yet simple lines and fashioning. It is good to hear that the Irish government is now, at long last, setting behind the few courageous and talented Irish designers who have blazed the recent fashion trail. The government is helping the cottage weavers with a guild which has been established to help them in designing and merchandising their hand-woven fabrics. One old mill in Ireland which used to turn the farmers' mountain wool into blankets, now makes "thistledown" which is so soft and delicate that it is used in evening and wedding gowns. (If any of you readers ever has the opportunity to put in at the Shannon airport, while flying to Paris or the Continent, be sure to grab up some of those exquisite woolen fabrics you'll find for sale in the airport lounge. Your Alibee has regretted she passed them up. Movie Actor Anthony Quinn bought up arm loads for his daughters and wife at the same time. We just stood and drooled over their beauty.)

GOSSAMER GOWNS OF LINEN

Gossamer-like linen evening gowns of exquisite beauty are Sybil Connolly's forte. One she showed in Washington last Tuesday was of Irish linen, in peach shading, with a sort of Grecian freely billowy skirt and two tiers of ethereal looking — and worn with an Irish linen stole of tangerine. She takes her color ideas right from the Irish countryside. Then, too, the garb of the Irish fisherfolk of the Aran Islands and other colorful folk costumes are wonderfully inspiring.

CEIL'S NEW PENGUIN PEPLUM

Coming in for elegant attention in evening gowns is Ceil Chapman's new Penguin Peplum. It swoops to the hem at the back but is cut away in front to show the straight tight skirt beneath and then is air-lifted by rows of tulle ruffles or a pastel taffeta lining. This is a typical fashion of Chapmanness — that-flatters and it is most flattering to the figure. Ceil has contrived sheaths this year so that every woman may wear one and happily so. She's fashioned them to set off both the naturally perfect figure and the figure that varies from the ideal. Her "Form Divine Dress" tells all proudly. In slinging, broom-born and real folds, Ceil Chapman's "Magnificent Deception" type of sheath is made of sinuous satin over an underbody of Pellon and taffeta, or in jersey, velvet, lame or satin stiffened by a gorgeous encrustation of braid, beads or jewels. The latter is called the Jewel Box Sheath and is the incarnation of the "million dollar look" in more ways than one. Guaranteed to catch a hubby with much moala, we suppose!

CHAPMAN BODICES

Ceil's bodices have never looked more naively simple than in this new winter collection. They have never been, in point of construction, more cunning in their flexibility and "diminishing" value. Either, Ceil Chapman is a master designer when it comes to feminizing the "difficult" figure as well as the perfect one. There is the new handspan waistline which does away with bones or gores and yet, by the slanting of the fabric in the cutting, plus a pair of crossing stripes under the bosom, makes a marvelously flattering image considerably smaller than life-size.

THOSE CLEVER FRENCHMEN

The French, always conscious of la belle poitrine, recently sent a delegation of respectful businessmen from France's budding wholesale industry, to study the elements of the Ceil Chapman silhouette, with special emphasis on the construction of her alluring necklines! The neckline that covers up but points up the bosom, always a Ceil Chapman forte, is certainly more than ever beguiling in her newest holiday collection!

MERRY MATRONS

LILLY DACHE, famous millinery and fashion designer, is the gayest and merriest matron to be found anywhere on any continent! She's clever, gay, vivacious and extremely romantically-minded in her daily living. She's the youngest ever as a result of her daily attitude. She's a busy business woman five days a week and on Fridays she "dates" her perfume executive hubby for the weekend. He has his business and she has hers. Lilly will gleefully tell you that this is the most wonderful way to work up to a perpetual honeymoon if the couple is in business. She's therefore an exponent of the dramatic entrance and this season has gone a long way toward re-introducing the large, large hats for daytime, late afternoon and evening wear.

Lilly told the Washington Fashion Group last week that she loves the dramatic platter-type hats which were so important in the fashions shown in Paris for fall and winter wearing. These large platter-type soft shaver hats you're seeing are a throw-back to Lilly Dache originals. She falls in line with the Paris idea of either a hat being "a more drop of a hat" — ever so tiny — or a "really big and gorgeous creation."

EVERYDAY RELIGION

SPIRITUAL MATHEMATICS
We can do more and do it better when we act together. All history is a commentary on that fact. You often hear someone say: "I don't need to go to church. I can worship God just as well out in the woods or on the golf course." That simply is not true. If it were true it would be the solitary exception, running completely contrary to the whole tide of human experience. We do more and better when we do it together.

I have often thought about that passage in Deuteronomy where it says that "one shall chase a thousand and two shall put ten thousand to flight." The mathematics here is intriguing. Carried out consistently, it would mean that if one were to chase a thousand, two would put two thousand to flight. But the writer states that two shall put two thousand to flight. What It Means to God Fellowship means greatly not only to us but to God. Was not that the reason for the human creation? God created man because He wanted man, needed man. God's desire toward us is for comradeship, that we might know Him and love Him as He knows and loves us. That is why God created us with freedom - freedom to do right or to do wrong. He could have made us automations, perfectly equipped to do just what we were supposed to do. But shortage in potatoes in early May, but prices are expected to decline from a $3.50 average at that time to $2.00 by June and to $1.50 by July 10, if plantings are increased materially in the south, particularly in Alabama, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Virginia.

The 1954 sweet potato crop is now estimated at 29,000,000 bushels. Heavy sales at harvest are forcing prices low. Storage now should pay off next spring. Present prices of $1.50 to $2.00 should continue through October. Some steady rise in prices from sales out of storage is expected to begin in December and continue into July of 1955.
Production of early fall spinach is about the same as in 1953, and prices of $1.00 per bushels will prevail in October. Principal supplies will be from the northeast where rainfall generally has been adequate.
The late summer tomato crop of 9,000,000 bushels is adequate and prices of about $1.00 to $1.50 a bushels for fresh market sales are expected.
Most of the prices apply to U.S. No. 1 grades.

Smyths Attend Soft Water Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Karl B. Smyth, of the Beach Culligan Soft Water Service, Inc., recently attended the National Soft Water Service Convention and trade show at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, September 29 through October 1. Delegates were told of new ways to condition all water to prevent corrosion and to provide soft water to the public at lowest possible cost. Speakers at the convention pointed out that the "ever flowing rain barrel" of soft water service was little known fifteen years ago, but today is serving over five million people. Approximately 55 million dollars was spent last year in service exchanges to soften water for household use in most areas of the nation.

for study, for the work of evangelism. But it is important for us to see that we worship and evangelize better if we also eat together and play together and work and serve together. Church should be one of the delightful and inspiring experiences of our life. This should be true not only because God is there, but because our friends are there. In our togetherness in Christ there is strength.

"United we stand." And not only do we stand, we move forward, we triumph. "Two shall put ten thousand to flight."

376 Forest Law Offenders Fined In Old Dominion

George W. Dean, State Forester, in a recent report to Raymond Long, director of the Department of Conservation and Development, states, "The Virginia Forest Service has collected suppression costs on 42.3 per cent of the 1955 forest fires which has ravaged the commonwealth's timberland area this year."

"This amounts to $13,853 which will be returned to the counties in which the fires occurred," Dean stated. He warns, "the state forest laws instruct the State Forester to carefully investigate all forest fires and attempt to collect the cost of suppressing said fires. Even though the fire was accidental, with no malicious intent, it is necessary that the party responsible pay the fire suppression costs."

"Sometimes this amounts to hundreds of dollars," reminds Mr. Dean. "Quite often other forest laws are violated and it becomes necessary to institute court action. Over 376 forest law offenders have been in Virginia courts this year; they have paid fines and costs totaling $4,626."

Wales, Whitehurst Appointed To Development Body

Princess Anne County completed its five-member quota on the proposed Tidewater Virginia Development Council when Lawrence B. Wales, investment broker, and Eldridge Whitehurst, executive of the Curtis Bay Towing Company were named by the three members previously named by the Princess Anne County Supervisors. The three earlier appointments were R. Lee Bonney, Walter C. Maher and Samuel O. Jones. Bonney was elected chairman of the county delegation.

The Council, an organization comprising the elected leaders of political subdivisions in South-eastern Virginia, will endeavor to promote industrial growth of the entire Tidewater area.

"But money paid in fines, court costs and suppression costs does not replace the valuable timber destroyed by a forest fire," Dean points out. "Also the loss to wildlife, watershed, recreational and aesthetic value cannot be replaced overnight. A little forethought when burning trash or brush, lighting a cigarette or a pipe, or using fire in any manner, may prevent a catastrophe."

Merry MATRONS

MRS. ROBERT WADSON, immediate past-president of the Kempsville Woman's Club, is enjoying teaching school again so much that she's threatening the genial Bob to keep on teaching after next June rolls around. The young folks in her class must enjoy her happy ways.

ERNEST FLEMING, bulletin editor for the Tidewater District, Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, certainly turned out a crackerjack first bulletin of the season simply styled as "Volume I, Number 1" and one which all the members enthusiastically read from first to last sign-off word.

JOAN KENNARY is the pleasant and enthusiastic Virginia Beach representative for the Norfolk Symphony Orchestra drive and is most anxious for Beachites to contact her for season tickets. Her phone number is 275 and she's ready, willing and waiting for your subscription which will bring you and your family so much pleasure and cultural entertainment during the winter season ahead.

CORNELIA OTIS SKINNER, one of the most graceful and poised women anywhere, will give a one-woman show at the Center Theatre on October 13 for the benefit of the Woman's Council of Old St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Cornelia is a bee-busy mother, lecturer, stage star, wife and hobbyist to boot! Whatta woman! (She wears stunning clothes, too!)

MRS. FRED A. HAYCOX and MRS. H. B. KELLAM are to be highly congratulated on the layout, material and attractiveness of the Cavalier Garden Club's yearbook. With the Virginia Cavalier on the cover and a page left free for notes opposite each meeting day's program, it is truly a well thought-out book and a useful one, other than just listing members' names and officers' titles. Handy pocketbook size. It's top!

Down the Line

with Johnny Bell

A bumper crop in telephones, too!

Every year, farmers get new production records, grow many new hybrid crops and develop new farming techniques. And speaking of records, here's one you may not have heard of: last year your telephone company expanded and improved telephone service at a greater rate than ever before! It added 12,184 telephones in rural homes of Virginia, exceeding by about 50% the busiest previous year! Yes, farmers and the telephone company are working hard to meet the needs of the nation.

How many for dinner tonight, Mom?

You can bet there'll be plenty, Sis! Even today, farms need many men and women to keep them running smoothly. Teamwork does the job, just as it does with party-line telephone service. If everyone helps by considering the other fellow, then service is improved for all homes on the line. This means more useful, more valuable service—more for your telephone dollar.

to have and keep sound and healthy teeth.

Thanks to the Virginia State Apple Commission for a wonderful tour of the apple industry! Here's a bit of interesting information:

The 1954 apple crop in Virginia is estimated at 10,000,000 bushels.

Present Varieties
The most significant change in varieties of apples produced in Virginia has been in the number found profitable in commercial plantings. In 1900, it was common for a planter to have thirty or more varieties. Today, ten varieties are considered ample. The top ten varieties are listed below in order of volume produced in Virginia, season and recommended use:

York Imperial—winter—cooking and processing.
Stayman—winter—Outstanding dual purpose.
Delicious—fall & winter—Fresh eating.
Winesap—late winter—Fresh eating.
Golden Delicious—winter—Good dual purpose.
Rome Beauty—winter—Excellent baking and fresh eating.
Albemarle Pippin—late winter—Fresh eating and cooking.
Grimes Golden—fall—Excellent fresh and for cooking.
Jonathan—fall—Fresh and for cooking.
Gano & Ben Davis—winter—For cooking.

APPLE NUT CHIFFON PIE
1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
2-3 cup hot water
Dash salt

Dissolve gelatin thoroughly and let cool and chill until almost set.
Beat 2 egg whites very stiff; add 4 tablespoons sugar and beat as for meringue.
Now combine with gelatin and set in bowl of chilled ice, then beat until light and fluffy.
Fold in 1 cup apple sauce and 1-2 cup finely chopped pecans.
Pour into baked and cooled pastry shell or graham cracker shell and when thoroughly set cover with whipped cream and sprinkle with nutmeg. Serve very cold.

This is mighty good... hope you like it.
Bye, now!

East Ocean View Road To Receive New Surface; Bids Asked

Among 15 road and bridge jobs on which bids were asked late last week by the State Highway Department, only one was for work in Princess Anne County.

This calls for 0.82 mile of 30-foot soil aggregate stabilization and hard-surfacing on secondary routes in the East Ocean View area.

Among major projects was the initial work in re-locating US Rt. 220 between Ridgeway and the

Young Demos Hear Call To Action

Last Thursday night young Democrats of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach were called upon to take a greater part in the political activities of Virginia and the nation.

Senator V. Alfred Etheridge, speaking at a rally of the Princess Anne-Virginia Beach Young Democratic Club held at Princess Anne Court House, told his listeners that good government is a "tradition in Virginia." Hope for maintaining this tradition, Etheridge declared, rests with the young voters of the state.

Art Colenda, president of the club, presided at the meeting, and James E. Barry, Young Democratic Club State vice-president, addressed the group on the principles of the party and the need for unity in general elections.

North Carolina line in Henry County and for additional construction on US 301 north of Emporia and on US 60 west of Richmond.

The Henry County project calls for a complete re-location of 2.9 miles which will become the north-bound lane of US 220 from the state line to Ridgeway. Traffic south-bound will use the existing highway. The first contract will cover heavy grading and drainage work and a second contract will be let for paving the new road to a 24-foot width.

Additional parallel construction on US 301 will connect with a job now underway north of Emporia and extend the divided highway to a point 11 miles north of Emporia. The project includes an overpass of the Virginia Railroad at Jarratt and a bridge over Osterdam Swamp in Greenville County.

The proposed 4.8 miles of parallel roadway on US 60 will extend the divided highway to a point six miles west of the Richmond city limits. The other primary projects include reflowing with steel grids of the draw spans in the three James River Synanon bridges between Newport News and Portsmouth, and the 4-lane widening of sections of US 58 east and west of Franklin.

The largest of eight secondary road projects is a 306-foot bridge over the south channel of Staunton River at the Campbell-Pittsylvania County line on Secondary Route 761. The north channel bridge in Campbell County was recently strengthened and repaired.

Plant Sale On Friday Offers Fine Selections

The Birdneck Point Garden Club calls attention to the plant sale they are holding tomorrow, October 8, in front of the 31st Street Colonial Store.

One of the ladies who will be on hand to aid purchasers in making selections, said that "now is the time for all good gardeners (and the would-be-to-be ones, too) to come to the aid of their gardens by supplementing their present flowers with these bargains in potted plants, evergreens, shrubs and flowering shrubs we will have to offer."

Every member of the club is bringing rooted cuttings of their most prized flower specimens, and there will be many colorful potted house plants as well as unusual varieties of outdoor shrubbery.

The sale begins at 9 o'clock, and club members advise early shopping for best selections.

Blood Sought By Bloomobile Visit Friday

Many local residents and business organizations are volunteering in an effort to secure blood donors for the visit of the Red Cross Bloomobile on Friday from noon to six at the Community House 18th and Arctic Avenue. Mrs. Selden Grandy has painted the banners which hang over the streets on Atlantic Avenue and 17th Street and the sign which is out front of the Community House.

In response to a request from the Tidewater Regional Blood Center the local doctors have agreed to be in attendance during the Bloomobile visits. Prior to July a doctor has come out from the Blood Center.

Joe Phelps of Phelps Texaco Station has rounded up the Automobile Agencies and Dealers and they have agreed to inspect automobiles free of the State Fee (.50) in return for donation of a pint of blood.

Those dealers and their addresses are: Holt Buick Co., Brooks-Shorner Motor Co., Clark Chevrolet Co., Bennett Motor Co., Everett-Jordan Motor Co., Virginia Beach Nash Inc., Alphin and Harrell Motor Co., and Emrae Motors.

There will be volunteer workers stationed in the Colonial Stores to fill out pledge cards on Donor Day. The Red Cross Motor Service will provide transportation for anyone to and from the Community House. Baby sitters will be on hand at Community House for any children accompanying blood donors.

At previous Bloomobile visits occasionally a donor has been turned away because of his age. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 21 not in the service and not married must present permission slip signed by parents.

"We are gratified that the people of the city and the surrounding territory made such a fine response to this project, which we feel is very worthwhile," Tucker added.

Members of the Lions Club are selling the shaker sets to raise money to pay for an eye examining machine, which has been purchased by the club and which will soon be made available to the Virginia Beach High School and the Willoughby T. Cooke, Oceana and Seaback elementary schools.

The sets being offered for sale contain three shakers, one each for salt and pepper and a third which contains four ounces of Accent, technically known as monosodium glutamate.

The little compound, according to W. W. Johnson, general chairman of the sale, is a sea-

Committee To Select Song For PA Alma Mater

A committee for selecting the Alma Mater for the new Princess Anne High School has been chosen. Heading the group as chairman is J. A. Cantwell, band director. Serving with him are Mrs. Edith Barlow, Mrs. Marjorie Bertok and Miss Ruby Black.

The committee, at a recent session, decided the only fair way to select the Alma Mater would be to let Princess Anne residents submit suggestions and have the song picked by a neutral person. A box will be placed in the office under lock and key. A jar will be placed beside the box containing numbers. When submitting choice for the song, the voter will draw a number from the jar and write the number on his or her manuscript, drop same in the box, and keep the number for identification. The winners will be announced by number. Judges will be neutral persons outside of the school.

Rules:

1. The melody must be written in key intended for permanent use. Words must be under notes in correct syllable progression.

2. It should not be over 32 bars long and not shorter than 16 bars.

3. Manuscript, words and music must be in BLACK ink.

4. Anyone in Princess Anne County is eligible to submit a song.

Princess Anne Club Gets Good Report On Work

Pride of accomplishment was felt by all the members of the Princess Anne Garden Club, who were present at the October meeting held October 11th at their Wildflower Preserve. Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill, the President praised the hardy efforts of the Club, which preserved this natural garden on Lake Lawson.

It is part of the water shed and lakes which supply the City of Norfolk with water.

It is also part of the five thousand acre Crown Grant to Thomas Lawson, on which he built his home, Lawson Hall in 1688. No one connected with Lawson Hall today can recall what it looked like, although it was only sixty-three years ago that it burned to the ground on Christmas Eve. If anyone reading this knows of a picture of Lawson Hall, please write Mrs. Robert E. Laird, Lawson Hall, Rt. 2 Box 25, Norfolk, Virginia.

The native trees and shrubs and wildflowers that covered these five thousand acres of third hundred years ago are fast giving way to modern demands for housing of a different era. At the Wildflower Preserve today, the past and present seemed very close together.

On November 6th, the Club is having its fall Plant Sale at the Tidal House at Virginia Beach, Va. Miss Julia DeWitt is in charge of this and asked active participation by the members.

Mrs. C. P. Greene, Vice-President of the Club will attend the Board of Governors' meeting of the Garden Club of Virginia, which will be held October 20 & 21 at Natural Bridge.

Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill and Miss Evelyn Collins Hill will attend the meeting of the South Eastern District of the Garden Club of America, at Upperville, Virginia, on November 3rd & 4th.

The picnic lunch after the business meeting was a big success and the ladies left the Wildflower Preserve, well-filled, rested and happy that their dream of a native wildflower preserve had come true.

Virginia Beach Seahawks Battle To A 12 - 12 Tie With Suffolk

By Emanuel Katsias

The Virginia Beach Seahawks trekked to Suffolk to meet the Red Raiders at Peanut Park before a large crowd who were treated to one of the finest games a Seahawk team under the tutelage of Coach Fred Isaacs has ever displayed. Before game time, the Red Raiders were overwhelming favorites to trounce their conference member from Virginia Beach.

From the opening kick-off the crowd knew prediction meant nothing as they witnessed the brand of football being played by the Seahawks. Suffolk scored first in the contest in the first period on a 76 yard jaunt by Whitley, but Virginia Beach blazed back in the second period on Arthur Barco's fumble recovery in the end zone, tying the score at 6-6. In the second period, Whitley of Suffolk scored once more and at the half the score board read Suffolk 12 - Virginia Beach 6!

After seven plays at the beginning of the third quarter, Virginia Beach roared back on Sanderlin's TD. During the third period and into the fourth, it was evident the seahawks were out to trounce the Suffolk offensive punch as they repeatedly stopped the Red Raiders.

Virginia Beach missed their final chance to break the tie when time ran out on the Seahawks on the Raider 4 with only seconds remaining.

Many things stood out in this hard fought game, among them was the fine defense the Beach eleven possessed. It was this same defense that stopped Gloucester last week. Outstanding once more were such linemen as Barco, Scarbrough, Zittrian, and Chrisman; along with them the pass defense aided the Beach cause greatly. The backfield continues to run hard with such able backs as Barnes, McIver, and Sanderlin. Another unrelenting at this game was the new found passing attack of the Hawks, of which ends such as Morris Jester play such a vital part; Jester is another reason why the Seahawks are moving. All in all it has been a great week for football, it's hoped the Seahawks good fortune will continue.

Cavaliers Rally To Tie Emporia

Numerous fumbles and costly penalties against both the Princess Anne Cavaliers and the Emporia Eagles provided for an exciting game Friday, October 8, at the Cavalier Stadium.

TEE SHOTS

PRINCESS ANNE

T. David FitzGibbon, veteran divot digger of the Princess Anne Country Club, waited a long time to make his first hole-in-one, but he turned the trick recently when he blasted a nine iron shot into the cup on the seventh hole. He was playing with W. N. Marshall, Dawson Taylor and Leroy Pearson.

Hampton Sewell fired a stunning 73 last Sunday that had Pet Dean wailing. It was Sewell's lowest round and he was playing with Al Berman and Lenwood Walker.

The father and son tournament has reached the final round with W. W. McClanahan and son Billy scheduled to face C. J. Ball and his son, Jordan.

Last week's blind bogey results found W. N. Marshall and H. Daugherty in a tie for first place with 79's.

THE CAVALIER

Pete Dorson and Cox Joyner tied for top honors in the weekly blind bogey event held last Saturday at the Cavalier Golf Club. They had net 69's.

halfback, carried the ball 50 yards to score, only seconds before the first half ended. Wes Newsome placed the extra point giving Emporia a 7 to 0 lead.

Princess Anne tied the game in the third quarter on an aerial from Andy McCullar to end Bobby Saunders. Saunders also scored another TD on an apparent Eagle fumble; however it was ruled as an incomplete pass.

The Cavaliers' other nullified goal resulted when Jimmy Loftin scored on a pass from McCullar. The center of Princess Anne's team was ruled as an ineligible down field receiver.

OUTSTANDING SEAHAWKS

ART BARCO

Art Barco left, and Tom Barnes, who were outstanding in the Virginia Beach Seahawks game that resulted in a tie score last week. Barco is a 160-pound guard who was a tower of strength in throwing Suffolk backs for repeated losses. Barnes also weighs 160 pounds and is a sophomore quarterback. Barnes directed the team in workmanlike fashion and his accurate play calling had a great deal to do with the tie score, which was a moral victory for the local eleven. The Seahawks play Smithfield here Friday night. Game time is 8 o'clock.

PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

A reader writes this week seeking information concerning the history of our beloved Princess Anne County and we have perused the record books to find the following facts.

As most of us know the English landed at Cape Henry in 1607 and moved on to establish the first English settlement at Jamestown. However, history tells of the Spaniards probably entering Chesapeake Bay many years prior to 1607 settling on the banks of the Potomac River. Their settlement did not remain permanent.

The first permanent colonists landed at Cape Henry on April 26, 1607, members of a fleet in command of Christopher Newport. After exploring around the bay for several days the colonists returned to Cape Henry and erected a Cross, which still stands in Fort Story marking the landing of the first English colonists.

Princess Anne County as such did not come into being until 1691. Prior to 1637, Princess Anne County and Norfolk County were a part of Elizabeth City County. In 1691 what was Lynnhaven Parish in Norfolk County, was carved out of that county, and called Princess Anne, after Anne, daughter of King James II.

After Princess Anne County had been created, it was in 1694 that a proposal was made to erect the courthouse at London Bridge, on John Keeling's old plantation. This proposal was defeated and a year later it was decided to erect the courthouse on the land of the Brick Church, now Donation Church.

The courthouse has had many locations prior to the one it now occupies. In 1735 the court house was removed to the "Ferry"—now the Barnett farm — adjoining Donation Church. In 1755 the courthouse had been removed to Newtown, on the Eastern Branch; in 1781 it was removed to Kemp's landing — Kempville — and about 1824 it was removed to its present location, near the geographic center of the county.

Princess Anne County had many rich and influential residents prior to the Revolution and it was predominantly Tory. During the war of 1812 there was stationed at Pleasure House Beach — now called Chesapeake Beach—a large body of troops to protect Norfolk from any landing the English might make on the shores of the bay side.

Kempville seemed to be probably the hub settlement in the early days. It was the shipping point for practically all the tobacco, wheat, corn and lumber produced in the county. The town was captured by Lord Dunmore and his British Grenadiers, in November 1775. From here Dunmore marched his troops to Great Bridge, where they were defeated.

There are many other points of interest to be found in the history of Princess Anne and we will try to delve into these at a later date. Princess Anne County is colorful with its historical background and volumes could be written concerning it.

Without any official statement emanating from Washington or Denver; there have nonetheless been some new and important though unheralded indications of American policy to China.

After a crackling artillery duel between the Communists in Amoy and the Nationalists on Quemoy Island right in the Amoy harbor, there is now relative silence. The Nationalists have demonstrated their new power, and for the moment at least, Mao has withdrawn from the attack. The significant development in all this is the quieting down of the Nationalists when they might have been expected to try and increase the magnitude of their victory.

Apparently Chiang was informed by the American Ambassador that the United States is at this time interested in helping him defend himself and maintain his regime. This interest, it seems, does not extend to seeing him carry out any large scale attacks with his American equipment against the powers entrenched on the mainland. The State Department quite rightly wishes that we do not appear as the sponsors of aggression or of warfare of any kind. Thus, without official confirmation of course, we have the debunking of the policy of sponsoring Chiang as a liberator of China.

All of our policy makers are for the liberation of Communist dominated areas, but these among them who favor liberation only by means short of war or means unlikely to bring on war seem to have prevailed over those who favor a more active if not adventurous policy. In other words, despite all the campaign talk the United States will be satisfied if henceforth it makes no use of containment, much less liberation. If not as a potential recapturer of the Chinese mainland, why then are we supporting and ever-strengthening Chiang Kai Shek? There are many reasons. The basic basis of these stems from the fact that most of our Government's energies are directed at keeping us as powerful or more powerful than the Soviet Union. In this power building contest the Chinese Nationalists represent a quarry of force placed in a strategic location which military planners believe might be useful to us.

The Formosa Government is the closest thing the United States has to a satellite. Without our support there is probably not a nation that would recognize it, much less the United Nations, and it might even no longer exist. Chiang is utterly dependent on us and therefore quite controllable as was demonstrated by the recent silencing of his cannon on Quemoy. In this Machiavellian game of international power politics into which we have been forced, however, satellites have their uses.

For the time being, Nationalist aimed force mediates against further Communist aggression. Whether Chiang or his successors will be able to maintain this force over a long period appears doubtful.

THE TOLL THEY TAKE

My PET PEEVE

In baseball it usually takes a home run to bring the crowd to its feet. Sometimes a double, or even a single, if it comes at a crucial moment, will raise the crowd. A strike-out seldom does, unless it ends the game. It's the clutch play that gets recognition from the crowd.

But football is different. I contend that football spectators get more exercise than followers of any other sport. If you don't care anything at all about the game, go to a contest, select an average looking fan, then count the number of times he jumps to his feet during the game. He's like a jack-in-the-box.

I'm a rabid fan myself and tending a game is the equal of a hard day's work anytime. I am mentally and physically tired when the final whistle blows. There are so many crucial moments in the game — the fourth down — yard to go situation, the try for point when your team is one point behind, the last-second field goal try that could win the game.

If you should take my advice about going to a game merely to watch the antics of the fans rather than the players, pay close attention when a touchdown is scored. You will think that some sort of an explosive situation has erupted into a free-for-all. They are not really fighting, tho, just pounding one another in glee.

Take it from an old football fan, that's what makes the game different. An enthusiastic fan is so engrossed in the game that he stranger sitting next to him beats him black and blue by pounding on his shoulders to signify a point scored by the home team.

William D. Smith, Route 2, Berlin, Maryland, at eleven years of age lived with his family on a farm and helped with the work.

One day he was helping to put hay into the barn when his foot became entangled in the rope which pulled the hay up into the barn. This resulted in a serious accident and he was rushed to a hospital. When he regained consciousness he looked down and saw that one of his legs was missing. It seemed impossible that this had happened to him. He must be dreaming. He pinched himself so that he would wake up and everything would be all right. But he did not wake up from that dream.

In the days that followed he looked forward most to his mother's daily visits, recognizing her footsteps as she came down the hall. Then fear started to creep upon him as he realized that he would probably never play ball again — he loved all sports — that he might never run, swim and dance again. But as the days went by he realized what had happened was final and that worrying about it could not help. So he made up his mind to face it and do the best he could.

After being taken home he was fitted with an artificial leg and he tried to improve his walking. He found he could still swim, and he learned to run and to dance. Now, during the summer he plays first base on the softball team, not as well as some of the others, but still running and playing.

precious state of the Japanese economy. China is the natural market for highly industrialized Japan, and it is China that can best supply many of Japan's raw material needs. Economic depression in Japan might well make her highly vulnerable to the Communist virus. A second reason is the increasing dissonance among the members of the Western Alliance on this subject.

Distasteful though it may be to many Americans as well as to our Allies, continued United States control of Formosa seems likely and in some ways even necessary. First, there are seven million people and a friendly government whom we could hardly leave to the tender mercies of the Communists. Second, there is the question of United States "face" in the Orient. Should we surrender Formosa, anti-Communism in Japan, Thailand and the Philippines could no longer be sure of the great power backing so readily available to the Communists. What a weakening that would be! Finally, there is the strategic angle. As long as we are engaged in a cold war likely at any moment to become hot, we can ill afford to give up what might serve as a first rate base.

Red China is a grim reality to which we must become accustomed. She may become less grim. A wild animal is tamed with a whip, but also with small rewards for each lesson learned. Some animals, of course, cannot be tamed, but no one ever found out without trying.

LITTLE WHITE LIE
A SHORT STORY

By JAMES B. SIFFERLE

"What a mess it made!" Miss Octavia Brown moaned at Miss Claudette White, the proprietor of the Busy Bee Cafe.

"That's too bad, Octavia," Miss White answered, gazing toward the pretty face of Octavia. Suddenly she sighed. She wished that she had Octavia's pretty face and youthful figure. Now she was an old lady — well fixed as everyone put it — but still single like this impetuous girl.

Octavia picked up her bill from the booth she had been sitting in, for no reason at all, "when all that gray dust started to blow from that paving outfit!"

"She ganced again at the booth. The place I painted looks more gray than white — thanks to that mixer operator!"

Miss White glanced anxiously toward the booth the girl had been watching. Her worst fears rose inside her.

The handsome young man, the one with the gray shirt and tan trousers, was getting up from the booth after finishing his breakfast.

Miss White smiled at him, taking his check and some coins. "Was the bacon done well enough?" Miss White asked anxiously. "Was the toast all right?"

The young man glanced at Octavia who stood quietly to the side pulling her gloves on before leaving Miss White's cafe.

He grinned at Miss White, saying: "Everything's all right, mam, so long as I keep that mixer dust away from these girls painting houses and washing clothes when they shouldn't be."

Octavia smiled frostily. "She said to the young man, 'I suppose you want me to apologize for the cement dust that...'"

The young man smiled hastily, fushing in his cheeks:

"No, Miss Brown, I'm really sorry about that." He stood in the early morning sun streaming through the open screen door, standing first on one foot and then on the other. He glanced at the clock on the wall several times.

"Oh, I guess it wasn't TOO bad," Octavia said, smiling at the young man as both of them walked over to the door. "I can paint over it, I guess."

The young man smiled at her. "I suppose it happened Monday," he said sorrowfully. "I guess to the women that's wash day."

Octavia glanced at the mixer operator. "Yes, it was. Only instead of the wash getting full of cement dust it was the paint."

She still sounded angry. Miss White decided.

Miss White sighed sorrowfully. Why couldn't Octavia act like any other girl in town? Here she had a chance to forget about the paint on the house getting dirty and yet she was carrying on the conversation with the handsome young man as though he weren't the nicest young man ever to hit Big Creek — made a lot of money, too, running that paving machine — and he could handle it.

Miss White watched them walk closer to the door.

"Yes," Octavia was chatting away, smiling up at him, as they walked outside, "I had the whole side painted Monday afternoon."

"It was windy that day," the young man agreed. "Oh, well, I said I was sorry."

Miss White waited until they were out of sight. Then she started to laugh quietly, steadily. It was funny about two people falling in love. They would do anything to meet sometimes.

Even to the point of lying. Monday the concrete paving company hadn't been able to pave — and, she sighed — Octavia's house was gray alright.

It had rained softly all day long!

Farmers May Turn Back Wheat Acreage

Farmers who do not intend to plant all or part of their 1955 wheat acreage allotments may release such acreage to the county ASC office for reassignment to other farms in the county.

This is a provision of the 1955 wheat marketing quota program which did not exist under the 1954 program according to W. F. Hunger, chairman of the Princess Anne ASC committee. The purpose of the provision is to assure utilization of a maximum amount of the county's acreage allotment which already is substantially lower than the normal wheat acreage of recent years, the chairman said.

The county ASC committee will accept released 1955 wheat allotments up until but not later than November 1, 1954. Farmers who want their 1955 wheat allotments increased from released acreage also must file an application with the county ASC office not later than November 1, 1954.

Mr. Hunger cautioned wheat farmers to be absolutely certain that they will not seed part or all of their 1955 wheat allotments before they release the acreage. He reminded farmers that compliance with the 1955 wheat allotment, regardless of its size, will be required for farms to share in assistance under the Agricultural Conservation Program. Furthermore, compliance with the 1955 wheat acreage allotments will be required to obtain price support on wheat.

PRICE PRINTING CO.

Norfolk

Price Printing Co., successors to Mark E. Cole Printing Co., Inc., is located at 614 Clay Ave. in Norfolk, Va. Kenneth Price, owner. They still specialize in wedding, commercial and engraved stationery, and embossed wedding and social stationery.

This printing house has a unique and interesting history. It has stood for many years for distinctive printing. Its attention has been devoted since the founding of the firm to the carefulness and attention to detail. Jobs that could not be turned out in proper form in the time allowed, have been declined rather than to have a hastily executed piece of work leave the presses. For years this firm has built up slowly and patiently such a reputation, that local firms, which have learned methods invariably call them, confident that whether the price is made before doing the work or afterwards, both the price and the work will be right.

While retaining the old policies of care, watchfulness, business integrity before quick profits, nevertheless a more progressive management made possible savings in buying and in shop operation. The concern, once content to stay in the shadow of large and more obtrusive competitors, now started to forge to the front, to out-distance many of its former rivals; to go after business more aggressively than ever; to push its reputation, already firmly established over a long period of years) into the limelight, began to bring its activities into the public eye. Soon everyone who counted in the business world was saying, "Have you noticed how many recent jobs the Price Printing Co. is securing? And I understand they are not letting down on the old quality either." Such publicity has its effects. Today one can see in their shop, possibly at the same amount, the highest type of printing.

In this summary of the business progress of the community, we must compliment this progressive firm alike on its firmly entrenched commercial reputation, and on its aggressive command of today's opportunities.

Mrs. JULIUS B. GRAY
Norfolk
Mrs. Julius B. Gray is located at 116 Halstead in Norfolk, Va. Dial 63-0101. This fine concern furnishes the most modern equipment available, such as a Champagne Fountain, and the very best in dainty colored line linens, which lends delightful charm to any occasion.

They offer a catering service of real excellence and it is unsurpassed in serving weddings. They also give special attention to parties and social events and will take complete charge of all details. If you arrange with them to do the catering you may rest assured that the luncheon will be a complete success.

Society hostesses rely on this service for a true friend in time of need. If the household does not afford a retinue of servants to maintain it throughout the year the occasional big party is quite a burden to any woman, regardless of how efficient she might be. Well trained servants who go out for occasional parties are scarce and difficult to obtain. Realizing this need the catering establishment has sprung into vogue. They maintain a corps of well trained servants, schooled in the etiquette of service.

Their china, silverware and appointments are of the very best and this coupled with their splendid service, delicious foods and reasonable charges make this service truly perfect.

In making this review of the progress of the period we are glad to compliment this concern upon the popularity of the service and upon the position they occupy in the life of the people.

MARKET HOGS

Market your hogs at weights of 150 to 200 pounds. The federal program is extremely economical, additional pounds will mean less profits.

Select the very best gilts out of your market hogs and breed them to replace some of the older, off-type, poor-producing sows in the herd. When selecting gilts, keep in mind weight for age, good meat type, trim jaw and shoulder, trim straight underline with at least 12 well-spaced teats, and straight, sound feet and legs.

And what about such pigs? Some are runts because they're inherited slow-growth characteristics. Others result from poor feeding.

Feed sows a good gestation ration with enough protein, vitamins and minerals, along with home-grown grain. Feed sows needed sow-and-pig supplement during lactation, and creep-feed nursing pigs a balanced ration.

Pen littering according to age so older pigs won't rob the younger ones. Control external and internal parasites. Then, if in spite of all these precautions, you still have runts, pen them separately. Buy, or have mixed, a highly fortified ration that includes extra antibiotics and vitamin B 12, and other vitamins such as riboflavin, niacin, and pantothenic acid. Feed this free choice until the runts have gained the proper weight.

The Princess Anne High School Band is under the direction of James A. Cantwell. It has made several public appearances this year, and will participate in the Opster Bowl game, November 6. Snappy new uniforms were purchased with funds raised by the Ruritan Club and other civic groups in the county.

Veterinarians who are in charge of the eradication program of swine vesicular exanthema in swine in Virginia say there are some installations where the temperature of the garbage being cooked is not uniformly high enough to kill disease organisms. The situation can be corrected in many cases with relatively minor changes, such as reducing distance between steam pipes, spacing of holes, and stirring.

Costs for cooking equipment, labor, and fuel vary considerably according to the size and type of operation. A small feeder who cooks 25 pounds of garbage daily reported an equipment cost of $21. A larger feeder who cooks 6 tons daily had an initial cost of $2,800.

A publication, "Equipment for the Hog Treatment of Garbage: To Be Used for Hog Feed," gives details on design and use. It is available from Supervisor, VE eradication, 1102 State Office

Building, Richmond

The 1954 General Assembly passed a law prohibiting the feeding of raw garbage to swine and requiring a $100 license from the Department of Agriculture in order to feed cooked garbage.

This is cheap insurance. With the license fees, the garbage feeder gets semi-monthly inspection of his hogs, his premises, and his cooking rig to prevent the possibility of an outbreak of VE, which could mean the slaughter and burial of his entire herd. The inspection service will eliminate the veterinary inspection before sale of hogs, formerly required by the Department.

The cooking operation, properly done, will eliminate not only the virus of VE, but hog cholera, influenza, and other diseases, including trichinellosis, so the feeder's losses should be reduced. Cooking also makes garbage more palatable, and shots can be started on straight garbage earlier.

WHAT'S A WEED

The standard farm definition of a weed is a plant out of place, but that could get confusing in ### the seed trade.

In a corn stalk in a soybean field a weed? How about wheat in a bag of seed oats?

In Virginia, you can't sell any seed with Johnson Grass in it, and yet farther south, Johnson Grass is grown as a forage crop. Bermudagrass or wire grass is a secondary noxious weed seed in Virginia, and yet it is planted in lawns where the soil is too light and sandy for the usual grasses.

Obviously, the standard definition of a weed won't do, so we have the Virginia Field and Vegetable Seed Law.

This law says that there are weeds and then there are weeds, and what you call them depends on how hard they are to get rid of.

It lists seven of them as noxious weeds, that is, weeds that nobody in Virginia wants anywhere in any cultivated field.

Four of these, Endweed, Quack-grass, Canada Thistle and Johnson Grass, are primary noxious weeds. The law says you can't sell any commercial seed, if it contains the seeds of ### these four.

The reason is that these four are almost impossible to control once they get established. All are heavy seed producers, and in addition, each of them also spreads by means of underground roots.

Three more of these weeds, dodder, Bermudagrass and wild onion, are secondary noxious weeds. The seedman can sell commercial seed with these weed seeds in it, but he has to put on the label how much of each is there. In the case of dodder, he can't sell the seed commercially if it has more than 6 dodder seed to the ounce.

The secondary noxious weed seeds are pretty much like the primary, except not so bad to control.

The rest of what the farmer normally calls weeds when they grow in the field are all lumped together in the law. The seedman doesn't have to say they are on the label of the seed bags, but he does have to state the total weed seed content, including the primary and secondary noxious weeds.

Freezing of MAIN DISHES Great Timesaver: Suggestions Given for FREEZING APPLES

By MRS. ELIZABETH D. DEAL
Home Demonstration Agent

Main Dishes for Freezing

Preparing main dishes, such as Beef Pie, Chicken-Corn Casserole, or Ham Turnovers, to store in the home freezer can be a real time-saver and convenience, provided the homemaker looks out for a few "do's and don'ts" for success in this modern way of storing food.

Food specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service recently made up a number of main dishes experimentally and judged the food for eating quality after different periods of time in frozen storage. The results are in booklet, "Freezing Combination Main Dishes" (GN-46), which gives recipes in 24- or 25-portion sizes and provides two-way directions — how to proceed if the homemaker wishes to serve the food straight away and how to freeze the remainder and later complete its preparation for serving. Single copies of "Freezing Combination Main Dishes" may be had from the County Agent's office, Princess Anne.

As special pointers for freezing, the Department's food specialists say:

DO—leave vegetables and ma-carrots slightly underdone for freezing. If cooked well-done, the foods are likely to be too soft when re-heated.

DO—freeze meat pies or turnovers with pastry crusts unbaked. Crusts baked after freezing, in the experiments, had fresher flavor and were more flaky and tender than those baked and then frozen.

DO—cool quickly a cooked main dish that is to be frozen by setting the uncovered pan of food on ice or in very cold water. A metal pan is preferred for cooling, as it conducts the heat away from the food rapidly and is not likely to break. Quick cooling stops the cooking and so helps to keep the natural flavor, color and texture of the food. It also retards or prevents growth of bacteria that may cause spoilage.

DON'T—add a crumb or cheese topping to a food before freezing. Such toppings are best added when the food is re-heated.

DON'T—hold food for more than 10 hours in frozen storage. For tip-top quality and economical use of freezer space, two or three months in storage is long enough, though most of these dishes will hold quality fairly well for six months.

Apples

Apples are plentiful now and very good. They are one of Virginia's famous foods. Here are some recipes for them.

The homemaker who wants to freeze or can apple slices, for quick use in pies or other desserts, needs to take special precautions lest this delicate fruit turn dark or mushy. Starting with crisp, firm, well-flavored apples is important for this use, too.

From experiments with various possible ways of holding the cut apple's fresh color, texture and flavor, the following procedures have been found successful:

To freeze apple slices for fruit cocktail or uncoked desserts—

Prepare a medium-heavy syrup by dissolving sugar in water in the proportions of 3 cups sugar to 4 cups water. To each quart of syrup add 1-2 teaspoon of ascorbic acid (vitamin C). This anti-darkening aid for fruit freezing is sold in powdered or crystalline form in many drug stores.

Starting with 1-2 cup syrup in each freezer container, slice apples to 4 cups water. To each quart of cold syrup, press slices down and add enough sugar to cover. Leave space at top to allow for food expanding in freezing 1-2 inch space in pint containers; 1 inch in quarts. Seal and freeze.

To freeze apples sliced with or without sweetening, for pie or other cooked dishes—

Slice peeled and cored apples into water containing 2 tablespoons salt per gallon, to prevent darkening. Drain. Place apple slices in a single layer in a steamer and steam 1-2 to 2 hours, depending on thickness of slices. Cool in cold water and drain. For a sweetened pack, sprinkle 1-2 cup sugar over each quart (1 1/4 pounds of fruit) and stir. Sweetened or unsweetened, pack the slices into freezer containers and press down, leaving 1-2 inch space at top. Seal and freeze.

To Can Apple Slices—

Packing raw gives better flavor and texture than pre-heating the slices and packing them hot. For a raw pack, slice peeled and cored apples into water containing 2 tablespoons each of salt and vinegar per gallon. Drain. Pack the raw slices in home canning jars to 1-2 inch of top. Cover with boiling sugar syrup, made in proportion of 1 cup sugar to 3 cups water. Leave 1-2 inch space at top of jar. Adjust jar lids and process either pints or quarts 15 minutes in a water-bath canner.

The hot pack has this advantage, if storage space is limited: About 50 per cent more apples may be packed in each jar. To pack hot: After the slices are drained from the salt and vinegar solution, boil the fruit in thin syrup or water for 5 minutes. Then pack and process in the canner like raw slices.

Junior Woman's Club Fall Program Underway; Plan Years Activities

Clothing, magazines, cards, and toilet articles were delivered to Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg recently by members of the Welfare Department of the Princess Anne County Junior Women's Club. A report on the project was given at the October business meeting of the Juniors on October 5th at the Virginia Beach Community House. Mrs. Frederick G. Trummer, president, presided.

The Welfare members took to the State Hospital 5 patterns, 5 pocketbooks, 7 ladies' hats, 5 men's shirts, 1 shirt, 14 men's coats, 27 men's jackets, 4 coats (linings, 30 ladies' dark dresses, 9 ladies' coats, 17 ladies' jackets, 16 men's ties, 48 toothbrushes and 48 tubes of toothpaste. 8 decks of cards, 20 wash clothes, and 260 current magazines. Mrs. John Goode, Jr., co-chairman of the department, stated that several other trips will be made to the hospital to supply curtains for the TB wards and other needs.

Mrs. Bruce E. Melcher, Jr. reported that the Welfare Department had also secured clothing for 10 girls and 20 boys, residents of a local orphanage. Approximately 30 coats, suits, and dresses were collected.

Mrs. W. A. Green is chairman of the Welfare Department. Mrs. William F. Ferrell was elected second vice president of the Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club at their recent business meeting. She succeeds Mrs. P. M. Durham.

Mrs. James G. Kellam was elected as a delegate to attend with Mrs. Trummer the Tidewater Fall District Meeting of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs at Williamsburg, and Mrs. Ferrell and Mrs. Goode were named as alternates. Others to attend are: Mesdames Green, W. A. Maestas, A. J. Dennis, and Joseph Larson.

The Princess Anne Juniors voted to adopt the following money-making projects for the 1954-55 club year: help for the Princess Anne Central High School, and for the Girl Scout at Camp Linkhorn, and continued operation of the Club Welfare Bank. "Specifically, the high school is in need of a multigraph machine for the

Monroe Stamp To Be Released On December 2

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield recently announced that a 5-cent stamp, the sixth in the new ordinary series, will be released on December 2, 1954, at Fredericksburg, Va. This date is the 100th anniversary of the birth of James Monroe, the fifth President of the United States.

The stamp will be 0.75 by 0.87 of an inch in dimension, arranged vertically, printed by the rotary process, electric-ink perforated, and issued in sheets of 100. The color of the stamp will be blue.

The central subject of the new stamp is a likeness of James Monroe taken from a portrait by Rembrandt Peale, now in the James Monroe Law Office and Museum in Fredericksburg. The name "Monroe" is placed on the left below the center of the portrait and in the lower right corner, arranged in two lines, is the denomination "5c" and the wording "U. S. Postage." All lettering is in white face Gothic.

Stamp collectors desiring first day cancellations of the 5-cent James Monroe stamp may send a reasonable number of addressed envelopes to the Postmaster at Fredericksburg, Va., with money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap either sealed or turned in. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers."

It's Smart to Eat Breakfast Say Nutrition Experts

Off to a good start with a better breakfast — for a better morning, better work, and better grades.

This was shown in recent scientific tests conducted at a distinguished medical school of a leading midwest university, when 25 healthy boys 12 to 14 years of age were critically observed for a period of 28 weeks.

From this study, it is of interest to all mothers and meal-planners that:

1—Maximum work rate and maximum work output were significantly less in the late morning hours when breakfast was omitted.

2—It was the consensus of the school authorities that the omission of breakfast exerted a significant detrimental effect both on the attitude and scholastic attainment of the boys who followed this practice during the time they were in school.

3—The subjects showed no significant change in body weight whether they ate no breakfast or a basic cereal breakfast so long as their total caloric intake per day was not changed.

The conclusions drawn from the study of these boys not only confirmed many of the findings which pointed to the importance of breakfast for young and old men, but demonstrated that, for the most part, the good breakfast habit is a sound nutritional principle that applies to teen-agers and the old and young alike.

Child Safety Being Stressed By PTA Groups

"We protect wild life. What about child life?"

Mrs. Laurin H. Potter, safety chairman of the W. T. Cooke PTA, asked this question this week as she spoke in behalf of the child traffic safety program being sponsored locally this month by the Parent-Teacher Safety Committee and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

"The rules of good sportsmanship protect our wild birds and animals," she declared, "but too often the rules of safety are neglected when it comes to protecting our children on the streets and highways of the nation."

Mrs. Potter pointed out that 94 children under 15 years of age were killed in Virginia traffic last year, and another 3,905 were injured.

"The PTA is solidly behind this traffic safety program," she said. "We want to do everything we can to help educate people to their responsibilities for the safety of youngsters."

Mrs. Potter listed eight rules for adults — parents and motorists — to follow to safeguard the lives of children in traffic.

PARENTS SHOULD:

- 1—Set children a good example by crossing streets only at intersections, waiting for the signal, looking both ways and for turning traffic before crossing.
- 2—Find out what traffic safety education your children are receiving at school and coordinate your own instruction with it.
- 3—Impress upon children the danger of playing in the street or near moving traffic. See that they play only in approved play areas.
- 4—See that children are skilled in using outdoor toys such as roller skates, bicycles, scooters, tricycles and wagons, and that the youngsters practice safety rules when using the toys.

MOTORISTS SHOULD:

- 1—Keep a constant lookout for children. Even when children are clearly in view, their actions are often unpredictable.
- 2—Near school areas be constantly alert for signs, signals, traffic police, school patrols and for children themselves.
- 3—Don't compete with bike riders. Be ready always to give them the right of way.
- 4—Always drive as though it were YOUR child who might be endangered.

HAVE SUMMER CLOTHES READY FOR NEXT YEAR

When sent to the laundry, the summer's clothes are returned clean, pressed and like new. If they are carefully packed in cloth containers they will be ready for wearing when warm weather comes again.

Summer clothes should be stored in a dry place so that mildew won't damage them. They should be packed loosely so that there are fewer wrinkles when the time comes for the garments to be worn again.

Sergeant Frank E. Loterzo Cited For Newspaper Work in Europe

U. S. Army Sergeant First Class Frank E. Loterzo, of Virginia Beach, was recently honored with a citation praising him for his work as editor of the best U. S. military newspaper in Europe. The citation was made in Frankfurt, Germany.

Sergeant Loterzo is the son of Frank A. Loterzo, who resides at 409 17th Street, here at the resort.

The 26-year-old regular Army newspaperman has been editor of "The Chronicle," U. S. Army weekly publication for troops in the northern part of the U. S. Zone of Germany, since November of 1952.

His newspaper won top honors as best in the field after a 12-month survey made by Headquarters of the U. S. Army, Europe. Sgt. Loterzo's publication was chosen as tops on the basis of makeup, news coverage, method of presentation, and all-around journalistic excellence.

The citation was presented to Sgt. Loterzo by Major General Thomas W. Herren, of Dadeville, Ala., commanding general of the U. S. Army Northern Area Command.

Number of Alcoholics Increases Rapidly in U.S. in Past Ten Years

In 1940 there were 2,632,000 alcoholics in the United States. By 1950 the number had jumped to 3,876,000, and was still on the increase.

These figures are the results of studies made by Dr. E. M. Jellinek, former director of the Yale

Scientists From Thailand Visit Fish Laboratory

Mr. Swang Charemphol and Mr. Jinda Thiemmedh of Thailand were recent visitors at the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory at Gloucester Point, and spent several days looking the layout over.

The purpose of the visit to the laboratory is to bring information to the Virginia scientists of the fisheries of Thailand and to observe our research men at work in Chesapeake Bay, which is similar to the Gulf of Thailand in many respects. This exchange of ideas should prove beneficial to the fishermen of both of these widely separated countries.

Mr. Charemphol is fishery officer of the Department of Fisheries of Thailand and for the past five years has been head of the Rayong Marine Fisheries experimental station. His duties include promoting of sea fisheries, consisting of experiments on fishing gear, and introducing new fishing methods to Thailand. He comes to Virginia after having spent three months with the Pacific Oceanic Fishery Investigations of Hawaii.

After spending six months in the United States, in which time he will visit many of the marine laboratories along the Atlantic seaboard, he will spend three months in Japan observing marine fisheries stations, their operations and administration. On returning to Thailand he will carry on studies and observations in the shallow Gulf of Thailand. He holds a BS degree in Fisheries from the University of Hokkaido in Japan.

His fellow country man, Mr. Jinda Thiemmedh, is an officer of the Fishery Department of that country who has been employed for eighteen years and who is now head of the fishery section engaged in fishery biological investigation.

fish culture and natural fish populations. Mr. Thiemmedh holds a BS degree from Silliman University of the Philippines and has completed three-quarters of graduate study at Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

In a recent article, Dr. Jellinek writes: "The estimate for 1950, as yet unpublished, is 3,876,000 alcoholics in the USA, of whom 3,280,000 were males and 596,000 females. Compared with 1949 the number of male alcoholics has increased by 4,000 and the number of female alcoholics by 20,000. The rate per 100,000 adults (age 20 and over) has been practically unchanged since 1948 (3,952 per 100,000). For two years in succession no increase in the rate has been seen."

Although the RATE of alcoholics appeared to be leveling off in 1950, the NUMBER continues to increase steadily and at an alarming rate. This is especially true among women, according to Dr. Jellinek's estimates. In 1940 there were only 376,000 female alcoholics, but in 1950 the number had jumped to 596,000, an increase of 47 per cent. The number of female alcoholics increased by 20,000 between 1949 and 1950.

But even these figures do not give a true picture of the number of people in trouble with alcohol in the United States today. Lumping in those people for whom drinking has become a real problem in family or business life, the estimate, according to Jellinek and other leading authorities, reaches close to the 7,000,000 mark for alcoholics and problem drinkers.

Now is Time to Plant for Spring

How is YOUR garden going to look next March or April when your neighbor's is bursting with color? If you want to have something to sing about next Spring, Fall is the time to get in there and plant Dutch bulbs. With careful planning you can enjoy a breath-taking flower display for over two months or more.

Neglected nooks and crannies can often be delightfully dressed up with a dash of brilliantly colored tulips. A sloping area might be selected for mass planting of tulips. A border of tulips, golden yellow daffodils. Hyacinths could be placed informally along borders or in groups of three to five close to the house where their fragrance can be appreciated.

Except in very warm climates, the sunnier the location for your Spring bulbs the better. Daffodils, hyacinths, snowdrops, grape-hyacinths, and scillas will do better in shade than the May-flowering tulips. The ideal location is a combination of full sun and protection by a building or a wall, hedge or shrubbery, from north and west winds. Don't let drouth, past or present, worry you. Bulbs are not as thirsty as many other flowers.

Early planting — as soon as bulbs can be procured — is generally desirable. Bulbs are better off in the soil than if stored in a garage or cellar. Here is a checklist of some of the main flowers that will bloom in your garden next Spring, if you plant the bulbs now, this Fall:

TULIPS — Choose from hundreds of available varieties in every color and many shapes, which bloom from April through May. Plant in sun, in well drained soil, six inches deep, six apart.

Consumers Want To Be Released Buying Power Food Man States

American consumers want more buying power in their food dollar and more convenience in food shopping, Ralph W. Burger, president of the A & P Food Stores, declares. In a statement issued during the present month-long celebration of the oldest food chain's 95th anniversary, Mr. Burger declared that "fortunately greater convenience and greater economy go hand in hand as both spring from efficient operations."

As examples of developments contributing to both economy and convenience, he cited recent advances in the processing of canned foods, frozen foods, concentrates, and progress in packaging, freshness and quality controls.

"The American housewife is getting better food more appealingly offered than ever before," Burger said. "As we look to the future, however, it is clear that the food industry must strive to keep the quality and service high and bring the cost down."

The A & P president stated that "there is great need for economical practices. More than 80 per cent of American families had incomes of less than $5,000 last year and they spent more than one-quarter of this on food," he said. "If they are to have sufficient nourishing food, and at the same time be able to buy the other things that make up the high standard of American living, we must provide them with a maximum of food value for every dollar they spend."

Mr. Burger pointed out that both the average family income and farm income, which rose rapidly during the inflationary war and post-war period, have leveled off and have even shown a slight decrease during the first half of this year. "Therefore," he said, "the food merchant has a real responsibility to narrow the margin between wholesale and retail prices."

He cited major advances in the food industry benefiting producers and consumers:

CANNED FOODS offer improved variety and improved quality. They remain in greatest demand because they can be obtained in uniformly high quality at low cost in a form that reduces preparation to a minimum.

FROZEN FOODS have shown great progress, particularly in relation to fish. Here it is possible to preserve and transport fish in fresh, ready to cook condition to inland areas far removed from fishing grounds. Pre-cooked frozen seafood has also gained considerable popularity.

PRE-PACKAGING of meat has enabled the housewife to choose the exact cut she desires and to know its exact cost. Pre-packaging of fresh fruit and vegetables is more sanitary and has added to the convenience of the shopper.

CONCENTRATES of soups, fruit juices and other beverages, together with quick-cooking cereals, "instant" desserts and prepared mixes for baked goods, all make cooking in the home easier and more pleasant.

IMPROVED QUALITY CONTROLS in food production and processing have brought about a general raising of the quality level.

IMPROVED FREIGHTS controls all along the distribution chain have helped preserve freshness and quality and reduce waste and spoilage.

"All these developments are helping food merchants provide their customers with the five basic things they want: clean stores, shopping convenience, good service, quality food, and money-saving prices," Burger said.

Clifford Herzer, Virginia Beach pianist, will play this year at the Center Theatre in Norfolk. Last year it was with the Norfolk Symphony and this year it will be a solo recital sponsored by the Levee Page Temple of Music in honor of the first anniversary of the Steady State Centennial which is being celebrated in every major city in the United States.

The two weeks prior to the concert will be very busy ones as Mr. Herzer has other concerts scheduled as well as interviews over the various stations in the district and the television show on the 28th of October.

On October 23 there is a concert in Smithfield. On the 24th a concert at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Bristow Hardin.

On Sunday evening the 17th of October two of Mr. Herzer's outstanding students will be interviewed on INTERMEZZO over WTAR. Mr. Warner Tysford, the Music critic of the Norfolk Virginian Pilot will talk with them and then play recordings made a few days previously for the broadcast. They are Frances Conway and Nicholas Karsers. Both pianists are gold medal winners in the International Piano Recording Festival and Miss Conway won first place in the State of Virginia which brought a large cash prize and made us all very proud of her achievement.

Welfare Work Rises In County

Requests for services from public welfare departments have been rising steadily, according to Mrs. Rosalene P. Simpson, Superintendent of Public Welfare for Princess Anne - Virginia Beach, while applications for financial assistance have generally decreased.

This recent trend is noted in statistics compiled by the State Department of Welfare and Institutions, the Superintendent said.

There were 321 more applications for services and financial assistance during August than during July, and most of these were requests for services and foster care. Requests for financial assistance in old age assistance, aid to the permanently and totally disabled and general relief totalled 196 less than July, and requests for aid to dependent children were 104 more than that month.

There were 890 more children receiving child welfare services at the end of August, 1954, than in the same month of 1953, the Superintendent said. Services to 9,867 children were given by welfare departments in Virginia during August.

These included adoption studies and placements, foster placements, probation supervision, supervision for the Department of Welfare and Institutions, and other services.

Hauser Electric Company, Firm With Enviably Record, Recommends CEIL HEAT For Cold Weather Comfort

Hauser Electric Corporation, one of Tidewater's largest electrical contracting firms has built an enviable reputation in its field. One of the most successful and increasingly popular phases of their operation has been the installation of electrical heating systems for homes - both new and old - and commercial and industrial buildings. Over the past two years, according to Mr. Hauser, the firm has made over 800 electric radiant heating installations.

THE NEW STANDARD OF HOME COMFORT

Now everyone can enjoy maximum home comfort through Cell Heat, the revolutionary electrical ceiling cables that provide invisible radiant heat from above - just like the sun.

Cell Heat cables conduct electricity at low temperatures, slightly above body heat. They are embedded in the plaster and are spaced evenly throughout the entire ceiling. Thus, the ceiling becomes a low-temperature radiant heating surface which directs gentle heat waves from ceiling to floor, with equal warmth from wall to wall. Cell Heat radiates down from the ceiling and warms every person or object beneath it, just as sun rays do. It is uncanceled for uniform heating and comfortable living.

Actually, people are amazed when they realize how Cell Heat functions. You can't see it, but when you walk into a Cell Heat home you immediately begin feeling the gentle, uniform warmth that permeates the room from head to toe, wherever you are. There are no cold floors... no drafts... no dirt, dust or harmful grime or gases. Truly, Cell Heat is the "dream" heating system, the newest and finest major improvement in the home.

Here's How Radiant Heat Works: Radiant heat is unlike the heat that most people are accustomed to. Conventional heating systems heat the air which in turn rises and circulates around the room, carrying dust, germs and pollen with it. Radiant heat, on the other hand, travels directly to the floors, walls, etc., and gently warms every person or object in its path.

To illustrate, try this - connect your electric iron and let it get hot. Pass your hand around it at a short distance and you can feel the warm heat rays radiating from the iron in all directions.

Now, hold the iron over your head, or over your other hand, and you will feel the heat radiating down. Slowly move your hand down away from the iron, and you will continue to feel the warmth of it. That is heat radiation - invisible waves of heat that reach down and warm everything in their path. By controlling the direction of low-temperature radiant heat and spreading it over a large area, you achieve the ultimate in uniform heating comfort.

Saves On Building Costs

Cell Heat is one of the simplest and easiest heating systems to install. The cost is much less than comparable or competitive heating systems of other types. Cell Heat cables are simply stapled to the ceiling and covered with plaster. They do not damage, endanger, or mar the structure in any way.

Cell Heat is practical and economical for homes in all price ranges. Cell Heat occupies no space, thereby greatly reducing building costs. Considerable savings are effected since no flue, no heater space, no cellar, no fuel storage and no furnace, boiler, registers, radiators or pipes are required.

The flexibility of Cell Heat installation also makes it ideal for economical heating cold spots such as entrances, large glass areas and fully exposed rooms.

Saves On Heating Costs

Compared to conventional heating systems, the combined installation and operation of Cell Heat is competitively favorable with all other types of fuel in most locations.

Cell Heat is completely automatic and requires no maintenance or repairs. There is no wasted heat - each room is heated and individually controlled by thermostat. No dirt, noise or drafts are produced, nor is attention required, which gives absolute carefree operation.

Thousands of installations of CELL HEAT have been made over the nation. You can have the benefits of this proven and economical type of heating system. A competent and experienced detail is available to give you the details in connection with how this once-in-a-lifetime investment, whether for the home you

Mutual Offers Insured Savings Plan To Encourage Practice of Thrift

Mutual Federal offers an insured savings plan for the average individual and family that brings the good things of life within reach. Your savings' account there may be opened with a convenient amount and you may add any amount to it any time.

The savings of each individual member of the association are automatically and permanently insured against loss up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the United States government.

Accounts may be opened in the name of an individual, or jointly by two or more parties, for example a husband and wife, a parent and child, or business partners.

It is always easier to spend money than to save it... than to save it! Money saved can make life easier for you, but in most cases you've got to learn the habit of thrift first.

And speaking of the habit of thrift, there is the story about the right-handed fellow who tried to write with his left hand. At first he thought in terms of each stroke of a letter. Gradually he found that the entire letter became a unit, then a word, until writing with his left hand became easy, and he paid no attention to the mechanics of each stroke.

So it is with saving - by cultivating the habit of thrift you can build up your account gradually - a little at a time, but on a regular weekly or monthly basis.

A steadily growing savings account with us brings security, the ability to do and buy the things you want for your family... a home, better equipment for it, a college education for your children. A savings account is a bulwark against unforeseen emergencies!

But it is more than just that! The money you put into a steadily growing savings account will buy so much more... so many better things when everything is really plentiful again. Meantime, your savings will help keep prices in line, and this is important in our fight against inflation.

It has been proven over and over... that the amount is not nearly so important as the regularity of your savings. For a little... regularly deposited... can become a lot!

"Mutual" invites you to make their institution your savings home.

The Mutual Federal Building and Loan Association is located in their own building at the corner of Boush and Bute Streets, Norfolk. Organized in 1889 they have grown to become the largest in Virginia with assets in excess of $1,000,000. Thousands of homes have been financed with "MUTUAL" and savings have been the basis for the start of most of them. President C. Q. Nugent recently stated: "The Association looks ahead to the future with confidence... prepared, as it always has been, to aid in carrying out its slogan: 'A home for every citizen and a citizen in every home.'"

In 1895, Guy Fawkes tried to blow up the English House of Lords.

"Rebuild" With Change of Color

A famous New York color consultant says that colors chosen in remodeling should be governed to a great extent by the size and shape of the house, climate, colors of neighboring houses, and the rural or urban nature of the area.

She indicates that a tall, boxy house should have black asphalt shingles, which "cuts feet from the roof," making the house seem lower. Gray siding and charcoal shutters play down awkward proportions and large size. White on windows and trim adds brightness. A carnation red door focuses the eye on the first floor and completes the job of "lowering" the house.

Colonial: Here is a reversal of the usual white Colonial house, with blue or green shutters - a roof of pastel blue asphalt shingles, gray-blue siding, and white shutters and trim. Painting the entrance door a deep blue completes the "modern color scheme that maintains the traditional feeling."

Recently I received some recipes from Treasure Cave, and immediately I set out to find out more about Treasure Cave. I am sure you'll enjoy the story, and certainly the recipes that I'll give you.

Treasure Cave, a blue cheese, is cured and aged in sand-rock caves. In 1935 production began in abandoned brewery caves that were dug in 1854. Treasure Cave has grown — 200,000 cubic feet of sand-rock have been dug by hand — and the present cave space is over ten times what it was in 1935.

Treasure Cave, like all blue cheese, is made from whole cow's milk. The color, mold flora, is penicillium roqueforti, an edible fungus like mushrooms. It has a peppery taste which gives the cheese the character for which it is known. Aside from the material ingredients, the principal ingredients are: Experience, care, time and pride. It takes all four to provide that smooth, melt-in-your-mouth goodness and clear, sharp taste for which Treasure Cave is known.

The development of blue-veined cheese has a romantic background. It is one of the oldest types of cheese. It was cured in underground caves over 1,000 years ago when neither the use of natural ice or mechanical refrigeration was known where the cheese was made.

Work was being done on blue vein cheese in the United States at the turn of the century. Semi-commercial production began in 1916. Research and development continued at the Bureau of Dairy Industry in Washington, D. C., at Iowa State College and at universities throughout the country. Mr. Felix W. Fredericks, producer of Treasure Cave, became interested in the use of caves because of the work done by the University of Minnesota in curing blue cheese in sandstone caves. During a search for a suitable location he chanced upon an abandoned brewery site in Fairmount, Minnesota, where caves had been dug in the banks of the Straight River about 1854, and as I said before, has grown with leaps and bounds since 1935.

Treasure Cave is the oldest commercial producer of blue cheese in the United States and its territories. Its product is accepted as the standard of quality and the finest blue cheese made anywhere.

Visitors are welcome. People of all ages find interest in a tour through the plant and its caves.

I'm going to tell you more about Treasure Cave next month — but here are some recipes. I know you'll like them.

Haunting Halloween TREATS

By BETTY BARCLAY

Here are some treats that are excellent for a Halloween dinner or party. The reaction will so favorably haunt your memory that you will be certain to provide repeats long after the holiday has passed:

COCONUT CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 pkg. devil's food cake mix
2-3 cup water
2 eggs, unbeat
1-2 cup water
3-4 cup shredded coconut, finely cut

Empty contents of package into mixing bowl. Add 2-3 cup water. Blend; then beat three minutes at medium speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. (Scrape bowl and beaters or spoon often.) Add eggs, blend, and beat 1 minute at low speed of electric mixer or 150 strokes by hand. Add 1-2 cup water gradually. Beat one minute longer at low speed of mixer or 150 strokes by hand. Stir in coconut.

Four batter into two 8-inch round layer pans, which have been lined on bottom with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 30 minutes, or until done.

Spread your favorite 7-minute frosting over top and sides of cake. Cut outline of witch from paper. When frosting is set, follow this pattern, using paint brush dipped in bittersweet chocolate to make figure in center of cake. Four additional cutouts from tip of spoon around top edge of cake, leaving 1/2 inch down sides. Keep cake in cool place until chocolate is firm.

Bittersweet Coating

1 square unsweetened chocolate
1 teaspoon butter or margarine

HALLOWEEN CUSTARD

3 or 3 doughnuts*

2 cups milk (not canned)

1 pkg. orange rennet powder

Set out 4 or 6 dessert dishes. Split doughnuts through the center, flatwise, placing a half, cut side down, in each dessert dish. Warm milk slowly 'til lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of your wrist frequently. When it feels comfortably warm (110°) NOT HOT, remove at once from heat. Stir in entire contents of package or orange rennet powder at one time. Mix until powder is dissolved — not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into dessert dishes. Pour along side of dish so doughnut half will float. Do not disturb while milk sets — about 10 minutes. Chill. Just before serving, put a spoonful of whipped cream in center of each doughnut.

* Plain, sugared or chocolate-frosted doughnuts may be used.

HALLOWEEN MAPLE PECAN PIE

1 baked 9-inch pastry shell

1 1-3 cups (15 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk

2-3 cup maple syrup

1-2 teaspoon salt

1-2 cup chopped pecans

Blend the sweetened condensed milk, maple syrup and salt in a heavy saucepan; mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture begins to boil. Let boil, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens (about 4 minutes). Cool. Add about half the pecans to cooked mixture, saving rest for top. Pour into cooled, baked pastry shell. Sprinkle top with remaining pecans. Decorate with pastry cut-out of pumpkin.

TAPIOCA CREAM IN PASTRY SHELLS

1 egg white
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg yolk
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1-2 teaspoon salt
2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
1-2 teaspoon vanilla
6 orange, left from squeezing breakfast orange juice

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Set aside.

Mix egg yolk with about 1-4 cup of the milk in saucepan. Add tapioca, salt, 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until the mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly — this takes 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour small amount of tapioca mixture gradually on beaten egg whites, blending well. Then quickly add the remaining mixture, stirring constantly (The hotter the tapioca is and the faster it is blended in, the thicker and fluffier the pudding will be). Add van-

Have you ever tried egg salad hot, or at least warm? It's a real treat on toast or toasted English muffins. Use chopped hard-cooked eggs, a bit of onion juice, snipped parsley, chili sauce, mustard, mayonnaise and seasoning to taste for the salad.

Mashed potatoes will stay hot more easily if you heat the milk which is added to the potatoes after mashing. It's always easier to beat the mixture to fluffiness when everything's hot.

Ground nuts or chopped nuts may always be added to ground meat as a good extender to sandwich fillings.

Deviled eggs can be used as a main dish if you prepare them in this fashion:

Place the deviled eggs over cooked broccoli and cover all with cream sauce to which sharp processed cheese has been added. Keep this casserole in a warm oven until serving time.

Quick-cooking rice may be cooked in orange juice with a pat of butter to make a delicious dessert. Blend chopped candied fruit into the mixture if desired and serve warm of cold with cream.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Spanish Noodles (Serves Six)

2 slices bacon, diced
1-2 pound ground beef
1 onion, coarsely chopped

1-2 cup water
2 cups broad noodles
1 (No. 2 1-2 size) can tomatoes
1-2 cup chili sauce

Heat diced bacon, ground beef and chopped onion in skillet and cook until lightly browned. Add remaining ingredients in order given. Cover. When mixture starts to steam, turn heat very low and cook 35 minutes.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

GOOD GONE WRONG
Much in man that is wrong is simply mis-direction. What is really good sets subverted or abused to the point where it becomes evil. Take the sex instinct, for example. There is nothing wrong about that; it is good. For a time the Church got off the track on that subject. It taught that if a man wanted to be really holy he should dwell behind high walls, refuse to marry, live in complete isolation from members of the other sex. It took the Reformation to correct this blunder.

There is nothing wrong, nothing to be ashamed of about the sex instinct. God made us with it. A man once told me that his problem was women. He said that if there were no women in the world he could live a good life! He added that he had often prayed God to take away his sex desire. God wasn't going to answer such a prayer. He created the man with sex desire, wanted him to have it. The desire could not have been evil. What he had done was to mis-direct and abuse something that was basically good.

The Herd
The herd instinct is another example. We were not made for solitude. We were made for togetherness. Some years ago a woman wrote a book with the title, Live Alone and Like It. Hardly had the book hit the stands when she got married! People may live alone but they don't like it. We were intended by God to live with others in families and to be associated with larger groups as well. Sin enters the picture when we pervert this crowd instinct into cowardly compromise—that is, when we want to be like the crowd no matter what the crowd is like.

Consider the criminal urge itself. What is that if not creativeness gone wrong? Think of the famous Brinks robbery of a number of years ago, a robbery that turned out to be as lucrative as an embezzlement. This crime has never been solved. Think of the meticulous planning this notorious escapade required. Think of the considerable executive ability someone must have had to plan this hazardous enterprise and carry it out, all with such perfect timing. The man who masterminded this crime must have been a managerial genius. Some

District Lay Leader Will Be Speaker At Beach Meth. Church

Charles M. Early, Lay Leader of the Norfolk District Methodist Church, will be the speaker at the morning worship service of the Methodist Church next Sunday. His subject will be "The Time for Decision." His message will mark the observance of Laymen's Day, an observance that will be general in Methodist churches Oct. 17. The adult choir under the direction of William Miller will provide special music for the occasion.

Mr. Early is Protestant Co-Chairman of the Norfolk chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and is a member of that body's national board. He is a past president of the Wesleyan of Epworth Church, Norfolk and formerly served the congregation of that church as Superintendent of its Church School and Chairman of its Official Board. He is a 32nd Degree Mason and a member of Kiwanis.

The evening service, 7:30 o'clock, will be held in the social hall of the church. Mr. Lowell will continue his messages on "What Christians Believe." His topic Sunday evening will be "Jesus, Christ." A busy question hour follows each of these messages. Those present are invited to question the speaker and many have been doing so. A fellowship hour comes at the end of the service which will be sponsored this week by members of the Youth Fellowship.

Here's How Much a High School Diploma Is Worth in Dollars and Cents

Almost lost in the thousands of pages of statistics recently released in the Federal Census of Population was an analysis showing the relation of schooling to income.

The figures show that the average man with a high school diploma earned 28 per cent more than a man who only had grammar school education. The actual figures reveal that a high school graduate averages $3,285 a year against only $2,533 for a grammar school graduate. What's more — a man with only one to three years of high school earns considerably less than one who completes his studies there.

Aside from the higher income and self-confidence that come with a high school diploma, the door is opened to a college degree. The same government study shows that college graduates earn an average of 42 per cent more than grammar school graduates.

Educators are concerned over the large numbers of teen-agers dropping out of high school, because later on they will find that the lack of a high school diploma is an almost insurmountable handicap as far as better jobs are concerned. As a result, many men and women, unable to attend the classes, are completing their high school education in spare time.

Mrs. Taylor To Head Census Of Agriculture

Appointment of Mrs. Isabel E. Taylor of Norfolk as a crew leader for the 1954 census of agriculture was announced this week by Field Supervisor Walter G. Andrews, Jr.

Mrs. Taylor will direct a force of 12 enumerators who will canvass all farms in Norfolk County. She reported on Monday to the agriculture census field office at Richmond for a week of training.

The crew leader is one of the key people in the field operations of the Census of Agriculture. It is his responsibility to train the enumerators and supervise their work, plan and allocate work assignments, review the work of the enumerators and take remedial action where necessary, and to conduct difficult enumerations.

The census will start November 4.

Virginia Quality

Above is the label approved by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce to be placed on a list of Old Dominion products. In an effort to "cash in" on the good name of Virginia and at the same time further publicize the state.

First use, as noted last week, will be on this year's apple crop, only the most select fruit selected to carry the red, white and blue sticker. It will go on boxes, baskets or consumer packages in addition to the brand name.

Virginia Department of Agriculture advance men have been visiting wholesalers and retailers in principal outlet cities for Virginia fruit for two months now, telling them about the label and advising where apples carrying it can be obtained.

The idea of the label is to build a reputation for the "traditional quality" of Virginia apples, and only top quality apples will be eligible — those graded U. S. Fancy or better.

Pineapple Nut Bread Will Give Meals Added Sparkle

A "Special" Treat for the Lunch Box or—Quick and Easy For an Afternoon or Evening Snack

Versatile is the word for Pineapple Nut Bread. It fits into every eating occasion — from lunch box to party fare. Any meal, no matter how simple, can be turned into something of real elegance with a delicious fruit-nut bread.

All quick-bread batters — like muffins — should be stirred as little as possible — never beaten. Batter should look lumpy — not smooth.

Good in its own right, Pineapple Nut Bread requires only the simplest of fillings. Delicious just "battered" or spread with cream cheese.

PINEAPPLE NUT BREAD

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1-2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins
1-2 cup walnuts, coarsely chopped
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 No. 1 flat can (1 cup) crushed pineapple, not drained
1 teaspoon soda

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into bowl. Add raisins and nuts. Combine egg, vanilla and shortening; add to mixture. Dissolve soda in pineapple and add. Stir just until blended. Pour into greased 8 x 4 x 4 loaf pan and bake at 350° (moderate) about one hour, or until done. Cool on rack.

After the United States purchased the Danish West Indies in 1917, the name was changed to Virgin Islands.

Parked Cars Are Death Traps

More than one-quarter of all elementary and junior high school children killed or injured in traffic accidents are run down because they darted from behind or between parked cars, John B. Dey, vice president of the Tidewater Automobile Association, declared this week.

"If this terrible toll is to be cut," Mr. Dey warned, "we must constantly remind youngsters in this age group that they must never enter the street near a parked car."

The school safety poster for October, which has been distributed to schools throughout the area by the TAA makes this appeal to all school children by urging them to "Keep From Between Parked Cars." The poster is a part of the regular monthly traffic safety education material supplied by the AAA club.

The original poster design was made by LaPrenda Ebert, a 15-year old student at Anderson High School, Anderson, Ind. The colorful poster was awarded a first place in the secondary division of the 10th National AAA Safety Poster contest, and was reproduced for nation-wide distribution by the American Automobile Association and its affiliated clubs.

"This month," Mr. Dey said, "teachers are emphasizing the danger of walking between parked cars. But parents also should talk to their children about this safety problem, and periodically give them further reminders throughout the year."

Oberlin College in Ohio was the first college to confer degrees on women.

GET STAINS OUT BEFORE STORING CLOTHES
On all clothing to be packed for next year's wearing, be sure to get the stains out now. Stains of outspit, mustard, berries and even grass are particularly difficult to remove once they are "set." Body oil stains on the inside collar are impossible to remove without special treatment and also will pick up dust in storage if they are not covered.

Sanderlin Leads "Seahawks" to 19 to 6 Win Over Smithfield

By Emanuel Kahan

George Sanderlin showed the way Saturday night at the Virginia Beach football stadium and led his Seahawk team to a convincing 19 to 6 victory over the Smithfield Packers. The game was postponed from Friday night due to Hurricane Hazel.

The win gave the Seahawks a conference record of three victories, one tie and one loss.

Sanderlin opened the scoring Saturday night in the second period on a crisp cross play that carried 25 yards. With a few minutes remaining before the half, quarterback Tom Barnes carried over from the two yard line. The half ended with Virginia Beach out in front by a score of 12 to 0.

Jimmy Buell of the Packers opened the second half by scoring on a 54 yard jaunt from a screen pass play. The Seahawk wall surged through to block the extra point attempt.

In the fourth period Sanderlin passed to end Morris Jester for another Seahawk score. Horst Flora booted the extra point to make in 19 to 6 in favor of Virginia Beach.

The Seahawks invade Great Bridge Friday night in what looms as one of the toughest games the locals will play this year. It is expected that many Seahawk fans will journey to Great Bridge.

Studebaker Offers

3 New Engines In 1955 Models

Greater horsepower from a choice of three completely new engines - a luxurious new President model that will appeal to the most discriminating buyers - and a new Commander V-8 are features of the new 1955 Studebaker passenger car models that are on display today at Brooks Shorter Motor Co., Inc., Studebaker dealer in Virginia Beach.

Studebaker engineers have been able to achieve high horsepower with relatively small cylinder displacement by making the greatest possible use of each fuel charge. The result is a line of high-horsepower engines that are as economical to operate as are most engines with much lower horsepower.

Engines in all Champion models have been stepped up to 101 horsepower to make the economical Champion the most powerful six-cylinder car in the lowest price field.

Commander models will have a new V-8 engine with 140 horsepower that has been over three years in development. One of its outstanding engineering features is a bore of 2 1/8 inches, with a stroke of only 2 13-16 inches. This engine, with a displacement of 224 cubic inches, is expected to be one of the smoothest operating power plants known in the V-8 field.

A powerful new President model engine, also a V-8, will develop 175 horsepower, to make it the outstanding power plant in the medium price range. It will have a four-barrel carburetor, large intake manifold, and will have 259 cubic inches of displacement.

The new President luxury model, brought back to the Studebaker line after a 12-year absence that started with wartime restrictions, will embody the finest appointments, and the famed Studebaker craftsmanship that has been a tradition for 102 years. It will be available in Deluxe and State 4-door sedans, and in the State hard-top convertible and 5-passenger coupe.

Eight solid colors in exciting new hues, and eight appealing two-tone combinations will be available.

A massive front grille and much larger bumpers, front and rear, on all models, accentuated by a restyled hood line, will give Studebaker a distinctive appearance. There will be a more lavish use of chrome ornamentation and stainless steel moldings. Nameplates in either chrome or gold on the rear quarter panels of Commander models will be a new feature.

Q-G writes he has a service-connected disability incurred in Korea and asks if he is entitled to training under Public Law 537

A-Not necessarily. In addition to the disability, the veteran must prove he needs the training to overcome his disability. This need would have to be determined at a session with a U.S. counselor.

Q-Does the American flag always fly over the White House?

A-No. The custom is that the flag is taken down if the President leaves to be gone overnight.

Q-Does the United States Botanic Garden have any particular function?

A-The purpose of the garden is to collect and grow for exhibition and display purposes various vegetable produce of this and other countries. In the building which is 282 feet long and 183 feet wide, with a dome rising to 80 feet, there are about 12,000 species and varieties of plant growth. The building is open to the public daily for use of students, scientists, garden clubs and the public. Information relating to proper methods of growth and culture is furnished free.

Q-What is the Mall in Washington?

A-It is a strip of lawns and trees and flowers two blocks wide with an unobstructed view between the Capitol and the Washington monument, designed by the French engineer Major L'Enfant, who planned the city, and named after the famous Fall Mall in London.

ders and Presidents will designate to accent comfort, and to place these models. functional instruments within All interiors have been restyled close range of the driver. New fabrics for interior trim and upholstery are in materials exclusive to Studebaker. Gold plated hardware will be used in the President State models.

The Champion and Commander models will be available in Custom, Deluxe and Regal body styles. President models will be available in Deluxe and State body styles. Champion and Commander Cosmo station wagons will be available in both Deluxe and Regal body styles.

"This is the most outstanding line of cars Studebaker has ever offered," Mr. Shorter said. "We have available a series of new engines that will satisfy every driving requirement, and our body styling will give the public the kind of automobile they have been asking for. Studebaker in 1955 is the buy of a lifetime."

Prejudices against the automobile died hard. As late as 1904, a "Farmers' Anti-Automobile Society" in Pennsylvania advised its members to patrol the roads on Sundays, shoot at the motorists and threaten them with arrest. In a Texas city, any person riding or driving a horse or any other domestic animal could cause a driver to halt his vehicle simply by raising his hand.

Smitty's Not-So-Silent Partner

Dropped into Smitty's gas station last week and met his new partner who turned out to be a real talker.

"What'll it be?" asked Smitty. Before I had a chance to answer I heard a strange voice "Fill her up! Fill her up!" And there was Smitty's partner - one of those parakeets perched next to the gas pump.

"Teek me a month," Smitty said, "but I finally taught him to say those magic words. It's sure paid off - he's had a good influence on my customers."

From where I sit, Smitty's partner may be good for business - and may get him a few laughs. But when people act like parakeets they're not so funny. For instance, those who keep insisting over and over again that their neighbors shouldn't have a glass of temperate beer with their supper now and then. They're simply repeating their own ideas, without any regard for the rights of others.

J. R. Pritchard

The newly elected president replaces Cecil M. Self, who retired several days ago to devote his time to other business interests. Self succeeded Major Kingsley in the position several years ago.

At the same time it was announced that L. F. Kennedy, resident vice-president at Raleigh, had been elected executive vice-president, succeeding J. C. Wooten, who also retired at his own request.

Miss Goldie M. Lane, assistant secretary of the company since 1952, was elected secretary to fill one of the dual offices vacated by Pritchard.

Pritchard said that it has not yet been determined whether Kennedy, in his new position, will move his headquarters from Raleigh, a central point on the railroad system, to Norfolk.

Miss Lane, who has been in the Norfolk Southern since June 1, 1947, to become vice president of the operations. Most of his experience has been with the Seaboard, which he served in numerous capacities. His railroad assignments have included telegraph operator, agent, dispatcher, chief dispatcher, assistant to superintendent, transportation assistant on staff of operating vice president, general superintendent of transportation, and general manager.

Kennedy, who was general superintendent of the Norfolk Southern at the time of his election as resident vice president two years ago, has spent his entire railroad career with the company or its predecessors. His first railroad position was agent at Fugate Springs from 1907 to 1909. Subsequently, he was agent at Lillingston; dispatcher and chief clerk to the superintendent at Raleigh; chief dispatcher, trainmaster, both with headquarters in Raleigh; division superintendent at Raleigh; system superintendent at New Bern, and general superintendent at Raleigh.

Miss Lane, who has been with the Norfolk Southern for 11 years, is one of the very few women to hold the elective position of secretary on an American railroad. Prior to coming with the company, she held various secretarial jobs. Among other affiliations, Miss Lane is president of the Norfolk-Poquoson Woman's Traffic Club and secretary of the Norfolk Quota Club.

'55 Chevrolets On Display Next Week

The new 1955 Chevrolet will go on display for the first time here on Thursday, October 28, at Clark Chevrolet Corporation. Formal showing of the new models will continue through Friday and Saturday, October 29-30, according to L. L. Clark, local dealer.

A cordial invitation to the public to inspect the new models has been extended by Clark. Reporting on a recent private preview of the new cars, he declared:

"The 1955 model is the most completely new Chevrolet ever made. The details of the car, of course, must remain a secret right up to show day, but I can assure you that the automobile that Chevrolet is about to present to the driving public will prove a sensation."

The local "Show Days" will be timed with the simultaneous unveiling of the new 1955 models at Chevrolet dealerships throughout the United States.

The first Chevrolet was introduced to the American driving public in 1912. In that year the company produced 2,999 vehicles. Since then more than 30 million cars and trucks have rolled off Chevrolet assembly lines onto the roads and highways of America.

Mrs. F. P. Hix
Donates Prize
For Flower Show

While there will be ribbons and prizes for all classes — horticultural and arrangement — in the Virginia Beach Garden Club show "A Garden of Verses," to be held on Wednesday, October 27, in the Panorama Room of the Cavalier Beach Club, there will be a special prize for exhibitors in Section I, Class 1 — those outside garden clubs who are submitting entries by invitation only.

Mrs. F. Preston Hix, of Bay Colony, chairman of the club's first Historic Garden Week Tour last April, has donated a handsome Sheffield silver dish, of a fluted design, to be awarded the winner in this special class.

Decorated with the words, "Elizabeth Harrison Cooke Memorial Award," it is a tribute to her mother, who died in Richmond last July.

Mrs. Cooke was an active garden club member and flower lover all her life. Her daughter, Mrs. Hix, expects to make such a memorial award a yearly feature of the Virginia Beach Garden Club flower shows.

Treated Thinnings from Woodlots Provide Farms with Fence Posts

Two-to-four-inch growth thinned from farm woodlots, once empty old drains, and copper naphthenate preservatives mixed with stove oil, give any farm a supply of enduring fence posts. Defense against virtually everything destructive, the preservatives also protect wooden construction in all farm structures and equipment.

Technicians and forestry experts are working out a scheme to use the 570-a-day dredging of replacing farm fence posts. The plan involves farm woodlot control by cutting less desirable young growth for fencing and treating the posts with the inexpensive naphthenate preservatives to give them longer service life. ## Small Steel Producing States Leaders in Specialized Products

Some relatively small steel producing states are among the leaders in capacity for manufacturing specialized steel products, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Texas, for example, has the largest electric-weld pipe capacity in the United States, although it is a relatively small state. Texas accounts for nearly 34 per cent of this country's 5.5 million ton capacity to produce electric-weld pipe.

California ranks first of the 19 states with concrete reinforcing bar capacity. It has about 20 per cent of the 2 million ton national capacity.

Missouri has the second largest capacity for light structural steel shapes, although it is 16th in ingot capacity.

Connecticut, which ranks 22nd nationally in ingot and total rolled product capacity, accounts for more than 11 per cent of this country's cold rolled strip capacity. In that product Connecticut is outranked only by Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

Wisconsin has more than 11 per cent of the total national capacity for electric-weld pipe, despite its lack of steel ingot capacity.

There are 31 states with plants in the steel industry. The fifteen leading steel-making states are: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, New York, Maryland, Alabama, California, West Virginia, Utah, Kentucky, Indiana, Texas, Colorado and Minnesota.

Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana each have capacity for 18 major finished steel products. Six states have capacity to produce ten or more products. They are Alabama, Colorado, Maryland, Michigan, New York and West Virginia, in alphabetical order.

New York manufactures 15 of the 18 products. Alabama has facilities to make 14 products, and Maryland makes 12.

Colorado has capacity for 11 products, ranks third in rail-making. Both Michigan and West Virginia have capacity to manufacture ten products. Michigan ranks second in cold rolled sheet capacity.

Delaware makes plates and electric-weld pipe; Florida produces both plain and galvanized wire; Nebraska makes electric-weld pipe and plain wire; Oklahoma and Virginia each have capacity for hot rolled bars and concrete reinforcing bars.

Oregon and Rhode Island have capacity for three major steel products. Iowa, Kentucky, Ten-

Beach Garden Club To Hold 1st Officially Sponsored Show

By KAY D. SEWELL

"Nature is all, it is still the grand agent in making poets." — Carlyle.

The Virginia Beach Garden Club elected only last year to become a member of the nationally recognized Garden Club of Virginia, will hold its first officially sponsored flower show in the Panorama Room of the Cavalier Club on Wednesday, October 27, between three and ten p. m.

Entitled "A Garden of Verses," this show promises to be noteworthy not only because it is the first Virginia Beach Garden Club show thus sponsored, but because of the imaginative spirit behind the show, which should make its exhibits extremely interesting and quite frequently — even witty.

There will be ribbons there will be prizes. Other garden clubs in the Virginia Beach and Princess Anne areas have been invited to participate, as well as clubs in Norfolk, Suffolk, Newport News, Richmond and Petersburg. Prizes will be awarded the winners of the most blue ribbons, and a special prize to the winner in Section I, the special class for outside garden clubs by invitation only.

The horticultural classes, Sections A through F in the program, will take in specimen roses, dahlias, chrysanthemums, marigolds, asters and miscellaneous garden flowers. Containers will be furnished by the Virginia Beach Garden Club.

It is in the arrangement classes, however, that the club's imaginative spirit gets into full swing — and incidentally, entries will be judged primarily for originality.

The Classes

The classes are as follows:

SECTION G —

Class 1—"Rose, thou art the sweetest flower." An arrangement of roses suitable for a hall table.

Class 2—"As white as the sails at sea." A line arrangement of white flowers in a white container.

SECTION H —

Class 1—"Tis little but 'tis all I have." A miniature arrangement of flowers not to exceed three inches in any direction.

Class 2—"Fruits are acceptable gifts because they are the flowers of commodities." An arrangement of fruit; may be combined with flowers, foliage and/or vegetables. Fresh plant material only.

Class 3—"What is lovely never dies." An arrangement of dried material. Background permissible; accessories allowed.

Class 4—"Tortured by storms to shapes as rude as serpents interlaced." An arrangement using driftwood. Accessories allowed.

Class 5—"The little foolery that wise men have makes a great show." An arrangement made by the man of the house. Accessories allowed.

SECTION I —

(Special class for outside garden clubs by invitation only.)

Class 1—"The tissue of the life to be, we weave with colors all our own." An arrangement using analogous color harmony, against green backgrounds 36 inches by 23 1/2 inches, with textures permitted.

Backgrounds

All other arrangements will be placed against green backgrounds 12 by 12 inches, or 24 by 24.

Norm Smith On School Program

Norman Shaw Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith, Jr., 36th St. and Holly Road, Virginia Beach, Va., has been chosen to participate in a special academic program for the freshman year at the University of North Carolina, where he is now a student.

This special program is designed for superior students. The 25 students invited to participate were selected from the entire freshman class after a careful study of their high school records and the scores they made in placement tests.

It is considered a high honor to belong to this group, and the program offers an unusual educational opportunity to its members.

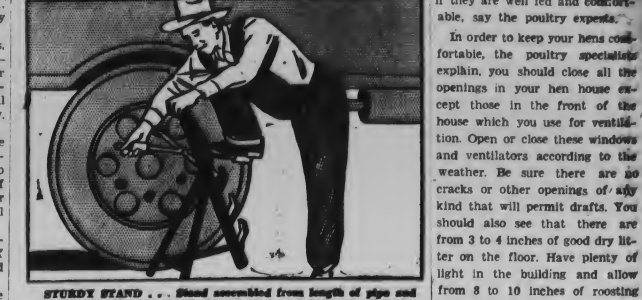

This group of students will be together as a class in the subjects of English, mathematics, philosophy and social science. These subjects will be taught by four distinguished professors who have a lively interest in undergraduate teaching.

The level of the courses will be adjusted to the superior ability of the students and the four subjects will be related to each other where possible, so as to form an integrated course of study for the freshman year.

Comfortable Hens Lay More Eggs Top Dress Pasture Now, Says Hart

By JOHN O. HART
County Agricultural Agent

Your hens will be much happier, and they will produce more eggs if they are well fed and comfortable, say the poultry experts.

STURDY STAND . . . Stand assembled from length of pipe and scrap steel supports one end of a wheel wrench and make it easier to apply extra leverage when loosening and tightening nuts or caps screws on a truck wheel.

In order to keep your hens comfortable, the poultry specialists explain, you should close all the openings in your hen house except those in the front of the house which you use for ventilation. Open or close these windows and ventilators according to the weather. Be sure there are no cracks or other openings of any kind that will permit drafts. You should also see that there are from 3 to 4 inches of good dry litter on the floor. Have plenty of light in the building and allow from 8 to 10 inches of roosting space for each bird.

If your birds are more than 7 months old and are producing less than 55 eggs per 100 birds, it may be advisable to use artificial lights in your hen house to "lengthen" the short winter days to 13 or 14 hours. It is pointed out.

FORT STORY NEWS

"Hazel" Passes By

This post at the exposed tip of Cape Henry again got a lucky break from the elements as Hurricane Hazel roared through the Carolinas and Virginia. Story suffered only minor damages, although — like Virginia Beach — it was lightless for seven hours because of broken power lines between that city and Norfolk which sustained harder blows from Hazel.

"Mike" Installation Almost Ready for Personnel

Story's "Mike" installation, the first of eight guided missile sites in the Tidewater area, will be occupied by operating personnel sometime in December. It was announced this week. Col. John W. Chealey of the Norfolk District Engineer's Office, said the first missile could be fired early next year. Another spokesman said that the Story site might be used as a testing or firing range because of the safety factor provided by the ocean. The installation, which cost $350,000, is about 70 per cent complete.

Logistics Deputy Staff Chief Addresses Officers at Eustis

The Army's Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Lt. Gen. Wilston B. Palmer, visited Ft. Eustis this week to address key officers.

Colonel and Mrs. Deagle Feted by Friends

Earlier in the week, Colonel and Mrs. Deagle were feted by a surprise dinner at the Fort Story Officers mess given by their friends on the post. The occasion was the Deagles' 20th wedding anniversary, and the couple was presented with a pair of handsome vases as a gift from their well-wishers. These included Lt. Col. and Mrs. Frederick G. Ward and their daughter, Mary Ann; Lt. Col. and Mrs. Lauriston A. Fox; Lt. Col. and Mrs. James F. Wolaver; Maj. and Mrs. Truman P. Lambert; Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold P. Baker; and Capt. and Mrs. Robert H. Schwarz.

Farewell Party Honors Col. Deagle's Mother

The Colonial Room of the Officers Mess was the scene of a farewell tea for Colonel Deagle's mother, Mrs. Ida M. Deagle, who returned this week to her home in Arlington, Mass., after visiting the Deagles for several weeks. The tea, given by Mrs. Deagle's daughter-in-law, was attended by members of the Fort Story Officers' Wives Club.

What Happens To Your Food Dollar?

ONE DOLLAR

A question many of us have asked during the past few years is what actually happens to our food dollar. Taking as an example domestically produced foods, the Grocery Manufacturers of America have recently completed an analysis of the 1953 cost of the family "market basket" as reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Paul S. Willis, President of GMA, tells us that prices are holding firm at present, with no drastic changes . . . up or down . . . expected in the grocery basket.

In 1953 the farmer received an average 45 cents of our food dollar to cover costs and profit of producing raw agricultural products. The remainder, or "spread," of 55 cents covers the bulky essential food items all along the Life Line of America—in transforming the raw crop into a food in the grocery basket—research, transportation, processing, wholesaling and retailing.

The largest cost among these services was wages and salaries—37 1/2 cents of the food dollar (half of the entire spread). Another 6 1/2 cents went for transportation cost, and 4 cents for manufacturing and distribution. All remaining expenses, including share farm, packaging materials, rent, depreciation, etc., amounted to 14 cents. This left only 3 cents of the consumer's food dollar as the combined net profit of the processor, the distributor, and the retailer.

With public service, and garden areas in mind," Mr. Haddaway said, "plant in three phases: the first being lawn and trees, the second being basic shrubs, and the third being ornamental plants."

The meeting of the Princess Anne Zone of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, 18th Street near Atlantic Avenue, Virginia Beach, Va., October 13, 1954 at 10:30 a.m. The president, Mrs. Gail B. Jackson from Salem Methodist Church, Princess Anne County, presided.

The meeting was called to order by the reading in unison the Purpose of the W.S.C.S. The worship service was conducted by the Rev. C. Stanley Lowell, minister of the host church. The theme for the meeting was, "Jesus Christ The Way."

Mrs. G. E. Snell, president of the W.S.C.S. at Virginia Beach gave most cordial words of welcome.

There was the usual business session, roll call of churches with a very good delegation, reports of each president—giving accomplishments of each society since the New Year in June.

Mrs. Jackson appointed a nominating committee to select candidates for office beginning the two-year term in April 1955. Mrs. John Wood from Buck Grove was named as chairman of the committee with Mrs. W. W. Johnson from Community and Mrs. A. N. Holmes of Virginia Beach.

Mrs. C. Stanley Lowell rendered a vocal solo, accompanied on Monday at the Sir Walter Hotel. Ethridge, organist of the church.

At the luncheon session Mrs. H. M. Woodward, president of the Norfolk District W.S.C.S. introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. S. K. Emurian from the Bayside Presbyterian Church of Chesapeake, Virginia.

Mrs. Emurian gave "Echoes from Emurian," her most interesting and inspiring experience at the Assembly of World Council of Churches in the summer.

The Day Apart Observance will be at Park Place Methodist Church, Norfolk, October 29, 1954 from 11:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. World Community Day will be observed in Princess Anne at the Bayside Presbyterian Church Nov. 5, 1954. Women of all faiths are invited to attend.

The meeting of the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs will be held to-night October 21st, 1954 at 11:00 a.m. at John Marshall Hotel, Richmond. Reports and plans for the year will be presented those attending from Tidewater District will be: Mrs. Gustav Schneider, District President; Mrs. A. H. Culpepper, Secretary; Mrs. D. C. Heath, Historian; Mrs. G. T. Mitchell, Director; Mrs. T. A. Hodges, Director; Mrs. William Behrend, Committee Chairman; Mrs. A. D. Olsiny, Committee Chairman; Mrs. G. B. Rice, Committee Chairman; Mrs. T. E. Ritter, Committee Chairman.

Plan For Future Speaker Advises Garden Club

A definite long-range plan, worked out on paper, ever mindful of the architectural design of the house and the contours of the land, was the theme of a lecture by Mr. L. S. Haddaway, Jr., member of the Cavalier Garden Club at their luncheon meeting Monday at the Sir Walter Hotel. "With public service, and garden areas in mind," Mr. Haddaway said, "plant in three phases: the first being lawn and trees, the second being basic shrubs, and the third being ornamental plants."

Beta Clubs May Affiliate With National Group

A called meeting of the members of the Beta Clubs of Oceana, Crockett and Kempsville was held recently at the Princess Anne High School cafeteria to discuss the possibility of changing the Beta Club to an honor society.

Mr. W. C. Campbell, principal of Norview High School, spoke on the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Beta Club membership is designed mainly for recognition of outstanding students in rural schools while the National Honor Society carries prestige on a nation-wide basis.

The Society has more than four thousand chapters extending to every state in the union, as well as China, Puerto Rico, Argentina, Mexico, Hawaii, Panama and Alaska. Its history dates back to 1921, when it was formed in Pittsburgh, Pa. It has since become known in all parts of the world for its promotion of citizenship and leadership. In the last nine years the organization has awarded over $60,000 in scholarships.

A committee composed of Dr. Carson, Robin Clair, Jean Ray Bryant, Larry Valentine, Eddie Barnea, Ernest Seneca and Harry Mote was selected by the members, and this body will investigate the advantages carried by National Honor Society affiliation and attend a meeting of the Norview chapter.

Mutual Federal Offers Many Types Of Home Loans

Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Association is a part of the Federal Savings and Loan system established by Act of Congress on June 12, 1933. Purpose of that act was to provide local mutual savings institutions in which people may invest their funds and to provide for the financing of homes.

The savings of each individual member of the association are automatically and permanently insured against loss up to $10,000 by Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the United States government.

Mutual Federal is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank, a reserve and credit system established and controlled by the government, which also provides supervision and periodic examinations of all institutions of this type. The bank system adds liquidity by making it possible for us to obtain large sums of money quickly and at low rates.

Investments of the association are limited by law to loans secured by first liens on real estate (almost all on homes and repayable in monthly payments which include taxes); to home improvement loans; to securities of the United States government; and to stock in the Federal Home Loan Bank.

Accounts here are non-assessable, and are always worth 100 cents on the dollar. No withdrawal fee or other penalty may be charged by the association.

Our savings plan is extremely flexible — accounts may be opened with a convenient amount and added to with any amount at any time. To open a new savings account, you merely fill in a signature card and receive a pass book, in which to enter additions and withdrawals. Liberal earnings on your savings account are credited and compounded twice yearly.

Accounts may be opened in the by two or more parties. A man and wife for example, may have an account in the man's name, another in the wife's name, and a third held jointly, with each of the three accounts insured to $10,000. Accounts of children are usually opened jointly with one of the parents or other relatives. Earnings are paid on savings accounts on June 30th and December 31st of each year. The rate is fixed every six months. Since the institution is completely mutual all earnings other than those paid our members are added to reserves and surplus. Earnings are computed on a monthly basis—all funds received up to the 10th of any month earn from the first of that month if left to the end of the earnings period.

Economical Mortgage Loan Plan

If you plan to buy, build or remodel a home, or refinance an old mortgage, we invite you to come here for money or advice. Your loan can be made on a long term basis, repayable monthly, like rent. And the monthly payments may include everything — interest, principal, taxes and insurance. There are no delays, no red tape. You will get prompt service from friendly people. Each detail of your loan and its term will be arranged for your convenience.

Savings and home financing institutions like ours originated the "amortized" home payment plan many years ago. This safe, easy plan of paying for a home reduces the mortgage gradually over a period of years, until it is completely cancelled. Costly mortgage renewals are unnecessary.

Our plan gives you a low-cost, worry-free method of financing and enjoying home ownership. Interest is computed monthly on the unpaid loan balance; therefore, interest paid is reduced every time a payment is made.

Established in 1939, Mutual Federal has grown to become Virginia's largest savings and loan association, with assets in excess of $31,000,000.

Did you know that one-third of the 66,000,000 licensed drivers in this country are women? They don't average as great distances in a year as men do, but their driving is certainly essential to American family life.

Shopping, taxiing to school, trips to the doctor's are the three most frequent reasons listed in a recent survey why women drive the family car. In some places, especially in the suburbs, they are apt to have it from 75 percent to 90 percent of the time and many homes have been built in rural areas because a woman driver made it possible.

Since many women have the use of family cars in the daytime, more and more wives are taking over the responsibility of seeing to the care and the servicing of automobiles. This is a serious responsibility since it affects their families' safety and their cars' efficient operation.

When you take over the duty of "tending to" the car, make it a habit to plan for regular check-up and care, just the way you plan for visits with the children to the doctor and dentist. Use the same service man, whenever convenient. It's a good idea to take your car to the new car dealer who sold it to you. Not only does he know your car best, but he'll keep records on its care and be in a position to give you a better trade-in deal when you're ready for a new car.

TV School Aid Is Possibility

The traditional use for school state aid money—to help the local district pay the teacher's salary or to hire the school bus is being encroached on by more modern twists, according to a new study published today by the Tax Foundation.

In many cases, says the research organization's survey, the local School Financing 1950-1954, "it (state aid) has been expended to include kindergartens and junior colleges (and) the most recent development contemplates the use of TV as an educational medium—with programs beamed from state constructed stations."

Such departures from the traditional uses of state aid monies, says the study, highlight the necessity for better citizen evaluation before the adoption of any new educational programs.

Race For Funds?

That state school aid is growing in importance is indicated, the study shows, by the case of New York State. There, the recommended aid for public schools for 1953-1954 comprised over one-quarter of total appropriations in the state's general fund.

Moreover, notes the Foundation, state taxation for public school purposes is approaching (or may have reached in some states), a point where it "comes into critical competition with other state services (highway, welfare, etc.) desired by the general taxpayers."

TRAFFIC QUESTION

How long should you pause at a stop street?

Laws differ, but you'll be safe if you wait "until traffic clears." If you're behind another car, stop at the street line. Don't barge ahead and across when car ahead of you does; the law says you must honor the stop street independently.

Automatic transmissions mean you don't have to shift gear at stop streets, a joy to the woman driver. If your car tends to stall at such times, have it checked by a trained mechanic. The new car dealer who handles your make of car knows its mechanism best.

Most important, always honor a stop street. It's dangerous not to, because the fellow coming the other way counts on the fact that a stop street tells you to wait for him.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

By C. Stanley Lowell Minister,
Virginia Beach
Methodist Church

A BELIEVING ANIMAL

Someone has described man as a "believing animal." Certainly he is a believer. He is incurably religious.

If religious interest of one kind is suppressed, it will soon appear in some other guise. Sometimes men bow religion out the front door only to welcome it at the back. The Soviets espoused atheism, then conjured up a new trinity of Marx, Lenin and Stalin. They spurned religion as "the opium of the people." Yet they make the most fantastic promises to their prospective adherents and Marx' teaching about the ultimate ideal anarchy his system would bring, outdoes any teaching about heaven.

Welcome the Irrational

For a time people worshiped science, making that a substitute for traditional religion. They believed its gadgets would make work unnecessary, that its therapies would cure all disease and that its inventions would satisfy all wants. But science as a religious cult is now pretty thoroughly discredited. It claimed too much.

In sharp reaction, man's religious expression has swung away from reason and the rational. Recent years have witnessed a mushrooming of strange cults. The more chimerical their teachings and the more eerie their rites, the stronger their appeal. There are many of these cults and their names are known. Their appeal is not confined to the ignorant. Many times they are able to interest the highly intelligent and the well trained.

Men are not only returning to religion. They are returning to religion on its bizarre excursions. Search for Something

There is a spiritual hunger, a spiritual groping such as there has not been in a generation. The evidence accumulates. We see it in the millions of alcoholics, eloquent examples of the spiritual thirst of our time. We see it in the rising tide of mental illness which supplies the occupants for over half of this country's hospital beds. We see it in the passion for security which has made anxiety over one's declining years almost an obsession.

Communism's appeal is in part. It may be that people accept Communism in the cynical hope of what it will get them. But there is a spiritual craving in it, too. People are wistfully, eagerly seeking something that will fill the void.

The throngs that followed Hitler were quick victims of his mesmerism because they were hungry seeking a fulfillment.

There are many evidences, but the hunger is one. In a parish I formerly served a group of people waited on me one day to inquire if we might have a prayer meeting in our church. The request almost stunned me. Churches had been dropping prayer meetings from their schedule for years. Here were church people asking if they might have one. There is a new day in church work as many of us have learned.

Which?

There is a return to religion. It is not a question of whether we shall have a faith. The only question is: Which faith will it be? St. Paul gave an answer that deserves consideration. "There are many gods and many lords," he wrote. (How true that is!) "Yet for us there is one God, the Father, from whom are all things and through whom we exist, and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things and through whom we exist."

Why should we seek an answer more complex and blurrier? To meet Christ in personal encounter—to find in Him cleansing and guidance—this is to discover the fulfillment of life. The psychopath Hitler came to bestride the world. The Communists, cunning and diabolical, come to tyrannize and exploit the world. Christ has come to save the world. Cults may come and cults may go, but He comes on forever—a saving, healing power. In Him there is no hanover, no wretched aftermath of disillusion! Seek and find—in Him.

Prayers Asked During Week For United Nations

This week, October 18-24, has been designated United Nations Week. The Layman's Movement for a Christian World has asked all Christian people to pray every day at 10:30 a. m. for the United Nations and the Cause for World Peace.

A community-wide service will be held tomorrow, Friday, October 22, at 11 a. m. in the Galilee Episcopal Church.

Mr. Wallace Haynes, associate director of the International Christian Leadership organization and its Breakfast Clubs of men, will be the speaker. Haynes spends two-thirds of every year in Europe and has led to the development of many groups in other countries. He will tell much of great interest about what is happening in Europe. The members of all churches are most cordially invited to attend.

Flowers will keep longer if the leaves below water are removed. Decaying vegetable matter poisons the water.

Rev. Eastman At Eastern Shore Chapel Sunday

The Rev. Reginald W. Eastman, rector of the Ware Episcopal Church of Gloucester, will conduct services at the Eastern Shore Chapel on Laskin Road this coming Sunday, October 24. He will celebrate the Holy Communion at 8:00 a. m. and will conduct morning prayer and sermon at 11 a. m. The Rev. Mr. Eastman is a former rector of Galilee Episcopal Church and minister in charge of Eastern Shore Chapel. On the Sundays October 31, November 7 and November 14 no 8:00 a. m. services of Holy Communion will be held at Eastern Shore Chapel. The service will be resumed on Sunday, November 21.

Revival At Church Of God

Revival services are now being held at the Church of God, at 620 14th Street, Rev. Paul J. Eare is pastor of the church, with Rev. Eagle-McCain as evangelist. The services are held nightly beginning at 7:30, featuring full gospel preaching and singing.

For The Night of Witchery

Glowing witches, scowling black cats, grinning pumpkins and surprisingly happy little bats—these cardboard cut-outs, available almost everywhere, make most effective and inexpensive decorations for your Halloween party.

Cup cakes, decorated with these same symbols of the night of pranks, will carry out the theme of your decorations and delight the small fry. Cup cakes, or other light food might be enough to serve with a good beverage.

After a session of playing games, ducking for apples and trying to bite that elusive apple on a string, nothing will be as popular as good, refreshing drinks. Glasses of pale dry ginger ale and grape juice, mixed half and half, will meet with the approval of your young guests. Ginger ale, by itself, icy cold and bubbling, is always a refreshing drink. Here is an excellent combination of fruit juices to combine with ginger ale for a children's party.

Fruit Ginger Medley
1 cup pineapple juice 1 cup apple juice
1 cup grape juice 1/2 cup sugar syrup
1/2 cup lemon juice Pale dry ginger ale
Combine fruit juices and sugar syrup, blending well. Divide among eight tall glasses, pouring over ice cubes. Fill glasses with pale dry ginger ale.

38,000 Miles Of Roads Will Be Completed In U. S. This Year

About 38,000 miles of roads and highway construction, requiring an estimated 1,500,000 tons of steel products, will be completed this year, the American Iron and Steel Institute estimates on the basis of Bureau of Public Roads data. That road-building mileage is 30 per cent more than in 1953. A further increase is expected in 1955, when about $4.6 billion will be spent for 45,000 miles of construction.

Steel consumption for the 38,000 miles of road-building in 1953 was 1,500,000 tons, largely in the form of concrete reinforcing steel.

King George VI died February 6, 1952.

THIS LAMP

a new way of life

LIGHT'S DIAMOND JUBILEE celebrates Thomas Edison's invention of the first practical electric light bulb, from which came not only the wonders of the Electrical Era... but an industry which has strengthened, immeasurably, the American tradition of business-management and investor-ownership.

For the lamp was only the beginning. It remained for Edison to find a better filament, improve the dynamo, build a central power station and design a complete system of production and distribution. Had it not been for the financial backing of investors and good business generalship, Edison's lamp might easily have remained just an interesting laboratory experiment.

In the past 75 years, electricity has been put to work... to make life more convenient, in the home... to ease the drudgery of farm work... to raise the production and earning power of people in mills, shops, factories. Electricity has created entire new industries employing millions of people. It has given us many new products and made possible their mass production. Electricity is part of our ships, planes, trains. It is a vital instrument to science and medicine. It protects our nation through radar, it is a strong tool in our national defense.

Men free to invest their time, talents and resources will continue to explore new ways in which electricity can serve more people better. Great as the role of electricity is in our own lives, it will be even greater in the lives of generations to come.

pleasant entertainment which was presented at the Princess Anne Women's Club's 29th anniversary Luncheon at the Pine Tree last Tuesday. Rev. Lowell spoke inspiringly on "Responsible Living" while his wife contributed a group of glowing songs. How nice it is to see Mr. and Mrs. couples congenially interested in each others talents.

Mrs. Russell Chase and Mrs. A. E. Aggersted were two of the really professional models showing Florence Wilson's stunning Fall fashions to the interested young officers' wives at the Breezy Point Club last Thursday. "Jappy" with her platinum-lovely hair-do and Chris with her sleek, chic auburn tresses, always bring forth "ohs" and "ahs" when they step out on a local runway, they're that professional! Jenny Grow Combs recent happy marriage takes her out of the local modeling fashion picture but we'll wager, it won't be long before the Richmond ladies who attend shows there will be seeing the fair Jenny on their fashion runways, now that she's moved to Richmond. We'll all miss her. She has great poise and fashion know-how seldom found in one model.

When Ivy Baker Priest comes to Norfolk on Nov. 19, to be the speaker at the first annual classified service women's club dinner, at the Nansmond, it will be her last speaking engagement before the holidays. She told our Alisbee, on the phone last Saturday, that she can't wait to come back to this area because everyone was so wonderful and cordial to her, her daughter Pat, and her family when they were all here for the Spring Amica Festival. Ivy, lady-treasurer of the United States, is just as comfortable to know as an old shoe is to have about. The Virginia Beach - Norfolk Soroptimist Club will be co-hostesses at this event with the Pilot Club and Quota Club of Norfolk. Bertha Lee Temple, of Lullier Road, president of the Soroptimists, Markuerite Nunnally Brick, president of the Quota Club, and your Alisbee, president of the Pilot Club, will be the co-hostesses of the event.

The group went on record to attend the Americas Town Meeting of the Air at the Center Theater, October 26th, and to dispense with our regular dinner meeting held at the Princess Anne Country Club.

The group will hold a Project party known as a "Shipwreck party" October 23rd, at the American Legion Barge 40 and 8 on Front Street, along side the Old Washington Steamer Dock. There will be a dinner followed by dancing, games and fun. Tickets may be obtained from members only.

Slow Down And Stay Alive Says Chief Johnson

"When the glow goes, whether you're strictly by hoof or on wheels, dig yourself the most man, and cut that chassis juice or you'll be a real gone!"

This cryptic bit of advice in teen-talk was given today by Reeves E. Johnson, Chief of the Virginia Beach Police Department.

Roughly translated, it means, "When you walk or drive after sundown be cautious, take it easy if you want to stay alive."

While Chief Johnson used the current vernacular of young people, his comment is intended for people of all ages, he said.

"Nighttime is dangerous in traffic," he said. "Our Governor's Highway Safety Committee estimates that the mileage death rate in an average year is two to three times as great at night as in daylight."

This is the reason, he said, for the special emphasis given to the theme "Night Traffic Hazards" in the October Traffic safety program.

In 1936 Peter Minuit purchased Manhattan Island from the Indians for $24 worth of trinkets.

ENJOY UTMOST SHAVING EASE AND CONVENIENCE Gillette Super-Speed RAZOR WITH BLUE BLADE DISPENSER AND STYRENE CASE $1.00

help people become more aware of the hazards encountered in driving and walking near traffic after sundown, and to teach the safe practices when they must travel at night.

"Actually," he said, "more people are killed in traffic accidents during the hours of twilight, darkness and dawn than are killed in such accidents during daylight."

"And this fact seems even more significant when it is considered that less driving is done during the hours of darkness."

"In 1953," he said, "more than half of all urban and rural traffic deaths occurred at night."

And the most dangerous time of all is the hours of 5 to 8 P.M., said Chief Johnson. Of all fatal traffic accidents last year, one out of five occurred during these three hours.

"Neither drivers nor pedestrians can see as well after sundown," he said, "and they must compensate for their reduced vision with increased caution if they are to avoid accidents."

The best advice in any night time traffic situation, Chief Johnson said, is contained in the October slogan of the Virginia Beach Traffic Department and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee: "Cut Your Speed after Dark."

FEW DAYS LEFT... Corp. Charles Henderson, former Navy prisoner of war, is comforted by relatives after receiving life sentence for collaboration with enemy.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION TAKES VAST AMOUNT STEEL

Structural steel accounted for more than 48 per cent of the total of all steel consumed in highway construction during 1953. That steel was used mostly in bridges, overpasses and elevated roadways. It included I-beams, T-beams, channels and formed plates.

More than 42 per cent of the steel reported used in highways last year was "reinforcing steel." The two principal forms were concrete reinforcing bars and welded wire fabric.

The purpose of steel reinforcement in the form of bars or fabric, is to control the formation of cracks produced in hardened concrete by temperature changes and the pounding of traffic. By holding the crack widths to a minimum, the steel prevents the pavement from breaking up.

PA COUNTY SETS NEW RECORD IN HOME BUILDING

PERMITS SHOW COUNTY OUTSTRIPPING NORFOLK

Princess Anne County is setting records in the construction field, according to figures released last week by the Builders and Contractors Exchange in Norfolk.

The figures revealed that Princess Anne County is far outbuilding Norfolk City for the past nine months. The report shows that construction in the county valued at $13,363,000 was authorized during the past nine months. In Norfolk City this figure totaled $11,338,542.

In residential building Princess Anne County showed nine-month value total of $12,519,800 as against $9,466,900 for Norfolk City.

F. Mason Canning, county planning engineer, said the home building boom is showing no signs of cooling up as approximately 4,000 new homes are projected or in the early planning stage.

He estimated that the county has been gaining about 1,600 new residents a month since last spring with the result that county school authorities who, a year ago, thought they had enough new buildings planned to see their educational program through for the next several years, are still facing a serious shortage of classroom space.

F. W. Cox, county school superintendent, summarized the situation by saying all of the elementary schools are either filled to capacity or overcrowded, while the new central high school, a $2,000,000 plant on the southeast of the county, probably will reach the inauguration point next fall. Some 1,000 students, 200 of whom are in the county, are now housed in the high school.

The county superintendent, in discussing the state of the school problem, said the two new buildings opened in the Little Creek area and at Bayside in September already are overcrowded.

He said some relief is foreseen from the school building program planned for the next year, but in the interim, facilities of the present system will have to suffice.

Need For TB Hospital In This Area Discussed

Basic needs for a state tuberculosis hospital in southeastern Virginia were discussed at a meeting this week at Old Point Comfort of a special committee of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association with a group of citizens interested in TB control from the lower Tidewater and Eastern Shore communities.

Results of the three-hour discussion will be conveyed to the executive committee of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association at its meeting within the next few weeks. Thomas Pinckney, VTA president declared. He added that the conference this week produced unanimity of opinion on the very real need for a state institution to care for the large number of tuberculosis victims in the Southeastern section.

Attending the Old Point Comfort meeting were: D. F. Barnett, president of the Norfolk-Manassas branch of the VTA; Mrs. Frances Bagg, executive secretary of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of Norfolk - Princess Anne County.

No Action Taken By PA Supervisors On Integration

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors took under advisement at their meeting Monday a request that the board act on a resolution recommended by the Virginia Court Clerks Association on local integration of white and Negro children in the public schools.

The Association's proposed resolution said "integration of the white and Negro races in the public schools is 'essential to the best interests, and contrary to the wishes of both races,' and declared that a system that does not have the approval of the majority of the citizens is 'destined to failure'."

The Board discussed the resolution at some length and decided to table the matter.

The supervisors took no action on a suggested resolution by Board Secretary V. Alfred Etheridge that would permit taxation of improved property for the portion of a year in which the improvements are first occupied.

The county still in search of new sources of revenue, instructed John V. Fontaine, clerk to the supervisors, and Etheridge to investigate whether the hotel to be constructed on Norfolk Municipal Airport property could be a source of tax revenue.

WORKERS SPUR FUND DRIVE TO MEET '54 GOAL

31 Pct. OF QUOTA RAISED, FINAL REPORTS MONDAY

A total of $7,102.22 was reported at the first report meeting of the Princess Anne County - Virginia Beach Community Chest in the current drive to raise $23,000 for the support of Chest agencies.

The first report figures represent 31% of the needed goal and is somewhat less than the amount turned in at the same meeting, in last year's drive. Last year's report showed a total representing 35.6% of the goal. However, General Chairman B. M. Stanton and other Chest workers expressed optimism that the local chest will exceed its goal.

Of the total amount reported Monday night, $5,449.55 was reported from the County Division, and $2,152.67 from the City Division. The remainder, or $1,742.77, was reported from the Special Gifts Division.

At Monday night's meeting, County Chairman V. Alfred Etheridge, called for a report of his area chairmen and Mrs. Paul B. MacLean, chairman of the residential division for Virginia Beach, assembled reports of her area chairmen. Howard S. Brown, chairman of the business division for Virginia Beach, reported for his workers, and Mrs. T. Cornell Berry, chairman for North Virginia Beach, reported for that area.

General Chairman Stanton reminded the workers of the large percentage of the total yet to be realized and urged them to intensify their efforts during the next week. He reminded them of certain points that would carry the Chest over its goal, such as making call-calls, contacting every business, calling on all business establishments.

It was announced that the final report meeting will be held in the Virginia Beach High School next Monday night, November 1. Stanton urged that every worker be on hand at the final report meeting, and he expressed the fact that it would be marked with success if every worker will put forth extra effort during the second and final week of the drive.

The first report meeting closed on a note of optimism when Stanton said, "with such interest and enthusiasm being displayed by all workers, we can't fail."

TO HOLD CONFERENCE HERE

The October Conference of the Association for Research and Development will be held Thursday 28 through Sat.-30. The theme will be "Continuity of Life." Mrs. Stone is the Conference chairman.

Hallowe'en Calls for Special Care By Both Motorist and Pedestrian

Reverend E. Johnson, Chief of Police at Virginia Beach, today gave this warning to local citizens who are preparing to observe the special night with traditional celebrations.

"I mean this advice both literally and figuratively," the Chief said. "Of course safety always should be of primary concern to both motorists and pedestrians, and never should be out of view."

But Hallowe'en brings an even more immediate, practical application to his advice, Chief Johnson pointed out, because at this time so many people, especially children, will be wearing fancy dress costumes and masks.

"These masks can cause a lot of trouble if they cut down the wearer's vision," the Chief declared. "The masks usually are worn after dark which is the most dangerous time of day, traffic-wise, when both drivers and walkers sometimes have trouble trying to see adequately and keep safe. Masks can make the situation even more dangerous."

Also, he said, costumes worn by pedestrian Hallowe'eners sometimes are dark in color and difficult for motorists to see.

"Parents should see to it that their children wear white or light-colored costumes, or that some reflective material is used at least for the trimmings," the Chief said. "This precaution in addition to making sure that masks fit properly and allow normal vision, will do a lot to keep children safe in traffic on Hallowe'en."

The same safeguards should be observed by adults, too, of course, the Chief added. "And everyone should be made aware of the extreme caution required in traffic at a holiday time," he said.

The holiday plans for Hallowe'en night, Chief Johnson said, is to have home or community parties for children and for adults.

He called attention to the night traffic hazards program sponsored in Virginia Beach this month by the Police Department and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee. "Every day of the month, every month of the year, our main means danger in traffic," he said. "And Hallowe'en night, when children are apt to step up the pace for both cars and walkers, the situation of this traffic safety program is particularly applicable: 'Cut Your Speed After Dark.'"

FT. STORY TELLINGS

Key officers of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command B joined the post commander, Col. Edwin A. Deagle, in representing the Fort Story graduation ceremonies of the Norfolk Army Reserve School in that city's Reserve armory. Guest speaker was Maj. Gen. Frank S. Benson, Jr., commanding general of Fort Belvoir, St. Louis, Mo., who is in command of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command which departs in December for a European assignment. Among the 34 Reserve officers receiving diplomas from General Benson for completion of three years of advanced study was Col. Howard P. Leary, a civilian employee in the Ordnance Section at Story. With Colonel Deagle were Lt. Col. Frederick G. Ward and Harold P. Parker, and Maj. Truman P. Lambert.

Four outstanding non-commissioned officers from units of the 5th and 14th Transportation Battalions return this week after completing the week-long Platoon Leaders Course at Fort Belvoir. Designed to relieve the shortage of company-grade officers, the course tests the leadership ability of key NCOs of the first two grades and promotes them for assuming the command responsibilities of lieutenants. Successful completion of it makes them eligible to apply for a reserve commission in addition to enjoying special privileges that go with their distinctive shoulder patch. Story's first four to pass the course are M/Sgt. Vincent J. Davis, 604th T Co.; SFC Raleigh L. Harden, 461st T Co.; SFC William B. Painter, 489th T Co., and SFC Wilbur C. Hinton, 169th T Co.

New Transportation officer for the command is Maj. Martin W. Ramsey of Williamstown, Pa., a veteran of World War II service in the Pacific and China-Burma-India theatres. As a member of the Army Air Force, Major Ramsey saw action with the 1st Combat Cargo Squadron in 1944-45. He replaces Maj. Carl D. Reed who becomes executive officer of the 94th T Battalion.

Officers' wives played officers and beat them 14-13 in a seven inning softball game on the post athletic field Sunday. Even ditching by Col. Edwin A. Deagle couldn't save the day for the gent in this wild and often hilarious contest, complete with peanuts and hot dogs and cold drinks sold by the embattled wives. High spot was a home run hit by Mrs. Clifford H. Johansen whose husband is post billeting officer. The game, played in perfect Indian summer weather, was umpired by Lt. Col. William F. Telken from Fort Belvoir.

Story troops will march today in a ceremonial garrison review honoring Col. Albert S. Baron, a one-time commanding officer of the post, on his retirement after more than 30 years of service. Lt. Col. Frederick G. Ward, post deputy commander, will command the troops and Lt. Col. James F. Wolaver and Lauriston A. Foss will lead their respective battalions, the 5th and 14th.

Post headquarters has a new Sergeant Major, M/Sgt. Elise Babcock, who comes here from the Transportation School at Fort Eustis where he was Headquarters Company first sergeant. Sgt. Babcock, a Purple Heart veteran of World War II, joined the Transportation Training Command after returning from Korea in December 1952. He replaces M/Sgt. Howard J. Baek, who departs soon for reassignment overseas.

Winter uniforms—OD's—became mandatory this week for Story troops, and none too soon. Unseasonable October cold has necessitated firing of buildings and family quarters, and strong winds sweeping Cape Henry have increased the chill.

Bishop Brown at E. Shore Chapel

The Rt. Rev. William A. Brown, retired bishop of Southern Virginia, will conduct the service of morning prayer and sermon at Eastern Shore Chapel this Sunday, October 31, at 11 a. m. ## Junior Women Witness Cooking Demonstration

A cooking demonstration "Kitchen Kapers," highlighted the October program meeting of the Princess Anne Junior Women's Club. Mrs. Frances Farley and Mrs. Ernest Alderman, members of the Junior Club and home economists for the Home Service Department of the Virginia Electric and Power Company, conducted the demonstration at the VEP Company building on Tuesday evening, October 19. The American Home Department, Mrs. Joseph R. Larson, chairman, was in charge of the program.

Miss Farley, home economist at the Virginia Beach office, showed the group how to prepare cream puffs filled with chicken salad, olive cheese slices, and cheese crackerettes. Mrs. Alderman, home economist at the Norfolk office, prepared and cooked deviled almonds, hamburger pinwheels and snax from the roaster.

Following the demonstration, cranberry punch and hors d'oeuvres, similar to those cooked that evening, were served. Mrs. Larson presided at the punch bowl.

The tea table was centered with a large basket filled with fall flowers. The hors d'oeuvres were also served in baskets.

4-H Club Members Start 1955 Baby Beef Project in County

By DECK COCKRELL

Assistant County Agent

On October 26, 4-H Club members who selected to take the Baby Beef project for 1955, met at the Princess Anne Auction Market to obtain their steers. In the county this year six boys and girls are carrying Hereford steers and eight boys are carrying Angus steers.

The following listing gives first the name of the club member, followed by the sponsor, and the weight and breed of the calf:

Eddie Gilbert—Jordan-Hancock—400, Hereford.
Dan Humphries—Bank of Virginia Beach—445, Hereford.
Douglas McConnell—Norfolk Jr. Chamber of Commerce—530, Hereford.
Margaret McConnell—Colonial Stores—400, Hereford.
Wayne Floss—C. & Rogers—Has not received steer.

Jimmy Bealight—Smith-Douglas—530, Angus.

Richard Bealight—Harrell Brothers—445, Angus.

Danny Dudley—National Bank of Commerce—400, Angus.

Walter Humphries—Royster Guano—370, Angus.

Larry Johnson—Kline Chevrolet Sales—530, Angus.

James Barrett—Norfolk Chamber of Commerce—Will select calf from Witch Duck Farm.

Johnnie Williams—Southern States—525, Angus.

Pure Bred Heifer Club

Also for the first time this year we are starting a Pure Bred Heifer Club in which we have four boys taking six heifers. Three of the boys are also listed above in the steer project. Eddie Gilbert has started the project off with the purchase of two Hereford heifers: Richard and Jimmy Bealight with a Hereford heifer each; and Joe Key with two Angus heifers. These club members will show their heifers in the annual show held in Portsmouth in May, at the same show that the steers are shown.

Two of our farmers are really doing a great deal to create interest in the Heifer Club project in so far as A. C. Pinkston of the Land of Freedom Farms will give to the winner of the Hereford

Heifer Club a registered Hereford. To the winner of the Angus Hereford Club, Mr. Wynn and Mr. Mansfield, co-owners of the Mansfield Farms, will donate a registered Angus Heifer. Needless to say, all the boys are working hard with their present heifers to get the other heifer that will be donated.

Our Town Makes Good in New York City

Couldn't place a new subscriber named Clark, but I found out who they were last week when they dropped in The Clarion's office. "We're native New Yorkers," Mrs. Clark said, "and all our friends there are originally from other places. We always felt left out when they talked about things 'back home.'"

"That's why we 'adopted' your town and to get all the news we subscribed to The Clarion. Now we have a 'back home' to talk about—and we think it's the most wonderful town there is!"

From where I sit, just about everyone thinks his own home town is best. Picking your town comes natural. The right to do this "picking," though, is what really counts. Whether it's a favorite town, a favorite out of town, or even a choice of a beverage—may between beer and buttermilk, it's respecting the right to this freedom of choice that makes a good neighbor. I hope you subscribe to that!

TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Three city offices are to be voted on in Virginia Beach Tuesday and it is hoped that, despite the lack of opposition to the Democratic nominees for these offices, a large turnout of voters will respond by going to the polls that day.

The unopposed nominees are Lewis E. Smith for City Treasurer, E. W. Smith for Commissioner of the Revenue, and H. E. Halstead for City Sergeant. All of these men have demonstrated their abilities to hold the offices they now occupy. It would be fitting and proper that a large vote be cast for these men on Tuesday as an indication of the confidence the voters have in them.

Among other offices to be voted on Tuesday by both the city and county voter are those for United States Senate and the House of Representatives. In the latter case, the incumbent Edward J. Robeson is unopposed. In the other, Senator A. Willis Robertson has opposition from an Independent Democrat and a member of the Socialist party.

Senator Robertson has proven himself a very capable representative of the people of Virginia and should be returned to the United States Senate for another six year term. We feel confident the voters of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will give Senator Robertson a large majority in Tuesday's voting. He deserves a solid vote in this area as well as the entire State.

HENRY S. LEWIS

Many expressions of sorrow and sympathy have come forward since the passing of Henry S. Lewis, president of Norfolk Newspapers, last Sunday, and the Sun-News feels deeply the loss of this fine newspaperman and gentleman.

In the death of Mr. Lewis at the comparative young age of 54, we have lost an able newspaper man and business executive as well as a fine citizen, whose good deeds were unknown to many for he was not a man who sought publicity nor desired credit for his work. It was the results that counted with him, not so much who contributed to that end.

Mr. Lewis had been a resident of Virginia Beach for a short time when he and his family moved to North Virginia Beach in 1950. Despite this short period of residence Mr. Lewis became active in his church and other local community projects. He was a man who always carried his many business and civic responsibilities with pride and honor.

At the time of his death he was serving as president of Norfolk Newspapers, Incorporated. He will be sorely missed in that position for much of the growth of that organization was accomplished during the period of his leadership.

As a newspaperman Mr. Lewis will be sorely missed in this area, in the State of Virginia, and in the Nation. We are deeply saddened by his death.

THE AMENDMENT

Next Tuesday voters of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, besides voting for certain officials offices, will also be faced with voting for or against a proposed constitutional amendment concerning county school boards borrowing money from the State retirement fund. We feel the vote on the proposed amendment should be a definite vote of approval of such a change.

The constitutional amendment, if approved by the electorate, would permit the county school boards to borrow money from the retirement fund without the vote of the people. Cities have had this privilege all along and a vote Tuesday in favor of permitting this act of borrowing would merely be placing the counties on equal footing with cities in Virginia.

There has been little, or no opposition to the proposed amendment and we can see no reason why it should not be approved by the voters on Tuesday. Its approval will greatly benefit the various county school boards in their financing when it becomes necessary to borrow money from the retirement fund. It seems only fair that if the cities are in a position to borrow in this way, then the counties should be given equal financing rights.

Elections 1954: A real choice?

The key question about next Tuesday's elections is not who is going to win, but rather what difference will it make who does win? What are the possible effects to us as individuals and on our country in its leading role among the nations of the world? Starting a landslide one way or the other, a most unlikely possibility, the results of the 1954 elections will probably have a minimum of effect on the daily lives of the American people. Chances for important changes in our foreign policy are equally slight.

The prevailing political philosophies portend either continued slim Republican policies in one or both houses of Congress, or the same for the Democrats. Thus the most immediate results of these elections will be the determination of the organization of both houses of Congress. A majority voice in each Congressional committee, a place where all legislation must be approved before it goes to the floor of the House or Senate, goes to the majority party. All the committee chairmanships, positions of tremendous power in the control of these committees, likewise goes to the majority party.

In terms of the individual careers of the politicians involved, this choosing at the polls is of immense significance. For the nation as a whole, however, the difference it would experience between control of Congress by the Democrats or by the Republicans are likely to be small. Should, for example, Harriman or Ives carry New York by a large majority, the victor would become a prize contender for a presidential nomination. F. D. R. Jr., by running ahead of the rest of the New York Democratic ticket, has a fine opportunity to boost his political stature. Should Douglas do very well or very poorly in Illinois, Stevenson's chances for another crack at the Democratic presidential nomination are likely to follow in close correspondence. Vice President Nixon, as the leading heavy duty Republican campaigner and as a future Republican President, may be willing or perhaps even anxious to run for a second term, if at this juncture the electorate grants his Administration a vote of confidence by returning to office members of his party. If the predicted Democratic trend prevails in 1954 Republican party bigwigs will probably swing solidly behind the President, whether he is willing or unwilling to serve again, as their party's only hope. All this, however, is speculation of the somewhat distant future, of 1956. What of these elections and now?

One of the first questions that foreigners to our shores inevitably ask is, what is a Republican and what is a Democrat? Just asking this question and not answering it, is enough to emphasize the fact that there are more similarities than there are differences between the two. The Deal innovations of but twenty years back, acclaimed and vilified as revolutionary, are now a generally accepted part of American life. As late as six years ago Republican orators were reviling the concept of the "welfare state." Yet the first Republican Administration since 1933 is boasting of adding several million highbrowed uncovered people to the social security rolls. It is a Republican President that has introduced a Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare into the Cabinet and that has proposed a nation-wide government backed system of health insurance. Both parties, then, recognize that the responsibility of government towards citizenry is no longer only political, but that its obligations are also social and economic.

This recent expansion of social security coverage indicates that the Republicans are no longer content to merely accept New Deal legislation, stop at that, with the claim that they can more cleanly and more efficiently administer it. They have not only accepted the unpleasant fact of having to live with the "welfare state," but along with the Democrats they are actively promoting it as a political necessity.

Talk of Democrats and Republicans as homogenous groups is, of course, completely misleading. With a moderate Republican in the White House and a G.O.P. Cabinet, however, a so called middle of the road program seems sure to continue for the next two years regardless of which party the voters choose to strengthen at this time.

Left wing Democrats and right wing Republicans combined to kill the Administration sponsored health insurance program. The Democrats felt the bill did not go far enough, while the Republicans backed by the American Medical Association called the bill the first step towards socialized medicine, that new anathema. On the farm question the split was between predominantly rural versus predominantly urban legislators, not at all a party question. During their two year stewardship the Republicans have tightened up and consolidated the government. A Democratic Congress would be prone to expand the role of government, probably providing ever-more services.

With a moderate Republican in the White House and a G.O.P. Cabinet, however, a so called middle of the road program seems sure to continue for the next two years regardless of which party the voters choose to strengthen at this time.

Clark Chevrolet Holding "Open House" At Beach

The Clark Chevrolet Corporation is holding "open house" today, Friday and Saturday to provide residents of the local area an opportunity to view the new 1955 Chevrolet.

L. L. Clark, local dealer, promises a "real thrill" to all who visit the showrooms to inspect the new cars. Said Mr. Clark, "Chevrolet has really produced an automotive masterpiece in its 1955 models, which combine design, color and performance features never before seen by the motoring public. I hope all our friends will call at our showroom to see for themselves what a spectacular new car has been created by Chevrolet."

The local dealer staff will be in attendance all three days to welcome visitors, answer questions and demonstrate the features of the new models. Opinions and outlooks are as varied within these parties as they are between them. This is one of the most important factors mitigating in favor of a relatively harmonious relationship between congress and the President, regardless of the outcome of the elections. Issues that are decided in Congress strictly along party lines are rare to the point of being almost non-existent. Congress can roughly be divided into right, left and center groups with Republicans comprising much of the right, Democrats the left, both parties the middle and some from either party at the other of the two ends.

The Eisenhower program so far has very definitely been what can be called middle of the road. Its deemphasis of public power projects, its budget cutting, its tax cuts, its deemphasis of its failure to lower tariffs or materially increase foreign trade, all have a distinct Republican flavor. Taxes and the defense budget, however, are still terrifically high, as under the Democrats, and there is little prospect for change. As long as the Chicago Tribune doesn't get into the White House and the Soviet Union remains a reality, foreign aid seems here to stay.

Left wing Democrats and right wing Republicans combined to kill the Administration sponsored health insurance program. The Democrats felt the bill did not go far enough, while the Republicans backed by the American Medical Association called the bill the first step towards socialized medicine, that new anathema. On the farm question the split was between predominantly rural versus predominantly urban legislators, not at all a party question. ## A&P Cuts Coffee Prices To Lowest Since March '54

Prior reductions of from four to six cents a pound on three of its own brands of premium-quality coffee were announced last week by the A&P Food Stores - the nation's leading coffee retailer.

These reductions, which became effective last Thursday in all the company's stores throughout the nation, bring all three brands below the dollar mark for the first time since increased wholesale costs sent retail coffee prices surging upward more than six months ago. The new slashes bring the price of 8 O'clock coffee down from 89 to 75 cents a pound; Red Circle goes down to 97 cents from $1.05; and Bonkar dropped from $1.05 to 99 cents a pound.

These reductions are in keeping with the company's long-standing policy of passing along to consumers the benefit of reductions in wholesale costs as soon as possible. A&P's local manager said. Rapidly rising wholesale prices for green coffee earlier this year sent the company's three brands above the dollar mark in March. The peak was reached June 14, when all three sold for the same price of $1.19 per pound.

Under the new reduction program, the company announced that prices in three-pound bags would be: 8 O'clock, $2.97; Red Circle, $2.85; and Bonkar, $2.91.

This brings coffee cost to consumers down to 82, 85 and 97 cents respectively, when purchased in three-pound bags.

The 24-man outfit, under Drillmaster Paul Lee Sutton, boat-wain's mate third class, USN, of Middleboro, Ky., is the "variety" team of the 123-man Ceremonial Guard stationed at the Naval Receiving Station in Washington, D. C.

Monrovia, located 17 miles east of Asheville, N. C., is North Carolina's oldest religious assembly ground, having been operated by the Southern Presbyterian Church since 1906.

Kermit, a rugged 5'11" 180 pound left tackle for Virginia Beach High School played a fine game both on offense and defense last Friday night. He has had three years' experience on the varsity and one year of J. V.

In addition to football, he plays baseball and track. His favorite subject is geometry and he is the sergeant-at-arms in the monogram club.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Scarborough and attends the Methodist Church.

JACK McIVER

Jack McIver, a hard running back for the "Seahawks" played very well Friday night against the Great Bridge "Wildcats." This is Jack's third year on the team and has two monograms to show for his work.

Besides playing football he is on the wrestling and track team. He is also vice-president of the monogram club.

Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McIver who resides at 201 11th street. He attends the Presbyterian church and takes part in many social activities.

Next year Jack plans to go to college and we all wish him lots of luck in the future.

TAKES SIX TITLES

Mrs. Jean McLean Davis, of Virginia Beach and Portsmouth, swept to six victories in the American Royal Horse Show held in Kansas City last week.

Mrs. Davis rode Encore to championships in ladies fine harness and amateur fine harness stakes, and won the junior five-gaited stake with Twilight Walk. She also drove Sashy, owned by Mrs. J. R. Sharp, of Tulsa, to the amateur three-gaited title.

Mrs. Hill Wins PA Club Title

Mrs. J. T. Hill won the ladies club championship Tuesday when she defeated Mrs. Frank Brown- ing, 2 and 1, in the finals.

Other results included Mrs. Herbert L. Smith III, winner of the championship consolation over Mrs. J. A. Porter, 6 and 5. Mrs. W. L. Boggs defeated Mrs. Frank Atkinson, 4 and 3, to win second flight honors, and Miss Sue Brooke won from Mrs. Charles Skinner, 3 and 2, for second flight consolation honors.

WHAT, NO TELEVISION?

Virginia law prohibits installation of television in automobiles at any point where it is visible to the driver.

Churchland Too Powerful for PA Cavaliers

Powerful Churchland crushed the Princess Anne Cavaliers last Friday night by a score of 28 to 0.

The Truickers were just too strong for the Cavaliers. The victors are still undefeated, untied and unscored on for the current season.

Midway the first period quarterback Babe Walton faked back on the Princess Anne 45 and tossed a perfect pass into the arms of end Charlie Dietrich, who was all alone in the Cavalier end zone. Princess Anne stiffened and fought desperately, but the Truickers, forward wall refused to allow them past the midfield stripe.

In the second period the Truickers scored twice. A pass play from Walton to end Arty Ernleth put the ball on the Cavalier two. On the following play Walton planned over for the second Trucker T. D. Churchland's third score came after fullback Johnny Saunders and halfback Kenny Dietrich had run the ball from their own 36 to the Princess Anne seven. Walton once again went thru the middle for the score.

The final touchdown came in the third quarter after left half Tom Moody had carried the ball four straight times, picking up the Cavalier 28. Johnny Saunders bulldozed the final 28 yards into pay dirt.

Baby Seahawks Begin Schedule

The JV football team of Virginia Beach High School has begun its schedule. The following players make up this year's team:

Alfred Muncy, Anthony Katsas, Jimmy Wolcott, Fred Bailey, Bobby Gormly, Jay Wood, James Stewart, Allen Connell, Wayne Morgan, Bobby Crowell, Michael Gregory, E. C. Jones, Paul Gregory, Darrell Tillet, Bill Sykes, Wesley Sykes, Norman Morse, George Meredith, George Ouellette, Davis Gray, Mahone Tarrall, Alden Davis, Joe Wool, Wesley Pallett, Billy Winchell, David Sanderlin, Skippy Rawls, Paul Horn, Billy Culverhouse and Buddy Wooley.

Coach Otis Day has drawn the assignment as JV coach and on his shoulders is the responsibility of teaching the basic fundamentals. The JV has played four games thus far this year and each contest shows marked improvement.

Outstanding in the early games has been Anthony Katsas in the line along with Buddy Wooley and David Sanderlin in the backfield. Playing together and learning how to correct their mistakes, the JV will help in forming the main part of the varsity in future years.

Princess Anne started rolling in the last three minutes of play when fullback John Caddy broke loose from the Truickers and went 24 yards to their 45. Plunges by Andy McQuillan and Bob Campbell put the ball on Churchland's 36. On the next play McQuillan's pass was intercepted by Walton and the Truickers ran the clock out.

Barnes and Holland Shine as Hawks Take Great Bridge 18-0

Two 14-year old bucks stole the thunder from their older teammates last Friday night as the up and coming Virginia Beach Seahawks trounced Great Bridge 18 to 0 before an overflow crowd at the Great Bridge football stadium.

The youngsters, Tommy Barnes and Don Holland, played key roles in the Seahawks victory over the strong Great Bridge eleven. Both are freshmen and they delighted Head Coach Fred Isaacs.

Barnes took over in the second period after the veteran George Sanderlin carried a partially blocked Great Bridge punt to the 33 yard line. In three plays Barnes had the ball over the goal line. Horns Flora missed the extra point and the Wildcats trailed 6 to 0.

The second touchdown came just before the half ended with Sanderlin taking a pitchout from Barnes and passing to Herre Ouellette in the end zone. Flora again missed the extra point try. In the third quarter with Barnes, Holland, Sanderlin and McIver carrying the ball, the Seahawks scored their final tally. Sanderlin carried over from the two yard line for the score.

The Seahawks play the strong Chown J. V. team in the Virginia Beach Memorial Stadium Friday night. Kickoff time is 9 p. m.

Lin Yang won't vote next Tuesday.... Will you?

When the sun appears, Lin Yang drags himself from his pallet — and until the night comes again, he drives himself at hard labor. For this he gets a handful of food, a few cheap garments for his body, and the chance to return to his bed for a brief escape from his grim existence.

He longs for more in life but expects nothing more.

Least of all does he expect the chance to cast a free vote in an honest election.

Ironically enough, here in the United States where men cast off their shackles almost 200 years ago — where men are free and can vote — millions of them don't vote. These are the millions who have the privilege, but fail to see or accept the responsibility. In the last presidential election, more than 36 million eligible voters failed to go to the polls.*

Next Tuesday, this nation will elect 435 U. S. Representatives, 32 U. S. Senators and many state and local officials. These are critical times. The world is in trouble, and every public office should be filled by the most competent, most sincere men and women who make themselves available. The task for next Tuesday is clearly defined: it is the individual's responsibility to inform himself about his candidates, make up his mind, and go to the polls and VOTE.

Lin Yang won't vote next Tuesday. Will YOU?

*In the 1952 presidential election, 61,551,978 votes were cast. The U. S. Bureau of Census estimates that there were 98,135,000 citizens eligible to vote at the time.

CARE OF TRACTOR TIRES GETS LONGER WEAR

Tractor tires that are properly mounted, inflated to the right pressure, and treated with reasonable care last longer and do better work while in use. Rough or careless use will greatly shorten the life of all farm tires.

Under-inflation of tires causes bruise breaks, buckling, punctures and uneven wear. If the air pressure is too low, the tire will be crushed against the rim, or the cords in the tire will be stretched by hitting sharp objects such as stumps or stones. Such bruises can result in breaks in the tire that can rub through or pinch the tire after a few hours of service. Excessive buckling causes the sidewall cords and rubber to break down, leading to early failure of the tire. The pull of the wheel and the side-wise force on the tire at the same time causes tire buckles when the tire is underinflated. Under-inflated tires are also more easily punctured.

Over-inflation causes impact breaks and fast tread wear. When air pressure is too high or if the tire is over-filled with water, a localized blow by a sharp rock or tree stump may break the cords. Impact breaks usually show up as a large "X" or a diagonal break that may extend from head to head. Excessive air pressure combined with too little wheel weighting will cause fast tread wear, and the forward edges of the tire will wear very quickly.

Over-inflation reduces traction, resulting in excessive slipping, which causes more rapid wear. Filling a tire full of water has the same effect as over-inflation. The tire should be filled ONLY THREE-FOURTHS FULL of water, then enough air added to inflate it properly. A good "rule of thumb" for measuring the correct amount is to turn the tire on the valve, open the top, open the valve, and let the water above this point run out.

BRIGHT FUTURE SEEN FOR SWEET POTATOES
Princess Anne vegetable growers who are unaffected by ailments of basic crops should seriously consider some small acreage increases in Prince Anne sweet potatoes for 1955 for sale out of storage in 1956.

This is the advice of Dr. J. L. Maxton, Extension Agricultural economist at VPI, who says 1955 presents a good opportunity for Virginia growers to get established in the sweet potato market for the years ahead.

"Growers to the south have given up much of their former sweet potato production and are working in the new industries which have come into the area. They are not expected to return to the growing of sweet potatoes until they lose their present work opportunity."

Virginia growers are harvesting this month a sweet potato crop estimated officially at 29,136,000 bushels. Cautioning the growers against unloading heavy supplies of sweet potatoes on the market at this time, Dr. Maxton said they could lose as much as $1.75 per bushel. Sweet potatoes of Porto Rico type U. S. grade No. 1, washed and waxed and marketed in May of 1955 are expected to bring an average of at least $3.00 per bushel. Heavy marketing of sweet potatoes this month may result in prices of about $1.25 per bushel.

"Consumers do not want to eat their annual supply of sweet potatoes in the single month of October. Those producers who have suitable storage should seriously consider the various alternatives they have in disposing of the crop. The risk of production has been taken and with low prices at harvest the risk of storage and later sale should be seriously considered," Maxton said.

INVEST 5 CENTS - SAVE $5 IN CORN DAMAGE
Five cents spent now can prevent $5 damage to Princess Anne corn crop this winter. Each rat in your barn will eat about $5 worth of stored grain.

Once a building has been fixed to keep out rats, the rodents are deprived of both food and shelter and move on to another farm. First, reduce the rat menace by picking up trash and stacking lumber 12 to 18 inches off the ground. Gas the burrows with calcium cyanide and keep up continuous poisoning with warfarin baits.

It is necessary to use rat-resistant materials, such as hardware cloth of 1-4 inch mesh and galvanized sheet metal on cribs to be protected.

Isolated cribs can be rat-proofed by lining the floor, if it is not made of concrete, with 3 feet up the sides with hardware cloth. Above this lining, place a continuous 12 to 18 inch band of sheet metal. If loaders or stacks of materials are left against the crib, the rats will climb above the rat-proofing. Cribs attached to another building must be completely enclosed in wire mesh.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM

PRINCESS ANNE HIGH SCHOOL

Luther Senter
Senior President

Luther Senter was elected president of the Senior Class of Princess Anne High School for the school year 1954-55. The vice-president is Larry Valentine. In the election for secretary, Robin Clair and Mary Clay Nichols tied. A re-vote was held and Robin Clair will serve as secretary for the class. Toni Vera was triumphant in the race for treasurer.

Senior privileges were discussed at the meeting. One of the first suggestions was to have a Senior lawn where Seniors can go to eat their lunches and to sit during study halls. A parking place for all the Senior cars and a smoking room were among the more prominent things desired. Canteen, individual lockers with first choice of them, first rows in auditorium with underclassmen rising at their entrance and exit, and a Senior door were also mentioned.

The class sponsors this year are Mrs. Mary Barnes, Mr. Robert Oliver, Mrs. Mary Page and Miss Jewell Whitlock. Mrs. Barnes will be the coordinating sponsor.

Junior Class
Elects Officers

Jimmy Loftin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Loftin, Jr., of Chesapeake Beach, and Terry Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Parker, also of Chesapeake Beach, were recently elected president and vice-president, respectively, of the Junior Class of the Princess Anne High School. The offices of secretary and treasurer will be filled from members of the Steering Committee.

The class objectives for the year will be to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom, to provide occasions for the members of the Junior Class to become better acquainted and to promote outstanding members of the class.

Because of the size of the class the business of the year will be conducted through a steering committee, composed of the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the Junior Class, plus the president and vice-president of each home room, together with the teacher sponsors of the class.

Miss Julia Sawyer, Mr. William

Annual Bazaar

Plans are well under way for the first annual bazaar of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church. The two-day festival will open on Thursday, November 4, with a luncheon being served from 11 a. m. until two o'clock. Mrs. Millard Godsey is chairman of the luncheon committee, and a choice of a hot or cold plate, including dessert, will be offered for a charge of one dollar.

Friday, November 5, is family night, and a turkey dinner will be served from 5 until 8 o'clock. Mrs. Ben Wroton is in charge of the dinner and the menu will include turkey with all the trimmings and home-made pie.

Tickets for the dinner are only $1.25 and children's plates will be served for 75 cents.

During the hours each day the meals are being served, booths will be open on the lower floor of the social hall, featuring a variety of Christmas articles. Hand-made children's toys, purses, crocheted hats, Christmas candles, Christmas ornaments, aprons and baked goods will be offered. There will be a special parade and post bar, dried arrangements, and a fish pond and grab bags for the children.

Mrs. George Snell, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, is general chairman of the event. The proceeds will go toward the building fund of the new sanctuary which was completed last spring.

Supervisors

me to the county. Supervisor Floyd T. Deary told the board that, according to reports, the City of Norfolk is to receive $3,000 plus a percentage of the profits in lieu of taxes. It should be investigated whether this is possible under the Port Authority Act under which the airport functions, he added.

The board also approved on final reading the master zoning plan for the county, and placed on "first reading" an ordinance to enlarge the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Mosquito Control District to take in the Little Neck area.

The supervisors named Deary and Supervisor E. I. Herrick to confer with members of the Virginia Beach Council on the proper proportion of the funds for the mosquito control to be borne by the county and city. R. E. Dorer, State Health Department engineer, explained that the budget for mosquito control had been cut for the present fiscal year, and that he was anxious to work out with the city and the county some means of restoring it to the needed amount.

The supervisors deferred action on four zoning problems until after the master zoning plan becomes effective in 30 days, two of which were:

A request for a business and industrial site at London Bridge, and rezoning the old Shrine Club property in North Virginia Beach for business.

Dr. William Y. Garrett, county health director, was granted funds for four additional members of his staff in the county: Two nurses, a sanitarian and a clerk. The county's share for the additional personnel will be $5,085, and the State's share, $9,226.

Richard B. Kellam, representing outdoor advertising interests, asked that the present ordinance requiring an annual permit and fee be rescinded, since the master zoning plan would supersede the ordinance and does not require annual renewals. The supervisors did not take action on the request, pending the outcome of a suit recently instigated in Richmond to test the validity of the county's ordinance.

Students from 11 states and 3 foreign countries are registered in the Montreat (N.C.) College student body.

Mrs. Carter Again
Heads PA County

Mrs. J. A. Hutchinson was chosen mission study chairman; Mrs. B. F. Dixon, stewardship chairman; Mrs. Roy Price, literature chairman, and Mrs. Geneva Price, community mission chairman.

Miss Virginia Wingo, principal of the Armstrong Memorial Training School in Rome, Italy, was the guest speaker. She made a stirring talk on her work as a missionary in Italy.

When the state was re-districted some years ago, Princess Anne County was moved from the Second Congressional District and placed in the First District, which Mr. Robeson represents.

Terry, of the Emory-Belle Haven club on the Eastern Shore. During the day, members of the cabinet and several state officers will make semi-annual reports.

On Light's Diamond Jubilee Artists Bring Edison's Favorite Living Room More Ease With Modern Ideas

The success of Thomas Alva Edison's work, as one of the world's greatest inventors is valued only by his devotion to his home and his family. Visitors to Glenmont, his country home in Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N. J., which is open to visitors as a memorial to this great man, are impressed with the warmth and love still reflected throughout the Edison home.

Of all the rooms in their many gabled house, Thomas and Mina Edison regarded the second floor living room as a private retreat, their place to be together. As one of their guests once recalled after several days' visit: "These last two mornings we have wandered through a house whose very walls echo a lot of living, where a gentle mother creates an atmosphere on which genius thrived."

"We found a library full of books on art, music and literature on the one side, which they said was mother's side, and on the other, which they said was father's, books on anthropology and biology and botany and chemistry . . . books on geography, history and sociology. Books on statistics and economics . . ."

Favorite Retreat

For those who haven't seen the Edison's favorite retreat, even a quick glance at the comfortable upstairs living room photograph accompanying this article immediately reveals its home-like, comfortable atmosphere of contented living.

Unlike many inventors, Edison lived to enjoy among other things the fruits of his invention — the first practical electric light. During his days at Glenmont he, too, enjoyed the comfort and convenience which his electric light gave to mankind.

Twenty-three years after his death as the world celebrates Light's Diamond Jubilee this October, residential lighting, which was always dear to Edison's heart is still progressing to bring new beauty, comfort and convenience in night-time living.

As an illustration of the additional comfort and beauty that lighting can bring into any home, application lighting specialists of General Electric's lamp division, which is a direct descendant of Edison's revolutionary invention, have indicated what new benefits today's lighting practice could bring into Edison's own sitting room.

Without disturbing the familiar arrangement of the furniture, artists have interpreted in the larger picture some of the new lighting methods now known as "light conditioning" which could be applied in Edison's own room if he were here to enjoy living with them.

Picture Window

The spacious "picture" window looking out over the sweeping lawns and valley below was one of Edison's favorite features in his sitting room.

Pleasant as it was in the daytime, today's modern lighting knowledge reveals the disadvantages of broad black expanses of featureless glass. Light conditioning, with decorative cornice concealing long lines of fluorescent light, could bring night-time sunshine to all windows in the room and provide soft background lighting for both relaxation or work.

New types of bulbs, developed since Edison's room was first furnished, allow more flexible lighting results. These new three-way high, low or medium bulbs give higher amounts of light for reading or low amounts for conversation. They have also helped bring about more practical designs in today's floor and table lamps.

Today, scientific light conditioning recipes, based on the positions of average persons' eyes when performing most common activities in the home, would suggest even greater lighting comforts for the Edison sitting room. The great man's desk could be more practically served with a generous size table lamp. Carefully placed according to acclimated reading or writing, this 100-300 watt lamp would assure light needed for close eye work. Nothing how far away from the desk the original floor lamp was placed.

The easy chair in the bookcase corner would not only require a larger lamp for better lighting, but also today's placement, which locates the stem of the lamp about at the rear corner of the chair—left or right, it doesn't really matter for comfortable reading as long as the right size lamp and bulb are used.

A pair of taller lamps for the sofa table, equipped with three-way 100-200-300 watt bulbs would provide comfortable reading locations for two people at the same time. This newer type of flexible light source makes it possible to have just the light that's needed for various activities. Today's lighting practice reveals the necessity for fitting our lighting to our activities and moods. Low amounts for conversation or relaxation, medium levels for casual seeing and the highest amount for prolonged concentration.

VITA Holds Meet In Roanoke

The Virginia Independent Telephone Association is holding its 20th annual meeting today and tomorrow at the Hotel Roanoke, Roanoke, Virginia. This year's convention is again being held jointly with the West Virginia Independent Telephone Association.

J. K. Funkhouser, general commercial manager, Harrisonburg Telephone Company, Harrisonburg, Va., is president of the association this year, and Dennis B. Draper of the Clifton Forge and Waynesboro Telephone Company, Staunton, is secretary-treasurer.

The Virginia association comprises 40 independent operating companies who furnish service to approximately 150,000 telephones in 215 Virginia exchanges. The territory served by the independent companies is approximately two-thirds of the total area of the state of Virginia.

The objects and aims of the association are to bring together in a firmer union all independent telephone companies in the state of Virginia for the purpose of resolving their mutual problems and by joint cooperation and planning continue the expansion, improvement and advancement of the independent telephone industry.

Two more floor lamps beside the easy chairs in the foreground of the picture would complete the modern light conditioning in Mr. Edison's favorite room.

Today's knowledge of how people prefer to live in their homes and the many seeing activities everyone must perform daily has dictated modern lighting practice.

Corn Support Price Set At $1.78 For PA County

The price support rate on Virginia's forthcoming corn crop will be $1.78 per bushel in the commercial area of which Prince Anne County is a part and at $1.34 per bushel in the balance of the state.

Nine eastern Virginia counties, Princess Anne, Accomack, Isle of Wight, Nansemond, Norfolk, Surry, Northampton, Southampton and Sussex, comprise the commercial area. In those counties the rate is 90 per cent of the September 15 corn parity price, and in the remainder of the state 75 per cent of the full rate. The corn support rates just announced are the same as the minimum support rates announced last March since the parity price for corn on October 1, the beginning of the marketing season, is unchanged from the minimum.

To be eligible for corn price support in the commercial producing area producers must be in compliance with corn acreage allotments. Ear or shelled corn to be eligible for support must be grade No. 3 or better, except that corn grading No. 4 only because of test weight is also eligible for support. The corn must be adequately stored. In addition corn to be eligible for price support must meet certain moisture eligibility requirements.

The commercial corn producing area of the nation includes all or part of 22 states, and embraces a total of 534 counties.

NEW LUTHERAN PASTOR TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN EAST BERLIN

CHURCH SEEN AS ONLY BULWARK AGAINST REDS

The following article was written by the Rev. John David Keister, who recently moved to Virginia Beach with his wife to establish a congregation for the United Lutheran Church of America. On July 19 of this year, the Rev. Mr. Keister returned from ten months abroad, having spent six months taking graduate courses at the Divinity School of the University of Edinburgh and four months touring countries of the Holy Land and Europe. Mr. Keister here relates some of the impressions gained in traveling and talking to church leaders in Germany. The minister and his wife are making their home in the Colonial Manor apartments on 24th Street.

By The Rev. John D. Keister

West Berlin is a lonely island in the Red ocean of communism. Here live 2,800,000 people in a precarious, tension-filled existence. Though rail and road travel is still open between Western Germany and West Berlin, a risk is always involved in traveling through Red-controlled territory. All food must be brought in by rail, road or air from West Germany. Air travel is heavy, about 120 planes a day.

Observers estimate West Berlin could be taken by the Russians in two hours. At the time of my visit, there were only military planes in the sector. The city is honeycombed with Red agents. Not too long ago one of the high police officials was found to be a spy. More than one thousand people have to be closely guarded because they are in danger from the communists.

But even so West Berlin is a haven of freedom and happiness compared with the East. The East is a land of fear and terror. In these latter areas, consumer goods are extremely scarce. Production is not comparable to the West. Germany output, for too many skilled workers have been arrested or fled to freedom. It is estimated by church officials that fifteen out of every hundred people know real hunger. Others have not seen butter for five or six weeks.

The people live under a pressure which is unseen but terribly real. Spies and secret police are everywhere. People still disappear in the night and are never seen again. They are tortured mentally and physically. For example, I was told by a reliable churchman of a man who was arrested one night seven years ago. His family knew nothing. For years, there was no word. Finally, the man's wife gave up all hope that her husband was still alive and remarried. But during those seven years, he was held prisoner within sight of his home—aware of everything that was happening. Here is a force that is not just callously cruel, but satanic.

Like the Nazi regime, the communists are concentrating their efforts on winning the youth. It is imperative to convert the older generation which has known the honor and decency and freedom of the outside world. But the children are more susceptible victims. They are the hope of communism. As early as five or six years of age, they are asked, sometimes intimidated, to join communist youth organizations. In school, they are subjected to a steady stream of Red propaganda and indoctrination. Religion is undermined and discredited. It is the opiate of the people. There is but one god: The State.

Children are also made to spy on their parents and write essays which will betray any anti-Red sympathies they have discovered. So a wedge is driven into the family, turning children against parents. Only the State must have the complete allegiance of the individual.

If children cooperate and become faithful enthusiastic young Reds, they can expect certain economic and educational advantages and enjoy the favor of the government. If they are recalcitrant and oppose their overlords, then they will be discriminated against and can look to a future of hardships and privation. It is not easy to resist this cunning and cruel pattern of conformity.

Perhaps the one thing that is most oppressive, is the relentless, hammering of Red propaganda. Except for the trickle of information from Voice of America and other like sources, the people know nothing but what the State wants them to know. They hardly know another world exists. It is small wonder that after days and months and years of hearing and reading the same lies and half-truths, they begin to ask themselves what really is right, what really is the truth.

Today the Church is the rallying center of people opposed to communism. In Her, the people find a refuge and strength and an ardent foe of the State. During a three-hour trip in East Berlin, I visited the church of Bishop Dibelius, imprisoned during the last war for preaching against the Nazis. It seemed fitting that in this church, engulfed in a communist world where men's minds are twisted and distorted in a black forest of lies and half-truths, the pulpit should be adorned with the figures of cherub angels with golden trumpets at their lips, symbolizing the unsilenced voice of the Gospel. The Church is alive and vitalized as never before, but She faces increasing difficulties.

After the June 17 uprisings of last year, the tension between Church and State lessened, but following the Four Power conference in Berlin, the trend was reversed. The tension has been increasing again. There is a great shortage of pastors, who are so poorly paid they can barely exist. Often their wives must work in factories or in the fields to earn enough for their keep. Many pastors have had no new suit since 1935. They have no means of transportation and often must take care of five or six villages. They look tired and worn out from overwork. Added to this is the burden of communist oppression. They never know when a communist is in the congregation taking notes on anything that might be said derogatory to the State. Libraries are often searched for anti-communist literature.

Beyond a doubt, there is great unrest in East Berlin and in the entire Eastern Zone of Germany. This was demonstrated in the June 17 uprising of last year. Though these outbreaks were unorganized and spontaneous, they reached fever peak and were by no means confined to East Berlin. According to information that has been pieced together from refugee reports and Soviet Zone press statements, there were work stoppages in about 150 cities. Demonstrations were held in about half that number. In over fifty, uprisings occurred. In nearly a score, attempts were made to free political prisoners. Though these uprisings were crushed with guns and tanks, such measures only fanned the hatred and resentment of the people.

GI Loans Still At High Level

GI loan activities continued at a high level during September, the Veterans Administration reports.

VA said appraisal requests for 89,493 proposed or existing homes and 57,175 GI home loan applications were received during the month.

The number of GI home loan applications received during September was a 3.9 per cent decrease from the August total of 59,490, but was still the eighth highest month in GI loan history.

Of the 89,493 homes for which VA received appraisal requests, 51,265 were proposed homes and 38,228 were existing homes. The total was a 7.4 per cent decrease from the August total of 96,621 but 153 per cent over September 1953.

VA said that although the September totals in appraisal and loan applications were off slightly as compared with August, they were up on a work-day basis. Two less work days were counted during the September reporting period.

A survey of VA-guaranteed loans closed during August, 1954, shows that 58.2 per cent were made without a down payment compared with 15 per cent of the loans closed last February.

The survey also disclosed that lenders are writing more loans with longer repayment periods. The number of loans being made for 25 years or more has increased from 55 per cent in February, 1954, to 66.7 per cent in August.

ACP Assistance Only To Those Complying With Crop Allotments

Assistance under the 1955 Agricultural Conservation Program will be limited to those farmers who comply with all crop acreage allotments according to Mr. W. F. Hunger, chairman of the Princess Anne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Mr. Hunger points out, for example, that although a farmer may harvest 15 acres of wheat on a farm for which an allotment of less than 15 acres was established without incurring a marketing quota penalty, he is, nevertheless, not eligible to receive cost-shares under the 1955 ACP. Furthermore, if a farmer harvests any crop in excess of his allotment, it will prevent his participation in the ACP in ALL farms in which he has an interest.

Wheat seedlings will undoubtedly be increased following recent rains in the county and Mr. Hunger wants every farmer to realize the effect of over-seeding.

He states that the 1955 ACP provides for taking care of and correcting practically any conservation problem on any farm; and so he urges each farmer in the county to fully inform himself of just what this 1955 ACP can accomplish on his farm before making his final decision to plant more acreage to a crop than the allotment established for the farm.

1955 Chevrolet Said To Be Most Spectacular Model Ever Produced

Pronounced mechanical advances plus new riding comfort and a complete re-styling of bodies give Chevrolet for 1955 its most spectacular model announcement.

No major part of the car has been overlooked in the broadscale improvement program. Driving ease and riding comfort benefit along with the creation of fresh automotive design. The accomplishment, says the company, has been possible only because of a thorough job of product re-engineering and the tremendous new plant facilities Chevrolet has added this year.

The 1955 models go on display at dealer showrooms nationally today. From an extraordinarily long list of new features the public will see at that time, these are particularly outstanding:

- 1—First automobiles in the low price field to reflect the "dream car" influence of the General Motors Motoramas. All roofs have been visibly lowered with a corresponding reduction in hood and belt lines to accentuate a longer, sleeker appearance. Overall, sedans have been lowered 2 1/2 inches, station wagons as much as six. At the same time, passenger room has been increased.
- 2—First V-8 engine offered on a Chevrolet in 35 years. Profiting by recent research in combustion and manufacturing techniques, the V-8 is unveiled as "far more precisely built and efficient in performance than others in its class." Named the "Turbo Fire V-8," the engine delivers 162 HP.

- 3—Higher horsepower ratings and new quietness and smoothness in two "Blue Flame" sizes. Engines are of the traditional valve-in-head design, which in the last few years has won virtually 100 per cent acceptance by other makes. A 23-horsepower engine is available with the manual gearshift. The six built exclusively for the Powerglide automatic transmission now develops 136 HP.

- 4—Integrated body and frame design. Chevrolet points out it has been able to obtain close unity with body and frame by engineering components to complement each other.

- 5—Front and rear suspension revamped. Added riding comfort and roadability, Chevrolet says, are assured by vastly improved suspensions.

- 6—Increased safety through greater visibility. Every car window of safety plate glass—front, rear and side—is larger in the 1955 models.

- 7—Overdrive optional. An overdrive installation will be offered for the first time.

- 8—More electrical power. A 12-volt electrical system will furnish ample reserve power for the ever-growing demands of accessories.

- 9—"Dry air" ventilation. This feature involves an arch-shaped plenum chamber that channels fresh air from a slotted cowl vent. Drainage from the chamber prevents any water from reaching

Veteran Glass Blower Re-creates Replica Of Edison's First Lamp

"Now, when I was just your age, Thomas Edison invented his first successful light," says Ben F. Rudolph, 83 year old veteran glass blower as he shows Steven Boss of Cleveland step by step demonstration of how the first lamps were made. Starting with a "stick" of tubular glass about the size of a cigarette, Mr. Rudolph by twirling the tube over a gas flame, eventually blows a replica of the first bulb.

Mr. Rudolph, retired after nearly 50 years of service with the lamp division of General Electric Company, appreciates the great new industry which Edison started with his first lamp. "That industry gave me steady work for many years, and now it gives me . . . security. I owe Edison and that lamp one whole of a lot," Rudolph muses. He lives at 1732 Collamer Road, East Cleveland, Ohio.

Steven Boss, who's proud to have the replica of Edison's first lamp which he's holding with his left hand, is mighty glad to live in 1954—the Age of Light. Otherwise, he might have to sacrifice a little baseball for Mr. Rudolph's weekly boyhood chore—cleaning and refilling the household kerosene lamps.

Young Steven Boss who lives in Cleveland Heights is one of nearly 3,000 Ohio students to witness this step-by-step re-creation of Edison's first lamp during Light's Diamond Jubilee, celebrated this month.

She wore long matching mitts ending in points over the hands. The bouffant over-skirt of lace, ending in a wide ruffling of nylon tulle, was caught in the back with a satin

Eastern Shore Chapel Scene Of Barton-Simmons Vows On Friday

The marriage of Miss Ann Leighton Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maclin Simmons, of Virginia Beach, to the Rev. Henry Causy Barton, Jr., of London Bridge, son of Mrs. Adelaide Norfleet Barton of Suffolk and Henry Causy Barton of Newport News, took place last Friday evening at eight o'clock in the Eastern Shore Chapel, London Bridge. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edmund Berkeley, rector of Galilee Episcopal Church and the Rev. Spencer Williams, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Uniontown, Pa., cousin of the bride.

The altar was arranged with white stock, white chrysanthemum and lighted candles. Mrs. Spencer R. Mathews, chapel organist, and Carrol Trant, violinist, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of ivory duchess satin, fashioned with a portrait neckline, with a lace bertha of princess lace embroidered with seed pearls. The full skirt formed a long train. Her fingertip veil of ivory French tulle was arranged from a cap of lace trimmed with seed pearls and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Hugh Stockell Meredith of Virginia Beach was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an empire gown of petal pink tulle with a full skirt of unpressed pleats. The fitted bodice was trimmed in shell pleating at the top with a short tuck-in jacket. She carried a cascade bouquet of deep red carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Emmett H. Rawles, Jr., of Suffolk, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Carol Field Putnam, of Falls Church, and Misses Sarah Baker Gray, Betty Wise East and Anne Hammond Smith, all of Norfolk. They wore gowns of petal pink tulle, made like that of the honor attendant and carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

Nathaniel N. Grace, of Suffolk, was best man for his cousin, and the groomsmen were Richard H. Lipscomb and Emmett H. Rawles, Jr., of Suffolk; Maclin Simmons, Jr., of Virginia Beach, brother of the bride, the Rev. Herbert N. Tucker, Jr., of Williamsburg, and the Rev. E. Dudley Calhoun, Jr., of Alhambra.

After the ceremony, a reception

Black, Midnight Blue And Bright Red Velvet Coats Top Sixteen Best Sellers in New York Fashion Salons

By SARA SKELMAS

New York stores report sixteen specific types of women's wear which are selling in strength. Velvet is being promoted strongly in black, with interest also in midnight blue and bright red. Slim silhouettes have the edge over full. The basic black crepe dress is back again, for immediate wear, with Empire lines a favorite. Wool jersey and an eased silhouette is popular, especially in beige and black, with some red. One of the newest fashions is the middy dress in taffeta cotton upholstery cloth for wear with blouse.

Jumpers for Collegians

The mainstay of college selling is the jumper. Gray flannel stars here, with tweed in second place. Another good college item is the dressy skirt in taffeta cotton upholstery cloth for wear with blouse.

George Aldridge Heads Frosh

George Aldridge, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Aldridge of 22nd Street, a student at the University of Richmond, was recently elected vice president of the freshman class at the university.

The Rev. and Mrs. Reginald Eastman have returned to Gloucester after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Bristow Hardin at their home on 35th Street.

In the mix-and-match department, straight bony jackets and matching slim skirts are leaders, in flannel and tweed in camel and gray. Bermuda skirts are running wild in tweed or flannel, some with button-front underpants attached. Bermuda shorts are still favorites, too, again in gray flannel with plaids a close runner-up. And last but not least, classic cashmere sweaters, alone or in sets.

Birth Announcements

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Crenshaw Reed, Jr., announce the birth of a second child, a son, Augustus Crenshaw Reed, III, Thursday, October 21, at the Norfolk General Hospital.

Mrs. Reed is the former Miss Susan Boyd Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walker Roberts.

10—Tubeless tires for increased safety. The casing remains the same, but instead of an inner tube, interior surfaces are coated with a butyl "skin" for sealing.

11—Smotherer power application. The torque tube drive is replaced by a hotchkiss drive to deliver power more smoothly to the rear wheels and to provide a "flatter" ride in combination with the longer springs.

12—Easier steering. From power steering, an improved version of which is available on 1955 cars, Chevrolet has adopted the recirculating ball-nut gear and combined it with a relay type of linkage that increases smoothness and reduces driver effort.

Miss Fentress Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. William Floyd Fentress of Princess Anne, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Vanessa Fentress, to Guy Blaisdell Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Rhodes. The wedding will take place on November 28.

sprays of pale pink gladioli. Frank Vernon Atkinson, Jr., brother of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Robert Barber, Lowndesburg, of Perryburg, was best man for his brother, and the groomsmen were John Thornton Atkinson, of Virginia Beach, brother of the bride, Ralph Smith of Norfolk, Harold Munger, Robert Coon and Henry Law, all of Perryburg.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the Sir Walter Hotel. Later Mr. and Mrs. Lowndesburg left for a wedding trip to Canada, and upon their return will make their home in Toledo, Ohio. For traveling the bride wore a pink faille cocktail suit, black poodle cloth coat and pink accessories.

the District of Columbia. Mr. Moore takes pride in being "Norfolk's oldest custom-made furniture and upholstery shop" and is even more proud of the growth that has taken place in the expanding of the firm's operations in so many phases of his business.

The beginning of the business was all that the name implied, upholstery, and with an aim to as closely as possible — make furniture that could be made over to look like new. The firm's continued growth speaks for the quality of work produced — invariably first class workmanship, together with proper materials and the right price.

As the firm expanded more and more types of work and craftsmanship were added. The company's experienced men are very adept in making exact reproductions. A specialty is living room furniture made to order. Models are on display in the plant and a wide variety of samples of the most popular and latest designs in fabrics are available for inspection. Whether for your present home's living room or the one you are building, "Moore" will show you how to make your living room attractive with furniture that will give you lasting satisfaction.

The company's repair department is equipped to make repairs on all types of furniture. A refinishing job on your furniture will put it back in such condition that it will have all the appearance as when originally purchased. Sofas, chair seats, cushions, etc., can be rebuilt to look like new and last as long. Whatever your needs you can be sure of receiving expert and experienced advice in the selection of materials, colors and color combinations.

You are invited to pay a visit to the Moore Upholstery Company plant located on Virginia Beach Boulevard just west of the Military Highway overpass. Here you may see for yourself jobs in the process of being made to order, re-designed and repaired. You will be convinced that here is a plant with modern equipment and properly staffed with experienced craftsmen who are thoroughly capable in their work.

If you would like an inspection made of your furnishings in your home, hotel or business office, just call 4-8671 and one of their representatives will call on you with samples of fabrics, furnish you with the necessary information and estimated costs. It may surprise you to find out that you may have the benefit of Moore's quality furniture, their upholstery or repair jobs at the prices they are in a position to make you. ## "First With The Finest," Motto Of Norfolk Stationery Company

GLOBE-WERNICKE DESKS NOW BEING FEATURED

In the field of office appliances and equipment the Norfolk Stationery Company has always kept abreast of the times in making available for their customers the latest and best products the market offers. Organized in 1901, the company has grown steadily and numbers most of Tidewater's leading firms among its customers.

Currently being featured is the Globe-Wernicke Company's new "Streamliner" metal desk. The company claims that its new construction and user advantages make this famous "Streamliner" the most advanced metal desk in America. Among the many advantages are the top — reinforced with four box channels, and made reversible — desk arm slide operates on channel suspension — rigid pedestal frame with wrap-around pedestal construction — pedestals are interchangeable — adjustable height (29 to 30 1/2 inches) — sound insulated — choice of molded or square-edged top with eight metal fasteners that lock the top securely to the pedestal — automatic locking device — nylon gliders that insure easy and noiseless operation of drawers — and progressive sliders for the file drawer. Truly a desk to be proud of.

Easiest and quietest operation is yours, says the firm, with the "Streamliner." Sound insulating material is applied to inside surfaces to assure perfect quietness. Nylon glides mean effortless and silent drawer operation. The new "Streamliner" is the easiest operating desk for you.

The parts of the "Streamliner" are 100 per cent interchangeable. Because of the new type locking device and the improved method of attaching the back panels, there are no left or right pedestals. Thus, pedestals may be freely interchanged on the same desk or with pedestals on others in the "Streamliner" series.

The new Globe-Wernicke arc swing mechanism is exclusive and unequalled.

The arc swing mechanism is found only on Globe-Wernicke "Streamliner" typewriter desks. Now, with no tugging or yanking secretaries may, from a sitting position, easily raise and lower the typewriter platform.

To bring the typewriter platform into typing position, pull it gently forward from the pedestal. The mechanism raises the platform upward into position in an arc swing. The platform is automatically locked rigidly in typing position. To lower the platform simply press on the center of the release bar located on the top of the platform. This releases the latches and permits the platform to be lowered in an arc swing. It can then be pushed back into the pedestal.

Fingertip control of important information is provided at all times by the visible record arm slide. This exclusive accessory combines Globe-Wernicke's efficient, time-saving, and proved visible record system with a sturdy arm slide. When instant information is needed, simply release the slide's knob latch and pull out the visible card reference tray. A concealed locking device assures privacy of records.

This visible record arm slide quickly pays for itself. It is easily installed as extra equipment on any "Streamliner" desk... it is ideal for personnel, credit, insurance, production, sales, or any use where records must frequently be referred to for split-second decisions. Visible record tray holds fifty 5" x 8" cards with both sides available for use.

You can be SURE that our craftsmen will lay your linoleum right!

Today's smartest homes, shops and offices achieve distinction with custom-laid linoleum floors. Every design cut, matched and laid — to order!

SEASONAL WARDROBE —

Mollie Parnis, Mammie Doud Eisenhower's favorite designer, is of the opinion that the smart woman of today no more needs separate winter and summer wardrobes than she needs a separate winter and summer face. She feels that seasons of the year no longer importantly affect a woman's wardrobe. The modern art of dressing is blended to the modern art of living, in other words. This, much more than the calendar, motivates the American woman, and certainly motivates Mollie's designing.

THE SHAPE —

A most persuasive Parnis idea of the new way to look in the unregimented way of life is called simply The Shape. It is a thoughtful-going commitment to every curve a woman possesses. Lithe, lean and unbelated through the middle and rising to a high well-outlined bosom, The Shape gently firms the hipsline via cunningly arched gored, then widens into easy fullness at the hem. It is, in short, a full skirt that falls "narrow." Then there is the Dress Form Bodice, a strenuous variation of The Shape, which takes its name from the dressmaker's dummy, and is soared to be skin-tight from shoulder to hipsline, where it attaches to a fanciful, flirtatious skirt of pleats or ruffled flounce. This is the successor of Mollie Parnis' Dancing Girl skirt, which was a highlight of her collection last Spring. This designer seems to advocate a new double standard in the silhouette — if it clings above the waist, it stands away from the figure below, and vice versa.

MOLLIE'S HANDWORK —

Designer Parnis reflects the great attention paid to the beautiful elegant and handworked detail of the sort seldom seen today. Mollie calls them "time and patience touches," and they are such ideas as hand-smocking, miniature cartridge tucks, satin and velvet pipings, and minute beading designs with sometimes the third layer of decoration superimposed on lace over taffeta. Provocative necklines being a Parnis forte, it is no wonder that the newest of this collection is marked "censored." Its startling plunge almost to the waist is crossed underneath with a contrasting "modesty" band, often with a glittering buckle or pin.

TWEEL to TWEED

"Twil" or "tweel" cloth was referred to one day by an erring clerk in the establishment of Mr. James Locke of Regent Street, London, as "tweed." This was back in the 1830's and it has been "tweed" ever since.

FLAPPER FASHIONS SHOW BY KANSAS CITY MUSEUM

The American flapper of the roaring twenties had her day in the Kansas City Museum. From September 12 to September 20, the costume wing of the museum presented a fashion parade of its collection of clothes of the flapper era, along with a demonstration of the dance steps popular during that period.

The first commercial application of wood preservative in this country was in 1848 when a dipping plant was built at Lowell, Mass.

Lace For Men Forseen For 2000

Men will be wearing lace on their trouser cuffs by the year 2000, according to the International Federation of Master Tailors. Meeting in Rome, the organization also predicted that trousers will be tapered and will cling to the leg to show the calf and thigh, and shoulder lines will puff gently to better show off the masculine chest.

The French delegation showed off their concept of the suit of the future — a close-fitting garment with open pleats, a broad cape collar of black velvet, and trousers with an open 5-inch seam at the bottom.

Male Of Species Flaunting Color; Gay Shades Of Blue, Green, Brown

Man is probably the only male member of the animal kingdom less resplendent than the female. But that phenomenon is changing fast.

The news today is that on both sides of the Atlantic men are beginning to sport brighter plumage. A recent dispatch from London says that gay variations of blue, green and brown are the chosen colors for 1955 suits and sportswear.

Listed are sixteen shades, including such exotic names as Atlantic Green, Outlaw Green and Deep River Green; Polar Blue, with a greenish cast, Rocket Blue and Grape Blue.

British tropical worsteds have been subjected to the smoky influence, producing such shades as Singapore Green and Malacca Green; Monte Bello Gray, and Trinidad Beige, with a pinkish cast. Harmonious shades to blend with these accessories are Mail Red, Vivid Green, Gold Cup and Lapis Lazuli.

In the United States the crimson blazer has made a definite splash, and is being featured in many 5th Avenue windows. Fourteen high fashion colors for spring sportswear have been chosen for special promotion on this side of the Atlantic. These include such mouth-watering titles as Sicilian Orange, Venetian Blue, Champagne Pink and Anisette White.

All this denotes a trend, and a decided one at that. Men used to preen in gaily colored silks, satins and velvets, and prided themselves on having a nice taste for lace frills. Could it be that the bright old days are coming back again, and our men folk are as ardently working to that end?

And did the movement start in England? The brilliant shades of the 1955 British imports seem to indicate this, since British tailoring and British woollens have traditionally set the pace in men's fashions.

Hospital Asks For Old Stamps

Patrick Henry Hospital at Warwick, Va., is making an interesting and unusual appeal for help in which everyone can cooperate.

To aid the hospital in the purchase of supplies such as sheets, towels, etc., corporations, clubs, scouts and individuals are asked simply to save or collect stamps. These stamps will be packaged and sold to dealers and collectors both here and abroad.

Hospital authorities are seeking commemorative three-cent or any stamps of higher value. Cut around the stamps and leave a small margin of paper. Packages of stamps should be mailed to Mrs. Chandler Bates at Seiden, Virginia.

Fresh grapes certainly attract both the eye and the appetite. The color, shape and varieties are many, and here is a list giving you some of them.

Delaware — light red, small, juicy, good — August to September.

Emperor — reddish purple, big, elongated shape — November to May.

Tokay — red, very firm, very good — August to January.

Thompson Seedless — greenish white, medium, sweet when ripe — June to November.

White Malaga — whitest green to yellow when ripe, processed in our country. The harvest this year is expected to be one-third larger than a year ago.

There is some argument as to whether the grapes grown in California are the most delicious. California grapes belong to the type — which originated in Europe — called "vinifera." Eastern grapes thrive in the Northwest, too, and are pure seedlings of a wild species native to America or a result of crossing a native grape with a European grape.

California grapes are easily separated from their seeds — Eastern grapes are not. Eastern grape skins come off easily — while the California grapes do not, and as I mentioned there is some argument as to which are the best. The California grape travels well and often travels 3,000 miles from vine to table.

The Emperor grape probably stores better than others and has become the leading California table grape. When I was a little girl I well remember, only Malaga (white) grapes at Christmas time. Now, the Tokay, Red Malaga and Emperor are available for that very special time.

The early maturing of Thompson Seedless grapes has replaced to a great extent the larger, seeded white Malaga. New grapes developed in California since World War II are the dark red Cardinal and the seedless Perlette, both mature even before the Thompson Seedless.

The Concord grape, the most widely grown grape in the United States, is used for jelly and juice and of course sold and eaten fresh.

The Scuppernon grape is a cultivated fox grape of the Southern United States. It is said the "mother" vine is located on Roanoke Island, at Manteo, North Carolina. These grapes make delicious wine.

Frosted grapes make a beautiful garnish for fruit salads and for fruit arrangements for center pieces. They are easy to fix — would you like to know how it is done?

Frosted Grapes
Wash and dry bunches of grapes — they can be dried by turning several times on an absorbent tea towel. Beat 3 egg whites, until frothy, gently dip grapes in egg white and then sprinkle generously with granulated sugar and place on waxed paper to dry.

Mrs. F. G. Trummer, president of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, has the joy of organizing the first and original "Welfare Bank" east of the Mississippi, while her sister, out in California, has had the same privilege in organizing the first one west of the big river. Louise is so proud that the schools and churches have worked so closely with the Junior Woman's Club on the idea. She's more pleased now that she's heard how one rather large family has been rehabilitated through this fine aid, even to the happy father getting employment.

While attending the anniversary luncheon of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, it was nice to see that the five former "Juniors" had graduated right over into the "Seniors" club. They are: Mrs. John Tucker, Mrs. Rosemary Lamb, Mrs. Frances McLean, Mrs. Bill Williams and Mrs. T. Cornell Berry, the immediate past-president of the Junior Woman's Club.
